ISLAND BLAST RESULTS IN 1379 HURT, 621 DEAD

Thirty-Eight Tons of Powder Ignited; Damage Will Reach $2,000,000

RIO DE JANEIRO, Feb. 28.—Six hundred and twenty-one persons were dead, 1379 wounded, nine women had gone insane and damages totaling $2,000,000 had been inflicted this afternoon as the result of the explosion of thirty-eight tons of dynamite and 186,500 litres of gasoline on Cajus isle, three miles from Rio De Janeiro.

Rio De Janeiro's hospitals were overflowing with the injured. Eighty-three houses here had toppled over from the force of the blasts and more were threatening to fall.

The blasts resulted from the burning of two lighters containing 8000 cases of gasoline which caught fire yesterday afternoon. The blazing fluid spread over the harbor and reached toward Cajus island where dynamite, powder and stocks of oil were stored.

LONG SESSION OF ASSEMBLY LOOMS

Past Week Is Occupied With Probe On Alleged Extortion Charge

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 28.—Prospects of a brief legislative session which were apparently good when the forty-sixth Legislature reconvened the forepart of the week, have gradually dwindled as the Chinese herb bill investigated daily broadened in scope and leaders in both houses were agreed today that the probe may prolong the session several weeks.

Forecasts of a seven weeks session were generally made a week ago, today gave way to speculation as to whether the law making bodies could conclude their work in nine weeks.

Investigate Charges

The first week of the second session has been given over almost entirely to investigation of the charges of extortion lodged against Senator Hurley, Assemblyman Smith and Assemblyman William Brackett of Alameda county by Oakland Chinese and indications today were that the probe would occupy all of next week.

No consideration has yet been given to legislative reapportionment, the Deuel bill, the highway financing program, the state budget and other important issues, which are expected to stir up warm fights and occupy much time of the legislators.

Two years ago the Legislature was in session 101 days, breaking all previous records.

U. S. Seaman Drowns On Way From Canal

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Seaman Arthur L. Conner of the U. S. S. Simpson was lost overboard while en route from the canal zone to San Diego, according to advices received by the navy department today. Conner's nearest surviving relative is his mother, Mrs. Texie Heatz, 143 North 103rd street, Los Angeles.

Bandits Get All Ready Cash In Bank Holdup

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 28.—The State Bank of Barnhart, Mo., thirty miles south of here, was held up by two bandits this morning. The bandits were reported to have obtained practically all of the bank's cash. They were pursued toward this city by a hastily organized posse.

EVANS FOR CONGRESS CLUB IS FORMED BY GLENDALE CITIZENS

C. D. Lusby Selected for President of Organization to Further Candidacy Of Local Man Through District

Enthusiastic citizens of Glendale and vicinity, making up a gathering that almost completely filled the council chambers at the city hall last night, heartily endorsed the proposed candidacy of W. E. Evans of Glendale for the Republican nomination as congressman from the ninth district, and formed an "Evans-for-Congress Club." The gathering was the most representative Republican one ever held in Glendale, party leaders declared.

C. D. Lusby was chosen president of the club; Mrs. Ella Richardson, first vice president; F. H. Vesper, second vice president; J. C. Sherer, secretary; D. H. Smith, treasurer; H. M. Butts, chairman of the executive committee.

Talks were made by a number of those attending, plenty of enthusiasm was displayed for Glendale's choice for the Republican congressional nomination; speakers pointed out that the San Fernando valley is justly entitled to name the next congressman and that the candidate must be Mr. Evans; later in the meeting Mr. Evans appeared, was cheered and his remarks listened to with great interest; and, finally, it was determined to inform the entire ninth congressional district that this end of the district considers it is entitled to have W. E. Evans for the Republican nominee.

Incidentally, during his remarks, Mr. Evans declared that in permitting his name to go before the Republican conference he wished it to be understood that if the conference decided to select some other candidate for the Republican nomination he would give that candidate his unqualified support. This brought cheers from the loyal Republicans attending.

Leaders Praise Evans

After men, revered as the backbone of Republicanism in this section, had lauded in glowing terms the outstanding qualities of Mr. Evans and expressed their belief that he is the logical man to represent the ninth district in Congress, "a man who should be in Congress," Mr. Evans himself stepped to the front of the hall and in the din of sincere applause and cheers commenced his reply.

"Ladies and gentlemen," he said, "my neighbors: As I scanned the list of names attached to the call for this meeting, I saw there many of those whom I knew when I first came to Glendale fifteen years ago. The city councilmen who gave me my first job, that of city attorney at $50 per month, had their names on the list, others who had known me most intimately were there.

206 Building Permits for Month, Report

There were 206 building permits issued during February, amounting to $613,280, it was reported at noon today by H. C. Vandewater, building superintendent, when the office closed for the month. This brings the total for the year to $1,269,095. There were 227 permits issued during January, for a total of 652,795, the records show.

RADICALS ARE STRIPPED OF ALL POWER

La Follette And Followers Herded Into Fourth Harmless Party

By W. K. HUTCHINSON
For International News Service.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—After wielding the balance of power in both branches of Congress for the past two years, the La Follette insurgents stood forth today shorn of their Republican affiliations, stripped of their party positions and herded by administration leaders into the classification of a new fourth party.

This was the outstanding result of the Republican caucuses last night, which saw Representative Nicholas Longworth of Ohio elevated to the speakership of the Sixty-ninth Congress and Representative John Q. Tilson of Connecticut nominated to the position of floor leader.

Shorn of Power

Senate and House leaders acted simultaneously in disciplining the insurgents. The specific action taken against the four Senate insurgents—Senators La Follette of Wisconsin, Ladd and Frazier of North Dakota and Brookhart of Iowa—was to deprive them of all committee assignments as Republicans for the next Congress, and to assign them as independents This action will rank them lower than the standing given Senator Shipstead of Minneapolis, the "third party" farmer-laborite.

It will also deprive Senator La Follette of the chairmanship of the Senate Interstate Commerce committee which he would otherwise receive under the seniority rule.

Followers Included

Senator Ladd also will lose his present chairmanship of the Senate public land committee, while all four will be denied voice in any republican council and any participation of Republican patronage.

Republican House leaders have ordered similar punishment for the thirteen representatives who followed La Follette. The first step was to bar them from the speakership caucus and the remainder of the punishment will be carried out when the House committee assignments are made.

American Buyers Get Matthews' 'Death Ray'

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 28.—Harry R. Murphy and T. M. Argenbright were arrested here today in connection with the robbing of the People's Bank of North Kansas City, Mo., in November, 1924. Argenbright was held also for a bank robbery at Liberty, Mo.

GERMAN HEAD SUCCUMBS IN DEATH

Lower U.S. Flag

BERLIN, Feb. 28.—The American embassy was one of the first buildings to half-mast its flags for President Ebert's death. The German official buildings followed suit. The cabinet convened today to discuss what steps should be taken.

MESSAGE FROM BRITAIN

LONDON, Feb. 28.—Great Britain today dispatched official condolences to Germany on the death of President Ebert. A message of sympathy was sent by the foreign office.

REGRET AT WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—News of the death of Germany's first president, Friederich Ebert, was received with genuine regret in governmental circles today. Officials attribute to Ebert much of the progress that has been made in the last few years toward Germany's stabilization.

By S. D. WEYER
For International News Service.

The end came at 1:15 a. m. today after a four-day struggle with peritonitis following an operation for appendicitis made necessary suddenly Thursday.

The president rallied after the operation but following a restless night Wednesday his physicians announced that localized gangergrene had set in, causing peritonitis.

A slight puncturing operation was performed yesterday morning but paralysis of the intestines followed, making the surgeon's fight hopeless.

He died seventeen days after the sixth anniversary of his election to the presidency. His term of office was to have expired next June 30.

AIR SQUADRON OFF ON WEATHER TEST

BULLETIN

MACON, Ga., Feb. 28.—The United States army fleet from Selfridge field, Mich., arrived at the municipal landing field here at 4:15 this afternoon. All the planes made a safe landing. There were ten planes in the flight. Two did not make the trip on account of the motor trouble at Dayton, Ohio.

DAYTON, Ohio, Feb. 28.—After a one-day flight from Selfridge field to Miami had been called off, repairs were made to the flagship, piloted by Major Lanphier, another ship arrived from Selfridge field for Lieutenant Whitehead and the twelve ships of the twelfth pursuit squadron got away from Wilbur Wright field promptly at 10 o'clock.

Major Lanphier consulted the weather bureau and found climatic conditions were ideal for flying and revoked his previous order calling off the flight.

The chief purpose of the flight is to test the ability of the planes in cold of the north an the sunshine of the south. Maneuvers will be executed in Florida for several days. Upon the success of their flight today depends the granting of permission for a dawn-to-dusk flight from Selfridge field to the Pacific coast.

Next Friday the twelve flyers now soaring to Florida will swoop down on Langley filed, Virginia, to try and prove that anti-aircraft guns cannot repel an enemy attack from the air.

FAST SERVICE IS ASSURED GLENDALE

Mr. Stone was authorized by the Glendale City Council to take up with the Pacific Electric Co. the matter of schedule revision, which has been successfully consummated in the announcement of this schedule.

Patrolman Shot Dead Investigating Noise

PETALUMA, Cal., Feb. 28.—Patrolman Bert Johnson of the Petaluma police force accidentally shot and killed himself here early today while crawling through a garage with a flashlight in one hand and a loaded pistol in the other, according to the police. Johnson and Patrolman Milton Miller early this morning were investigating a noise they heard in the garage, Johnson going inside the building while Miller remained outside.

A few moments later Miller heard a shot and on entering the garage found Johnson dead between two motor trucks. He had been shot through the head. After calling assistance and investigating possibilities of Johnson's having been killed by some one in the garage the police decided the shooting was accidental.

Register NOW!

The Glendale Evening News urges that voters register NOW for the municipal election. Do not postpone registering, for that will mean that the deputies will be swamped at the closing hours and will be required to remain on duty half the night. Register NOW, while the deputies are not crowded with work. Deputies are on duty at The Glendale Evening News from 8 a. m. until 9 p. m.

Business Survey

ON ACCOUNT OF A DELAY in turning in the coupons by business and professional men, giving their firm name, location and when they started in business, we find that the summary in today's issue has many omissions of important business firms.

As it is very essential that this summary be 100 per cent correct, additional time will be necessary to get the list corrected. Therefore, the summary in today's issue will serve only as a sample of the plan and the list will be entirely corrected and published in full next week.

SPANISH KING TO SEE CALIFORNIA

Ruler Will Pay State Visit During His Tour, Says Ambassador Moore

By FRED J. WALKER
For International News Service.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—King Alfonso of Spain has decided to personally visit California during the forthcoming trip to South America, it was exclusively revealed today by Alexander Moore, American ambassador to Spain.

So intrigued is the Spanish monarch with reports of the wonders of California by the Duke of Alba, that plans for the trip, which will take him through San Francisco, Monterey and Los Angeles, possibly this year, are now being arranged.

Since the Duke of Alba returned from his extended tour of California, the interest of Alfonso in the former stronghold of Spanish power in America, has been keyed to a high pitch.

"King Alfonso is continually talking about that state. His interest in California is particularly evident when Californians visit Spain. If anything, they seem to be treated as though they were emissaries of new Spain," Moore said.

Alfonso's South American trip has been planned for many years. He will visit Brazil, Argentine and other important countries, and then plans to stop off at New York for several days, after which he will cross the continent.

Coolidge Agrees Dawes Debt Plan Be Widened

LONDON, Feb. 28.—Dispatches from Washington to the effect that President Coolidge and Secretary of State Designate Frank B. Kellogg, formerly United States ambassador to Great Britain, agree that the Dawes plan should be extended to other international problems, including debts, aroused widespread interest today. It was stated informally that if the United States applied the Dawes plan to debts of other allies, Great Britain would expect an adjustment of her debt to conform.

GAS PRICE PROBE IS RECOMMENDED

Federal Trade Body Charges Standard Oil 'Leader' In Raise Move

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—A national investigation of operations of the group of Standard Oil companies, against which the government obtained an anti-trust decree several years ago, was recommended to the department of justice by the Federal Trade commission, according to a copy of the report filed today with the Senate. The report showed the commission urged the investigation after a study of oil operations and gasoline prices in 1923 and 1924. It charged the Standard Oil Co. of Indiana with being the "leader" in all price movements and that independent companies followed its leadership.

Inaugural Weather To Be 'Fair, Rather Cool'

CHIEF OF NAVY REPLIES TO CRITICS OF SERVICE

Denies Officers Muzzled In Giving Testimony To Congress Committees

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—The tables turned again today in Congress' probe of aircraft conditions.

Criticizing the critics, Secretary of War Weeks appeared before the committee today and took sharp issue with Brigadier-General William Mitchell, assistant chief of air service, who has repeatedly told the country that the nation is practically defenseless in the air.

Weeks denied that the military airplane situation was as deplorable as it had been painted, but admitted that the United States had an insufficient number of fighting airplanes and needed 300 additional officers.

He said the army possessed 205 first class fighting planes, although General Mitchell had declared the air service only had nineteen such ships.

Weeks flatly denied charges that the air service officers were muzzled in giving testimony before congressional committees.

"The statement that any army officer is muzzled is untrue," said Weeks. "There is no basis for the charge.

"In this connection I want to speak about General Mitchell's case. After the first bombing tests, Mitchell made a good many statements which the navy department resented. The secretary of the navy repeatedly called on me and said many of Mitchell's statements were untrue. To avoid disturbance, I directed Mitchell to submit to the department all of his articles. He did this for two years.

Claims Violation

"Last fall, however, he wrote two articles for magazines. These reflected upon the navy. Mitchell went to the president and asked if he could print the articles. The president said he would have no objection if he submitted them to his superior officers for approval. The president wrote Mitchell to that effect.

"Mitchell went ahead and printed the articles without submitting them to the department not only violating my instructions but those of the president as well."

"Did you say there was no muzzling in the army," asked Representative O'Sullivan, Democrat, Connecticut.

"Yes," replied Weeks.

"Why, then, did Mitchell have to submit the articles to you?"

"It was not done to muzzle Mitchell. I didn't want to disturb a sister service."

"Didn't that constitute muzzling?"

"Not at all."

Weeks also denied that last fall he threatened "to order Mitchell away or resign."

"In connection with Mitchell's report on Pacific conditions,

FILIBUSTER IS LAUNCHED IN SENATE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—A filibuster was launched in the Senate this afternoon by Senator Gooding, Republican, of Iowa, to force administration leaders into supporting his "long and short haul" freight rate bill. Gooding gained the floor before noon and held it continuously for more than three hours, urging passage of his bill. His speech included "side lights" on the agriculture situation, the development of the west, the coalition of the railroads. Twice he permitted short interruptions in which Senators Pittman, Democrat, Nevada, and Frazier, Republican, of North Dakota supported his measure.

MANY VOTES SENT IN AS INTEREST GROWS

List of Possible Candidates Increases With Time for Circulating Civic Petitions Only Few Days Off

More votes are being received day by day from Glendale citizens for possible candidates, as suggested by the residents of this city through The Glendale Evening News, and a strong ticket looms when the municipal election is held April 14 for the selection of five councilmen.

Candidates who intend to make the race are again advised that they must secure petitions from the city clerk's office on March 5 or later, have them signed by the required number of voters, and file them with the proper county officials before March 25, to enable them to get their name on the municipal ballot for the April election.

The name of A. L. Baird, 1729 Grand View, is added to the list of possible candidates, who have received twenty-five or more votes. Mr. Baird was president of the Glendale Kiwanis club last year, has served as president of the Community Service, and has taken an active interest in civic matters.

Blank Appears Daily

Each day there appears in this newspaper a blank form on which Glendale residents are invited to write the names of citizens who they believe are fitted for service on the City Council. Five candidates are to be elected next April.

When any person nominated receives fifty or more nominations, his or her picture and a brief biography will be published in The Glendale Evening News.

Five nominations is the limit any one person is permitted to make. Names of all persons nominated will be published when twenty-five or more votes have been received by any candidate.

The nomination blank appears on page two of today's Glendale Evening News. Make use of it at once and mail it to Nomination Editor, 139 South Brand, Glendale, California.

SEPARATE BUDGET ITEMS ARE URGED

Salaries, Institution Funds Would Be Segregated, Herb Probe Set

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 28.—Attorney general's office today is handing down written opinion for Chairman Robert McPherson's Assembly ways and means committee causing the California legislature to adopt a budget bill in which items of salaries and support for institutions and departments must be listed separately.

Funds totaling $7,772,324 are being segregated by Assemblyman McPherson in an effort to have the revised budget bill ready for the committee Monday, after which early passage is predicted. State Controller Ray L. Riley was sustained in his effort to have the appropriations in accord with constitutional provisions, it is indicated by the decision.

It was learned today that Assemblyman Sidney Graves, chairman of the assembly committee which will begin investigation Monday afternoon of the herb- scandal, has summoned the following witnesses:

Witnesses Called

T. Wah Hing, Ong Yuen, Fong Wan and Y. L. Chang, Oakland Chinese herb dealers, whose opposition to regulations enmeshed legislative officials in a $10,000 extortion charge; Attorney J. E. Hood, former law associate of Assemblyman Edward J. Smith, author of the bill; William Brackett, former assemblyman and Oakland city employe; Arthur Ohnimus, clerk, and Charles Wilkinson, sergeant-at-arms of the assembly; Florence Murphy, daughter of Assemblyman J. J. Murphy, and Dolores Burrell, two stenographers on roll of assembly attaches, alleged to have been obtained during the legislative recess by Wilkinson to work in offices of Chinese Protective association in mailing literature to legislators unfavorable to the bill.

Senator Hurley will appear before the committee of his own accord.

Senator Taylor has introduced a concurrent resolution creating a legislative tax committee of 1925, for which an appropriation of $8000 to make an investigation and report of systems of revenue and taxation will be asked.

DANGEROUS WOMEN

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—Years ago the dangerous men of the west started to carry their weapons in an arm holster. Today the dangerous women carry some of their weapons in an underarm bag. The newest holsters for rouge, powder and lipstick are of jacquard silk, mounted on 14-carat gold clips. Tapestry and morocco leather are also popular materials.

The man who advertises "popular" prices may know the public, but he has very little understanding of adjectives.

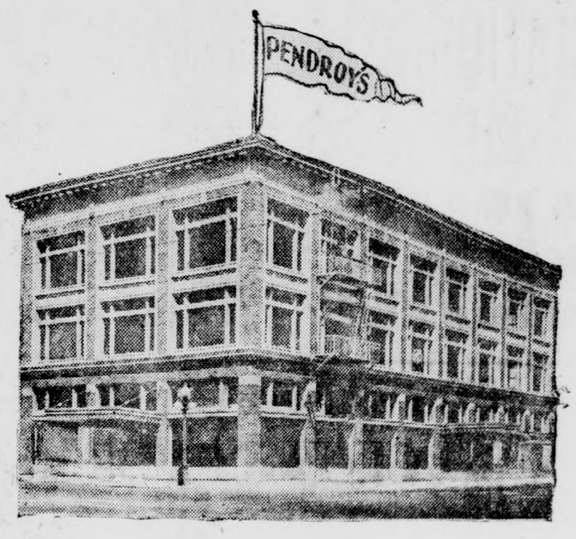
LUMBER TRADE

HOUSTON, Feb. 28.—The West Indies, Mexico and the River Plata region have been good buyers of yellow pine lumber, but recent exports are small.



The Shopping Center of Glendale

PROSPERITY

THE pendulum of Prosperity again swings our way. We're about to bask in the sun of Plenitude. Above the horizon we see the harbingers of good crops well paid for; unemployment rapidly decreasing; the resumption of business activity; railroads giving record-breaking orders for replacement of all old equipment; savings balances have reached the highest marks the banks have carried for years.

Let us all do our share in greasing the wheels to keep Prosperity in motion—work faithfully; employ help liberally; buy freely; save intelligently—talk and act and perpetuate Prosperity.

ASSOCIATION PLANS BIG PROGRAM

Central Avenue Celebration On March 7 Will Mark Opening, New Lights

Formal dedication of Central avenue, to be held next Saturday night, with the biggest bonfire ever held in Glendale as one of the features, was planned at a meeting yesterday of the Central Avenue Improvement association, held in the offices of W. T. Jefferson & Co.

Two brass bands, furnished by the Sciots and the Elks, will provide music for a mammoth street dance. The Boy Scouts' fife and drum corps will lead that organization in the festivities. From a speaker's stand, to be erected at Central avenue and Magnolia street, the mayor will accept for the city this new thoroughfare the "Wilshire boulevard of Glendale," and by a special wire will turn on the current in the 283 large ornamental lights which now line the avenue. One other speech, on the subject of the "Future of Central avenue," will be made.

The rest of the evening will be given over to the carnival spirit. Huge stands will be erected, piled high with hot dogs and other delicacies, which will be served free.

Plan Big Bonfire

The big bonfire will be under the supervision of picked veterans of the fire department. This is to be set off at 7 o'clock, on the George D. Stepper lot, the largest unoccupied frontage on the newly-widened portion of Central avenue. Teams of schoolboys of the Central avenue district will collect the bonfire material. Long files of Boy Scouts armed with Roman candles will salute the new artery.

Central avenue residences will be decorated with Chinese lan-

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 28.—Easy money! A 12-year-old boy from Ojai called upon City Engineer Pierce of Ventura yesterday and received permission to try to hang by his teeth from the highest window in the City Hall, according to word received here today. He said he had been practicing the stunt for eleven months, and as soon as he can accomplish the act he will get his picture taken and receive $15 from an eastern magazine.

Laws regulating the diet of cows will be the next state legislators' move, if Mrs. M. Feeny of Glendale can influence the solons. Her automobile was stopped in a traffic jam on North Broadway yesterday afternoon, and a cow riding to the slaughter house on a trailer reached out and ate the straw hat off her head.

William Gibbs McAdoo, jr., son of the former secretary of the treasury, will have the week-end to prepare his defense against charges made by Motorcycle Officer Hull. Police Judge Joseph Chambers has fixed his trial for Monday. When McAdoo was arrested he insisted it was "all a mistake."

Myra Leo and William Talbutt, who, two years ago, were prevented by the police from completing an agreement to end their lives, yesterday obtained a license to wed. Both have been divorced since the suicide attempt.

CHEVROLET PLANS

DETROIT, Feb. 28.—The Chevrolet Motor Co. expects to produce its two millionth car early in July under present production schedules. Chevrolet will be the second company to achieve this goal. In less than four years the company has grown from a single small plant to a world-wide organization with twelve American factories, 7000 dealers and 20,000 employes.

ROYAL NEIGHBORS HOLD GATHERING

Glendale Members Hosts To Visitors From Nearby Cities Last Night

The district meeting of Royal Neighbors from Glendale, Covina, Azusa, Monrovia and Burbank was held last night at the Odd Fellows' hall, 201 West Broadway. Two hundred people were in attendance. Mrs. Maud Rucker, oracle, presided at the meeting, when a class of seven candidates from Glendale Royal Neighbors was initiated. Two new members were admitted to membership by transfer.

After the business meeting a program was presented, including a play, "The Old Maid's Tea Party," given by Mrs. Mayo, Mrs. Ida Beach, Miss Thelma Rucker, Mrs. Ida Hock, Mr. Behkin, Mrs. Sidenlanz, Mrs. LaDuc and Mrs. C. A. Bunting. Readings were given by Miss Helen Fisher, solo dance by Miss Martha Carpenter, piano solos by Albert Muske, and a guitar duet by Mr. and Mrs. Bachman.

The Glendale Royal Neighbors' drill team put on the drill work. Mrs. Andrews of Pasadena, district deputy, was present for the affair. Later refreshments were served by the committee in charge of Mrs. Mayo. The next district meeting will be held at Monrovia next month.

Local Church Members Will Attend Meetings

Announcement is made that the regular Presbyterial meeting will be held Monday at 10 a. m. at the Immanuel Presbyterian church in Los Angeles and the annual Presbyterial will be held at the new Presbyterian church in Hollywood, March 12 and 13, at 9:30 a. m. Many Glendale people are anticipating attending these meetings, states Mrs. T. A. Lewis, chairman of publicity of the Women's Society, First Presbyterian church.

CIVIC ORGANIZATION FORMED IN ATWATER

Representatives From Precincts Gather To Discuss Councilmanic Timber; J. E. Hume Named President

A permanent organization for the selection of a proper councilman to represent ward No. 1 in the Los Angeles City Council was formed last night at a meeting held at the Baptist church in Atwater district. J. E. Hume was named president of the organization.

Nine persons represented Atwater Park at the meeting, while fifty-three representatives from the valley were present. A. Larson spoke on a district representative for the fifty-eight precincts, and the municipal ownership of water and power utilities was favored.

F. E. Johnson, president of the Glendale Boulevard association, was chosen first vice-president of the permanent organization. Mr. Johnson told of plans for widening Glendale boulevard to a uniform width of 100 feet.

J. J. Wray, of Atwater, was elected secretary. A. M. Gilman, president of the Atwater Improvement association, was named chairman of the committee on permanent organization.

Hold Card Party Tonight

Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Bacon of 3802 Revere avenue, in the Atwater district, will open their home tonight for a card party which is being given as a benefit for the Atwater Parent-Teacher association of which Mrs. Bacon is president. Tables will be arranged for bridge, five hundred whist and pinochle. Refreshments will be served after the card games.

Glendale Pythians At Eagle Rock Meeting

Members of Glendale lodge, No. 331, Knights of Pythias, with Chancellor Commander S. E. Wright, attended the meeting last night of Miramonte lodge, Knights of Pythias, at Castle hall, Pasadena avenue and Avenue Fifty-seven. California Grand Lodge officers were present and filled the different stations. The Knight rank work was put on by a team composed of past chancellors headed by L. E. Maddox of Long Beach.

A banquet was served after the meeting. Pythians from this section, accompanied by the Dokey band of Los Angeles, are in attendance today at the outdoor spectacle of the lesson of friendship which is being exemplified at Oxnard by the team from Los Angeles. Lodges in Ventura and Santa Barbara counties are supplying a large class of candidates to be initited in the rank of page.

OIL PROSPECTS

TULSA, Feb. 28.—Basing their arguments on the fact that gasoline has begun to feel the effect of accumulation which has been going on since December, and because other refined products are sluggish, oil men here declared they do not expect the price of crude to rise higher in the immediate future.

W.R.C. Members Honor Memory Of Departed

Tribute to the memory of deceased members was paid yesterday at the meeting of the Women's Relief Corps in the G. A. R. hall on South Glendale avenue. In memory of Mrs. Ellen Early and Mrs. Lizzie Winslow the charter was draped with impressive ceremony.

DANCING PART OF CHILD EDUCATION

"Dancing should be included as a part of every child's training," is the declaration of Pearl Keller, well-known Glendale dancing and dramatic art teacher, whose studio is located at 109-A South Central avenue. Miss Keller established her studio in Glendale in 1914, and, in maintaing high standards in refined and artistic dancing in all branches, her work is widely known in Glendale and other Southland cities. She specializes in Grecian technique.

During the past year there was strong demand for Miss Keller to establish a Los Angeles studio, and she secured exclusive lease for dancing classes at the Friday Morning clubhouse, Los Angeles.

In her artistic work Miss Keller introduces human interest, enlisting her pupils each year to share with her in the happiness of giving a large benefit program in Los Angeles for the Los Angeles Orthopedic hospital.

D. A. R. Members Will Meet Next Thursday

Recognition of the inauguration of Calvin Coolidge, president of the United States, will be given by General Richard Gridley chapter, Daughters of American Revolution, at a Colonial tea, Wednesday afternoon, March 4, at First Congregational church. Members of the chapter will receive in Colonial costumes. Invitations have been issued to members of Eagle Rock and San Fernando chapters, and to representatives of all chapters from Santa Barbara south to San Diego east to Needles.

All state officers in the southland have been sent special invitations. Mrs. G. D. Carter is to tell of the inauguration of the president. Other numbers on the program will be readings by Mrs. G. Edwin Murphy; violin selections by Christine Edwards; vocal selections by Mrs. John W. Cotton; Colonial dances by pupils of Pearl Keller.

Birthday Party Held At Helffrich Home

Mrs. J. F. Helffrich, of 369 West Milford street, entertained last night for her daughter, Margaret Jane, who celebrated her 10th birthday. The table was prettily decorated in blue and white, with ribbon streamers running from the chandelier to the favor baskets. A birthday cake was served as the final course of the birthday dinner. Games were played. Guests were Mary-Frances and Catherine Allison, Dorothy Kidder, Elinor Dermott, Dorothy Davis, Margaret and Katherine Sherman, Mildred Fife, Nelta Fuez, Chilton Allison, George and Dean Lepper, Marvin Fuez, Russell and Albert Newton, Robert Dermott, Miss Joe Ruth Clark, Dr. Don Mayer, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Allison, Mr. and Mrs. George Davis.

LEGION NOTES

The joint meeting of Glendale Post No. 127, American Legion, and the American Legion Auxiliary, held last night at American Legion hall, 610 East Broadway, was conducted by Joe Wilson, past commander. A representative of Lester Meyer chapter, American War Mothers of Glendale, was present to tell of the entertainment which will be given March 6 at the Broadway high school. A short business meeting was conducted in which reports from committees were heard.

Mrs. E. W. Gilliland, president of American Legion Auxiliary, assisted Mr. Wilson in the presentation of a past president's pin to Mrs. Chalmer Day, and also Mrs. James F. McBryde, the latter having served as president during 1920 and 1921. Mrs. George L. Kaeding, who served as president in 1923, was presented with a silver flower dish. A short program including vocal selection by Miss Elizabeth Mottern and violin solo by Henry Raphael with Miss Mottern as accompanist, was presented.

Casey Bowling Team Wins From Alhambra

Glendale Council, K. of C., took three games from Alhambra Council on the Alhambra alleys last night. Hammes was high man shooting 626 pins. He also rolled high score of the league getting 255 in the second game.

Glendale now holds first place in the league, winning 23 games, dropping only one game. They also hold high series of 2877. F. Brehme is high average man of the league with 197 pins.

Grand View Troop of Boy Scouts on Hike

Boy Scouts of the Grand View troop with members of the Friendly Indians class left early this morning on a hike with Scout Executive Harvey Cheesman. The trip is a nature study hike and the boys will study flowers, trees, and birds. About thirty boys are taking the hike.

Boy Scouts of the Grand View troop will meet Monday night at 7:30 o'clock at the schoolhouse instead of Tuesday night. Scoutmaster G. W. Thomas requests that scouts bring any material which will be needed to pass tests.

It is difficult to believe, however, that people fifty years from now will sigh for the old songs that were popular in 1923.

DAYS OF GOLD RETURNED IN '49 FROLIC

Five Thousand People Meet Under Sciots' Tent To Recall Old Times

ATTENTION, SCIOTS!

Toparch Robert E. Johnston of Glendale Pyramid of Sciots No. 39 requests all Sciots belonging to this pyramid to be present tonight at the Million Dollar "'49" party. Wear your fez and come prepared to stay until the doors close at midnight. The Sciots are wanted for service in handling the crowds sure to be present. An attendance of not less than 10,000 people is expected.

Five thousand people last night were carried back to:

"The days of old; the days of gold;

"The days of '49."

They danced with bespangled dancing girls; they mingled with rough-clothed miners. With free abandon and hilarity they opened the first of the two-night "'49" party of Glendale Sciots in the mammoth tent at Magnolia avenue and South Brand boulevard.

Tickets were collected at the door and exchanged for bulging pokes that were heavy with $1,000,000 in '49 money. With funds thus obtained the visitors staked their all against a turn of the wheel. They won their right to a chance for hundreds of valuable prizes that have been donated by Glendale merchants. Holders of lucky numbers last night were awarded some of them. The remainder will be given tonight, including a $225 Dayton Polydyne radio set as a grand prize.

In charge of the old-fashioned bars, the amusement booths and the old '49 dance hall were a large corps of Sciot officials.

Clown Leads Fun

Eddie Gamble, nationally-known clown and funmaker, was one of the biggest features of last night's entertainment. Mingling in the huge crowd he led the hilarity. The dancing floor is the largest ever built in Southern California. Music is furnished by a special Sciot orchestra.

Color—vivid, stirring, alluring color, taking one back to the old days on the Tuolumne and the Sacramento when life was cheap but gold was all—whirred like a kaleidoscope and changed staid citizens in an instant into fascinating characters of '49. Inside the big tent 5,000 people of a metropolitan city forgot the paved streets and the rapid-transit outside the canvas. For hours they stayed—transported back by the magic of the Sciots' organization to that romantic period.

Arrangements have been made to handle an even greater crowd this afternoon and tonight, and new surprises—new sensations—new bits of '49 color are planned for tonight's visitors.

ANY MORNING—
Is an opportunity to declare our independence of fear.
We may make a new resolution.
Should see us setting our goals a little farther ahead.
We are at liberty to start living the golden rule.
However dark, will grow brighter if we persist in singing.
Will turn out better if started with a prayer.
Means a complete new beginning of life.

STORES GIVE SERVICE

There is a great change in the character of the stores today from those of ten and twenty years ago. Competition has made service an important feature of merchandising, and the successful merchant has to be on the alert every minute of the day.

Years ago a store was either a department store or it wasn't. A dry goods store was a dry goods store, a grocery was a grocery, and a drug store was a drug store. The merchant didn't worry much about getting business. He took it when it came. Today he has to put forth every effort to get and hold trade.

We still have the department store, of course, but all other stores might be divided into two classes—the specialty shop and the diversity store.

We have the men's store, the woman's store, the millinery shop and the baby shop and a few other exclusive stores that confine their line to a few articles. But the dry goods store of today may sell, besides dry goods, women's ready-to-wear, children's clothes, sporting goods, toys and art goods. The grocery handles bakery and creamery products and confections; the drug store serves lunches and drinks and sells everything from rubber goods to stationery. A confectionery store is nearly always a restaurant as well, and many restaurants and lunch rooms sell candy and tobacco. Hardware stores handle toys and sporting goods.

Jewelers as a rule confine themselves to their own line, although it is not unusual to find cut glass, fountain pens and leather goods in jewelry stores. Furniture stores are usually just what they pretend to be, although in the second hand furniture stores one may pick up almost any article imaginable.

Merchants of today are doing their utmost to please the public, and in this connection the doctrine of Henry Ford comes to mind. He said the first service a business can render to its customers, its workers and the public, is just to be a successful business.

FOREIGNERS IN CABINET

Organizations so often dissipate effort that could be used to good purpose. The New York City federation of Women's clubs have resolved that only native-born citizens of the United States shall be eligible to become justices of the Supreme Court, members of the president's cabinet or speaker of the House of Representatives. They could use their energy to bring about reforms that are much more sorely needed.

We have had foreign-born men in high government positions who have made outstanding records for service and accomplishment. Tama "Jim" Wilson of Iowa, who was secretary of Agriculture for sixteen years, was born in Scotland. The years of his service were years of growth and expansion for his department. Alexander Hamilton, who put our finances on a sound basis in the early days of our history as Secretary of the Treasury, was born in the West Indies of a French mother and a Scotch father. The late Franklin K. Lane, who served us so efficiently as Secretary of the Interior, was born a Canadian, and James J. Davis, present Secretary of Labor, was born in Wales.

These men, though of foreign birth, chose to become Americans, and they have honored their adopted country by the quality of their Americanism. Their example should serve to discourage any effort to make foreign birth a bar to a place among the president's legal advisers.

ECONOMY AND INDEPENDENCE

A correspondent in a national journal, referring to the controversy between capital and labor, advances a unique and interesting angle of the situation. The writer is not a capitalist but a man who claims to have done the commonest kind of manual labor for forty years. He says thousands of workers throughout America are rising from the ranks of labor to positions of responsibility and affluence because they refuse to waste their wages. Could the working people of America be persuaded to employ the measure of economy they were forced to practice thirty years ago they would one and all speedily become independent, and when necessity no longer forces men to labor, wages rise automatically, and the billions that go to swell the holdings of the over-rich would naturally and inevitably be absorbed by those whose labor produced it.

The theory is excellent. Waste is always to be discouraged and thrift to be commended. But as for living as he was forced to live thirty years ago, that would be an impossibility even if the workman wished to do so and knew that it would inevitably lead him to independence and affluence. Mere existence is so complicated today that only a hermit could live as he did thirty years ago.

OPPORTUNITIES IN BRITAIN

We sometimes think of America as the only land of opportunity, the only country where the poor and inconspicuous may win their way to fame and affluence. But the story comes from England that a certain poor boy, Frederick Smith by name—which would seem to condemn him to everlasting obscurity—was reared in an environment in which rank, wealth and preferment were absent. He is now the Earl of Birkenhead, and he has won a leading position in four leading spheres, the academic, the legal, the parliamentary and the journalistic. Sir Eric Geddes began his career doing railroad work in the United States. Lloyd George was a humble Welshman. And of course Ramsay McDonald, Philip Snowden and other members of the former Labor Government, rose to eminence without the aid of wealth or social influence. These are only a few of many instances that prove that Great Britain is not without opportunities for those who aspire to eminence and that it is not only in America that the poor and humble may become the great and renowned.

COCAINE SUBSTITUTE

German scientists are said to have developed a non-poisonous, non-habit-forming drug called tutokain which is to be used as a substitute for cocaine. This drug was isolated in the course of researches among products obtained in development of artificial rubber.

Unlike most substitutes which are inferior to the article they imitate, tutokain is said to possess all the virtues of cocaine, with none of its evils. Its discovery is equivalent to taking the narcotic, habit-forming qualities out of one of our frequently used anesthetics and most cursed drugs.

WHAT'S WRONG HERE?

The New Nakedness

By DR. FRANK CRANE

Civilization at first is a matter of putting on clothes.

As civilization advances, however, the process is reversed and people take them off.

The era of the enormous hat and stays and bustles and all sort of fads seems to have disappeared.

Nowadays women wear as few clothes as possible and no corsets.

The trend is symbolic. As civilization advances our privacy is being decreased. Time was when our letters had be sent by messenger. Now everyone can telephone and get us out of bed or out of the kitchen at any time.

The radio exposes still more. Our souls are becoming nude. When a device is perfected for transmitting scenes by radio the instrument will be much more deadly than it is.

The fundamental reason why people leave the country and come to the city is the urge for privacy.

In the country everybody knows your business. They mark your goings out and your comings in, and if you come back on the five-five train instead of the four-fifty they want to know why. Your least act is subjected to the scrutiny of the community and sometimes its censorship.

In the city you know nobody and want to know nobody. You may live in an apartment house with thirty other families and not know one of them. You can go to ruin in forty ways and nobody cares.

Some people object on paper to the isolation of the crowd in the city. They say they have no neighbors. This may be very pretty talk, but most of the people do not want neighbors. They want privacy. And they come to the city to get it.

When Wordsworth went out into the country to write, the countryside people did not know what he was doing. He appeared to be doing nothing. Consequently they employed a spy to see what he was up to. They resented a man doing as he pleased.

The newspapers and the reporters are also a bar to privacy. One never knows when he is going to get on the front page.

Some people make use of this fear of publicity to extort blackmail from the victims.

Horoscope

Contrary planetary influences are strong today, according to astrology. While Jupiter and Mercury are in benefic aspect Mars and Saturn are adverse.

Matters of importance should be delayed until late today, the seers declare, and then it is well to push advertising and financial affairs.

Business initiative is fairly well directed, but there will be opposition on the part of malcontents.

Whatever concerns figures should be subject to good luck; collections and estimates may be undertaken with promise of success.

There is an extraordinarily good sign for personal publicity, which will be too often overdone under less favorable aspects.

Judges, bankers, brokers and men who are concerned in important public interests should benefit at this time, although they will have a year of remarkable stress and strain.

Mars frowns today on industrial organizations and appears to forecast dissensions among members.

There is a threatening sign for labor read as indicating strikes and contests with employers.

Persons past middle age may be exceedingly difficult to deal with, since the stars increase the egotism that belongs to too much worldly experience.

Irritability and super-sensitiveness may be manifested while this government of the stars has influence on the minds of men.

Mental poise should be cultivated as never before, for this year when many new fads are to be introduced and many wild theories disseminated.

Washington, D. C., is to have uncommon gayety before and after Lent, this year, it is prophesied, and many distinguished visitors will be entertained.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a very successful year. Many new friends are indicated.

Children born on this date may be headstrong and self-willed. These subjects of Pisces often have many talents of opposite trend and generally have the power to win great success in life.

On thy cold gray stones, O Sea!
And I would that my tongue could utter
The thoughts that arise in me.

O well for the fisherman's boy,
That he shouts with his sister at play!
O well for the sailor lad,
That he sings in his boat on the bay!

And the stately ships go on
To their haven under the hill;
But O for the touch of a vanished hand,
And the sound of a voice that is still.

But the tender grace of a day that is dead
Will never come back to me.

—Tennyson.

The opening of the new clubhouse at Kenilworth avenue and Colorado boulevard by the Women's Twentieth Century club of Eagle Rock, was a noteworthy affair this week.

The Glendale Pigeon Lofts at Verdugo road, near Colorado boulevard, a few days ago, purchased the entire pigeon lofts belonging to the Elliott Brant ranch at Owensmouth. About 1800 birds will be brought to Glendale.

J. R. Gray of South San Fernando road took from his garden Wednesday morning a carrot weighing twelve pounds.

Hasty Bidwell, one of Glendale's entrants in the Oxy relay meet Monday afternoon, won third place in the high jump.

POCKET IN BELT

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—How can belts be tight? They cannot, because they now have to have a concealed pocket which will suffice to carry handkerchief, compact and purse. Therefore, loose belts of Russian design are smart if one has the roubles to pay for them.

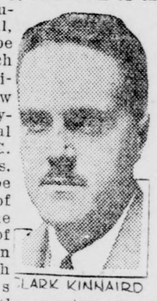
The Best of Advice

By CLARK KINNARD



The most prominent woman in Washington today is Mrs. John Allan Dougherty, chairman of the charity inaugural ball, which will be held on March 4, at the capital's big new hotel, the Mayflower. General Charles C. Dawes and Mrs. Dawes will be the guests of honor at the closing affair of inauguration day, at which 4500 guests from all over the country are expected.

Mrs. Dougherty long has been active in Red Cross and charity work and four years ago organized the first charity inaugural ball at which $28,000 was raised for the Child Welfare society of the capital. This year the gross receipts will be divided among five children's charities.

During the war, Mrs. Dougherty was with the American Ambulance at Neuilly, and later organized the salvage work for the District of Columbia Red Cross, maintaining headquarters in an abandoned fire engine house near the capitol, and operating solely with the volunteer help of Washington police and firemen. For three years after the armistice she was full-time volunteer with the American Red Cross, at headquarters, as manager of the Washington Division of eleven states, which raised $6,400,000 of the $11,300,000 contributed to sufferers of the Japanese earthquake through the Red Cross.

Mrs. Dougherty is a native of New York City, the daughter of John Edward McGraw and Rosanna Johnson McGraw. Her father was of the second generation in this country, head of the John McGraw family with a published history of seven centuries in which the name John descended as a primogenital inheritance.

She was educated at the Convent of the Sacred Heart in New York City where she married Captain John Allan Dougherty, U. S. N., of Kansas City, Captain Dougherty was later naval attache at the American Legation at Pekin, China, serving under two administrations. He died in China while on duty there, and Mrs. Dougherty remained in the Orient until war was declared in 1914, when she returned to America after an absence of many years.

In appreciation of her great war work, Mrs. Dougherty was decorated by two foreign countries, receiving the Cross of Mercy of Serbia, and Queen Mary's Cross of England.

Who's Who

Despite the fact that he is a Democrat the name of Ira Nelson Morris is being mentioned in connection with the selection of a new United States ambassador to Berlin to succeed Alanson B. Houghton.

Morris served as minister to Sweden under appointment by President Wilson in 1914 and filled that post until 1922.

Morris is a graduate of Philip-Exeter academy and of Yale. For many years he was connected with a big packing concern in Chicago with which he severed his relationship when he became commissioner-general to Italy in behalf of the Panama exposition. He is 50 years old.

At present Mr. Morris spends a part of his time in Washington. He represents Rumania as consul general in Chicago. He married Miss Constance Lily Rothchild of New York in 1898.

He has devoted much time to travel, writing and philanthropic work.

Woman Is Believed To Be Poison Victim

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 28.—The body of Mrs. Bertha Briber, found in the beach here, near the Cliff house several days ago, under circumstances which led police to believe she had committed suicide by drowning, was being held for examination today at the request of Coroner T. B. W. Leland, who ordered that the stomach be removed and its contents analyzed.

This action was taken after City Prosecuting Attorney Fred Donohue of Oakland, where Mrs. Briber lived, issued a statement in which he said he was not satisfied with the investigation of her death.

RIVIERA STYLES

LONDON, Feb. 28.—Whether one carries an umbrella here to keep out of the rain or a parasol on the Riviera to keep out of the sun, the shape is the same. The main difference lies in the coloring of the silk used. The umbrellas are of sober hues, but the parasols are printed in the most fantastic colors and designs.

HAIR DRESSING

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—The seal sleek type of hair dressing predominates in the afternoon at present with the front locks of the bobbed hair brought in a curve from the ear toward the mouth.

Diet And Health

By LULU HUNT PETERS, M. D.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

A LETTER FROM CHINA

"Dear Doctor Lulu: I hope you won't be offended with me for speaking to you so familiarly, but I love you too well to be formal!

"The thing that really woke me up was a remark made by the slim side of the family, when I arrived from a tea-mah-jong, just in time to slip in my chair at the dinner table. I was wearing a new dress of brown lace, very plain and straight waisted, over a satin slip. I thought it was pretty nifty, and when hubby looked me over with a critical eye, I expected him to say something nice. Instead, he said, 'My dear, you are getting quite a front, aren't you?' Well, I just made up my mind right there that he never would be able to say that to me again and I immediately began to follow your directions to reduce, and believe me, I lost my front! I went down from 170 to 138.

"The thing I like about your course is that I am able to eat some of the things I like. I had reduced before but the diet was so strenuous that I soon slipped.

"There were several of us who started to reduce at the same time, but only three of us kept it up, and you should hear the others rave when they see us now! We have a lot of tea parties here in China and as we had to refuse a lot of the goodies, it was well known that we were reducing. Our friends got so that when they invited us to tiffin (tea) they said, 'I'll have some spinach and cabbage for you if you'll come.'

"I have been able to wear a corselette for the first time this summer, and have played tennis almost every day. I am looking forward to riding again as soon as it is a bit cooler. I had become so that I didn't care to ride because I felt so awkward, and to tell the truth, my riding clothes didn't feel very comfy.

"I am forty-two (when I tell the truth) and was afraid it was my age that made me feel that I didn't care for the sports as I used to, but find it was only my excess fat.

"I am more thankful to you than I can tell.—Mrs. C., Shanghai, China."

You see, we have followers in every part of the world.

This is rather a long letter, but there are a good many texts in it for a little sermonizing.

First, it makes me very happy to know that I have helped a person so that she (or he) thinks of me as "Dear Doctor Lulu." Second, hubby's frank comments on the "front." More husbands and wives should be frank and express displeasure at an excess gain in weight in their partners. Third, it is always easier if you can get at least one other person to join you in your reducing campaign. Form a little Watch-Your-Weight club. Fourth, one of the pernicious effects of excess fat is that it does make you stop doing the very things you ought to do to prevent greater accumulations. It makes you self-conscious so that you stay at home and it makes you lose ambition in all ways. Fifth, IT'S NOT YOUR AGE—IT'S YOUR FAT!

Thank you for writing, Mrs. C. (Those of you who missed our instructions on reducing may have them by sending a self-addressed and stamped envelope with ten cents in stamps and asking for the booklet on gaining and losing.)

A. to Z.—We have articles on Common Colds, Tuberculosis, and High Blood Pressure. You may have these by sending a self-addressed and stamped envelope with your request. Send a good sized envelope if you want all of them.

My Dear Followers:—When sending for material which we offer you please remember to enclose a stamped envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must enclose four cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 200 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as possible; if they are of general interest. Don't forget the s.a.s.e. if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

Knitted Sweater for a Child from Two to Three Years: Buy two large balls of pink or blue shetland floss or zephyr floss or else buy four small one-ounce-balls of the same color. Also buy one large or two small balls of white, the same yarn. And one pair each of number three and number four bone or amber knitting needles.

Back: With white and the number four needles, cast on 72 stitches and knit two inches plain. Then with the colored yarn work in rib pattern of knit one, purl one, for ten inches. Cast on 30 stitches at each end for sleeves, work in pattern for four inches, and on the next row work the first 60 stitches off onto a stitchholder. Bind off next 12 stitches for neck and on the remaining 60 stitches start the front.

Front: Work six rows, then cast on 12 stitches, toward the front. Work on this length till sleeve measures eight inches. On the next row bind off 30 stitches for sleeve. Cast on seven stitches toward the front, knit these seven stitches plain in every row for border down the front, and continue till front is as long as back on underarm seam. Work front to correspond, then work buttonholes one inch apart on right front.

Collar: With white yarn, pick up the stitches around the neck and knit five inches plain, then bind off. Cuffs: With white yarn and the number three needles, pick up the stitches at end of sleeve, and knit two, pull two, for two and one-half inches. With colored yarn knit one inch plain, and bind off. Turn up the border at the bottom and tack it in place.

Crocheted Hot Water Bottle Cover: (Requested by Mrs. L. L.) Buy one large ball or two small (one-ounce) balls of four-fold white Germantown wool, and the same amount of colored yarn. With a number four bone crochet hook, chain 17, join in a ring, work 32 S. C. in ring. Row two: Work one S. C. in first st., * chain two, one treble crochet in same st., skip one st. one S. C. in next st. and repeat from *, working 16 clusters. The last S. C. is worked in first S. C. of previous row. Row Four: * Chain two, work two treble crochet over chain two of previous row, one S. C. in next S. C. of previous row, and repeat from * working 16 clusters in row. With white repeat row three till there are 17 rows of white and five rows of color. Work one row of D. C. for beading at top and chain-stitch a tie-cord.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Kirkman in care of the "Efficient Housekeeping" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question. A COUGH REMEDY WITHOUT OPIATES

Many cough preparations contain some one or more harmful drugs which are added to take the place of opiates. None of these narcotic substitutes have ever been used in FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR COMPOUND. The name of every ingredient is plainly printed on every carton. You know what you are taking when you take Foley's. It clings to the throat. Good for old and young. You have a cough, why not try it? Plan Federation

The Women's Relief corps held an interesting meeting yesterday in the G. A. R. hall, 902 South Glendale avenue. A patriotic program was presented with Miss Lenora Skelton, patriotic instructor, in charge. Luncheon was served at the noon hour to 117 guests, members of the Women's Relief corps and N. P. Banks post, G. A. R. Judge and Mrs. Austin of Seattle, Washington; Mrs. Winifred McLaughlin, department treasurer; Mrs. Priscilla Houdyshel, department press correspondent; and the following members of the Pasadena Relief corps were guests: Mrs. Ethel Whinner, president; Mesdames Mary Sadin, Jennie M. Casler, Louise Harrie, Esther Walter, Francy S. Ward, Helen E. Root, Florence Kirk, and Minnie Horn. After the luncheon Miss Skelton had charge of the program, which included a talk by W. G. Collins, commander of N. P. Banks post; solo, "I Am Walking With the King" by Loren G. Jones with Mrs. Loren G. Jones as accompanist. Mr. and Mrs. Jones are members of the John Brown evangelistic party. Rev. C. R. Norton, chaplain of N. P. Banks post, paid a tribute to George Washington; Mrs. Priscilla Houdyshel paid a tribute to Abraham Lincoln; and Miss Lenora Skelton paid tribute to William McKinley. A. W. Scudder gave Lincoln's Gettysburg address. Other talks were given by Robert Taylor, Judge Austin of Seattle and Mr. Norton closed the program by pronouncing the benediction. Mrs. Mary B. Bennett, president of the Relief corps, directed the business meeting following the program, when Mrs. McLaughlin, department treasurer, gave a talk on her work. Plans were discussed for the forming of a federation of Los Angeles, Glendale and Pasadena corps and a special meeting of the local corps has been called for Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the G. A. R. hall, when further plans will be discussed.

Lodge's Birthday

Celebration of the nineteenth birthday anniversary took place last night at the meeting of Glen Eyrie Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, in Masonic temple, 232 South Brand boulevard. Mrs. Cora Hickman Stearns, who was the organizer of Glen Eyrie, was present and sketched the chapter's history of nineteen years. She said the chapter was first organized with meetings held at the home of Mrs. Adelaide Imler on Park avenue, when the membership was seventeen. This membership has increased until it is now near 460. A birthday cake with the name of the chapter and the year was a special feature. Mrs. Mae Warrick, worthy matron, presided at the business meeting, when two candidates were initiated. Plans were made for a bazaar to be held at the Masonic Temple on April 24. Mrs. Sadie McPherson was appointed general chairman. After the meeting the members and visitors marched to the banquet hall, where tables were arranged for luncheon. Cards on the tables named the twelve months of the year and those present were seated according to their birth month. Mrs. Irma Kaiser was chairman of the refreshment committee.

Benefit Affair

Mrs. Mae Rosenberg of 462 Riverdale drive was hostess yesterday at an informal social affair, a benefit for Glendale Intermediate Parent-Teacher association, of which she is president. Games of five-hundred and bridge and cross-word puzzles were diversions. The prize for five-hundred was won by Mrs. H. L. Raley; for bridge by Mrs. Hahn.

Business Women

The Business and Professional Women's club will hold a meeting Monday night at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Ella Richardson, 317 North Brand boulevard. Members will meet at 6:30 o'clock for supper at the California Cafe on West Broadway after which they will attend the meeting. A short business meeting will be held followed by an entertaining program, which is being arranged as a surprise feature. Members of the club and others interested are invited to attend.

Farewell Honor

Complimenting Mrs. Mary Ellsworth, who leaves next week for her home in Butte, Montana after several months' visit in Glendale, Mrs. L. O. Carlisle of 1001 East Acacia avenue entertained Wednesday afternoon with an informal party. The afternoon was spent with needlework as the pastime and later the hostess served refreshments. Guests were: Mesdames Ellsworth, H. Tweet, J. E. Cornell, R. C. Francis and Lois Gratias.

CONCERN GROWS; FOUNDED IN 1916

Monarch Auto Supply Co. Had $1000 Stock At Start; Now $50,000

The Monarch Auto Supply Co., 204 South Brand boulevard, has grown in less than ten years from a small retail business with less than $1,000 worth of stock, to a firm carrying a stock of over $50,000 and known as the largest jobbers of automotive supplies in the San Fernando valley, states H. M. Butts, president of the company. The business, moreover, is housed in its own building, on its own property, and is regarded as one of the outstanding successes in the city.

Founded October 1, 1916, the Monarch Auto Supply Co. operated for six years at 123 South Brand boulevard, moving to the present location October 1, 1922. Dealers, mechanics and owners have come to learn through years of dealing with this firm that replacement parts and tools required for the reconditioning of any make and model of car can be obtained here, Mr. Butts states.

Display at Show

At the Automobile show opening next Saturday, under the auspices of the Glendale Motor Car Dealers' association, the displays of the Monarch Auto Supply Co. will occupy a prominent position. Among other devices to be seen there, announces Mr. Butts, is the Rottler boring bar, which enables regular garages to re-bore and thus keeps this work in Glendale. Rottler apparatus have been sold by the Monarch Auto Supply Co. not only to Glendale firms but to leading garages and repair shops in Burbank and other parts of the San Fernando valley.

Car owners will find of particular interest the display of Baker's Long Life auto polish on display by this firm at the Automobile show. Samples will be given away, Mr. Butts states. This polish has the reputation of making old cars look like new and keeping new paint jobs new. It is, moreover, reputed to be easily applied.

In the extensive stocks carried by the Monarch Auto Supply Co. are to be found full lines of pistons, wristpins, axles, gaskets and all other parts needed

Chats On Beauty

SOME "TIPS"

I know one woman who likes perfumed hair. Goodness knows why, but she does, I've no doubt she has been reading too many of the new and very sentimental magazines, on the covers of which a man is always bending over kissing a woman's lips or hands or hair, or in some way showing his adoration. When I said something about the fresh, sweet odor hair naturally has if it is brushed and aired and shampooed properly she was quite indignant and answered she meant real fragrance.

I found she achieved it by sewing tiny sachet bags into the linings of her hats. Now, if you really want highly perfumed hair, that's not a bad way to acquire it, so I give you the "tip" as she gave it to me. If you use toilet water or cologne on the hair itself, you may dry it and hurt it, cologne used on the skin around the hair passes off rapidly, the sachet odor is more lasting and harmless.

Here are some other "tips" about perfume. The most subtle and delicate fragrances can be bought in sachet form, and bought more cheaply than in colognes or toilet water. A little sachet mixed with plain corn starch gives a delicious, very cheap, and very healthy bath powder, the fragrance of which will stay on your skin all day. Sachet bags sewed in the linings or pockets of your coats will give your clothes the faint, sweet elusive odor that most women desire. Sachet bags kept in wardrobe drawers where clothes are laid, or sachet sprinkled on cotton used to pad dress hangers, will do the same.

Most women love perfumes. Personally, one special odor, no matter how expensive, bores me terribly after a few days, then the bother is to get all one's clothes free of it. Long ago I gave up using any of it and saved money. But I'm an exception, most people like perfumes.

A. B.—As cocoa butter is such a heavy oil, it should not be used for massaging either the face or neck. There is nothing better for massaging other parts of the body. When the face is thin and the body appears to be well nourished it usually indicates a run down condition. You may help it somewhat by massaging with olive oil or a good cream, but you will improve much faster if you have the doctor prescribe for you.

A Reader.—An oily scalp comes from poor elimination, so you will have to trace it, and correct it in your system. You can keep your hair cleared of it by rubbing it out with soft towels.

Marcella V.—The oil-producing glands are found over all the skin, except in the soles and palms. They are nearer the surface than the perspiratory glands. Their function is to lubricate the skin and keep it soft and to protect the body from moisture.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes in care of the "Beauty chats" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

Had Breitman seen? Instinctively Graham sprang to Evadne's side, screening her for a moment, and offered her his arm.

"Will you lead on, inspector?" he said, motioning him toward the stairs.

"Thank you, I will follow," returned Breitman dryly.

The stairs seemed never-ending. Breitman's slow step following just behind, seemed to Graham like the stealthy tread of a beast of prey that might at any moment spring upon its victim. In imagination he saw the inspector's sinister eye traveling—traveling till it reached the tell-tale stain on Evadne's sleeve. He was in agony of doubt as to whether or not, by drawing her arm within his own, he had hidden it. As to himself he could see nothing else but that stain—wet, red, damnatory. It seemed to spread and spread till nothing was wide enough to cover it. And yet he knew, wondering at himself the while, that his determination to shield and serve this woman was unshaken. His brain busied itself feverishly with inventing explanations, or marshaling a score of possible extenuating circumstances to her defense in case—in the inconceivable case—

As they approached the library door Evadne's feet seemed to grow more leaden; he felt her hand close convulsively on his arm.

"Courage," he whispered. "Remember, you can depend on me."

Empty words as they were, they seemed to give the girl confidence, and won for him a look of gratitude which quickened the beat of his heart.

"Will you step forward, Mrs. Hurst, and state whether or not the deceased is your husband?"

At Breitman's command Evadne took a few uncertain steps forward then reached back a groping hand toward Graham. His own closed over it quickly, and, hand in hand, they stood by the dead man's side. The room seemed, for an instant, to hold its breath.

"It is my husband, yes," said Evadne, her voice hardly breaking the silence.

The door, which Flint had closed, suddenly opened.

"Who's this?" inquired Breitman sharply. "I thought Sergeant Bassett reported the house empty."

An elderly man servant, gray-haired and bent, came forward. "I've just come in, sir," he explained. His glance swept the room as he spoke and rested on the gruesome figure at the desk. "For the love of God what has come to the master!" he cried. With the familiarity of an old servant he pushed past Evadne and laid a trembling hand on his master's shoulder. "Mr. Hannibal! Mr. Hannibal!" he called He waited as if for an answer while the clock ticked brazenly, and a coal fell with a heavy thud in the grate. At last he lifted an ashen face: "It's dead he is!" he whispered. Then his voice rose high and shrill. "It's murdered he is!" he wailed.

Inspector Breitman silenced his outcry summarily. "Come, come, my man, none of that!" he said. "Let me have your name."

"It's Denis my name is, Denis Mahar, Mr. Hurst's man, I am. Close on fifty years I've served the family, him and his father before him."

He stood gazing down on the dead man, his hands wrung together, tears dropping slowly down over his withered cheeks.

"To think it's come to this!" he lamented. "My Mr. Hannibal, him as I taught to ride, him as I saw grow up from a boy! 'Twas a hard man he grew into, God rest his soul, but he was always kind to me, and there's been times, I'm thinking, when I was none too easy myself. You'll be after forgiving me, won't you, Mr. Hannibal? You'll be knowing now that I meant right whatever I did."

With facile Celtic emotion, he stooped and kissed the hand which lay outspread upon the table—the gross, merciless hand which had always grasped ruthlessly all that the brain that ruled it coveted.

"We've been master and man for 'most a lifetime," he said, as if in apology, and drew his coat sleeve across his wet eyes. "Fine and fond of him I was, and he hadn't many to be fond of him, poor lad! And there's them as might take shame to themselves for the same," he went on with growing excitement, "them that he's lifted up high and showered benefits on, and that give him now not so much as the grace of a tear!" he cast a malevolent glance at Evadne. "There's them, I say, with joy in their hearts tonight instead of sorrow; them as has been waiting and wishing for this hour."

Evadne flung out her arm with a gesture of command: "Be still!" she cried.

The old man's gaze fastened instantly upon the outstretched arm, and a hoarse cry broke from him. "Look at that! Look at that!" he quavered, pointing a shaking finger at her. "'Tis his blood on her! 'Tis her hand did it, God's curse on her!"

Evadne shrank away from him with a look of horror. "Don't listen to him! He hates me!" she cried.

"If it wasn't you as did it, how comes the blood on your sleeve? Answer that!"

Graham saw Evadne's eyes furtively seek her sleeve. Then he saw them grow wide with horror. She began to speak.

THE GATEWAY

The cowboys of yesterday's glorious West told their time by the sun by day, and at night by the stars.

The cowboys of today's glorious motion picture thrillers tell their time by neatly embossed watches strapped to their wrists by golden chains.

In "Merton of the Movies," the current James Cruze production for Paramount, an episode of the story required three unshaven cowboy bandits to rob the overland stage driven by Glenn Hunter, in the starring role as "Merton."

They started down a narrow lane beneath spreading live oaks, the stage coach careening at a breakneck pace and the bandits thundering behind at the gallop, firing as they came.

The chase ended; the leader of the bandits dismounted, walked to the coach and, extending his hand, growled:

"Give me that there mail sack!"

And at that moment Director Cruze shouted:

"Cut! Stop everything!"

They did it all over again after the leader of the bandits had shamefacedly admitted that he forgot to remove his wrist watch.

"Merton of the Movies" is playing the last times today. Rin-Tin-Tin, the wonder dog in Owen Davis' melodrama sensation, "The Lighthouse by the Sea" will be seen Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the Gateway theater.

DOBINSON PLAYERS

In honor of the new director, Fred J. Butler, whose reputation reaches from coast to coast, many parties are being arranged. Well-known society people as well as prominent professional people of the stage and screen will be in evidence next Monday night at the opening of "Barnum Was Right," the first piece directed by Mr. Butler at the Playhouse.

"Barnum Was Right" is a screaming comedy, a George M. Cohan success, which had a long run at the Frazee theatre in New York. The plot of the play concerns itself with the attempts of a young man to win the hand of the daughter by increasing the value of her father's Long Island estate, through discreet denials of rumors that the place was used as a burial ground for doubloons and pieces-of-eight by the pirates of old. "Barnum Was Right' is a brilliant satire on the mystery plays that are so popular today. If you want to see this play on Monday night, secure your seats at once, as already a large portion of the theatre has been reserved by Los Angeles and Hollywood people.

UNCLE WIGGILY

UNCLE WIGGILY AND PEETIE'S PUTTER

When Mr. Bow Wow, the dog gentleman, returned from a visit to the Big City he brought, as I told you last night, a present each for his little doggies, Jackie and Peetie. Jackie's present was a jigger, and Uncle Wiggily had an adventure with it.

Peetie's present was a putter, but it wasn't the kind of a putter with which you play the game of golf. Peetie's putter was a sort of toy fire engine, and when you wound it up, and put some water in the tank, the toy went "putt, putt, putt, putt" as fast as anything and pumped water out through a little rubber hose.

"I'm having lots of fun with my putter!" barked Peetie as he ran about with the toy engine and squirted water all over the clean oilcloth on the kitchen floor.

"Well, it isn't so much fun for me!" barked Mrs. Bow Wow. "I wish you would go somewhere else to play, Peetie."

So Peetie, being a good little doggie boy (sometimes), went out in the woods to play with his toy fire engine. He filled the tank with water from a spring, and pretending that the trees were on fire, he squirted water at them through the little rubber hose.

But, after awhile, no more water would come out, though the toy kept on putt putting. Peetie looked in the tank and saw that there was plenty of water in it.

"The hose must be stopped up," said Peetie. "I'll take it to Uncle Wiggily. He fixed Jackie's jigger and he can fix my putter."

Emptying the water out of the tank, Peetie ran on through the woods until he reached the hollow stump bungalow.

"Hello! Who's there?" cried the bunny gentleman, as Peetie scratched on the door.

"Will you please fix my putter?" barked the doggie boy and when Uncle Wiggily had looked at the toy and had put some water in the tank, but without any pumping out of the hose, the bunby said:

"It must be stopped up."

"That's what I think," barked Peetie. "How can we unstop it?"

"I'll take the hose off and blow through it," said Uncle Wiggily. "When you used water from the spring some pieces of moss may have gone into the hose to plug it up. But I'll blow it out."

Taking the hose off the putter, Mr. Longears placed one end of the rubber in his mouth, and, puffing out his cheeks, gave a hard blow.

"Look in the end and see if anything is coming out, Peetie," said the rabbit. The doggie boy placed one eye at the opposite end of the rubber hose, but he could see nothing coming out.

"I'll take a long breath and blow again," said Uncle Wiggily. Which he did, still nothing came out, though Peetie looked.

"I'll try once more," said the rabbit gentleman. He took a long breath ready to blow, and Peetie had his eye to the other end of the hose, when, all of a sudden, in popped the Bob Cat through the door the doggie boy had left open.

"What are you looking at?" asked the Bob Cat of Peetie. "Is that a telescope and can you see stars? Here, let me have a look!" He rudely pushed the doggie boy to one side, the Bob Cat did, and stuck his own eye at the end of the hose.

"Plop!" Out shot a big cluster of wet, muddy moss which had stopped up the rubber hose. "Plunk!" it hit the Bob Cat in his eye.

"Oh, scowzie!" howled the bad chap, clapping his paw over his eye. "I saw stars all right that time, and I don't like them, either. I'm going home." And away he ran.

"Well, anyhow, he didn't nibble my ears, and now your putter will pump water," said Uncle Wiggily to Peetie. And surely enough the toy was as good as ever.

But the Bob Cat's eye was sore for a week. And if the umbrella doesn't get lost under the seat in the movies, when it goes to the show with the rubbers, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily being blown away.

CROSS WORD PUZZLE FOR YOUNGSTERS

Running Across

Word 3. A common, tail-less leaping animal that lives on insects.

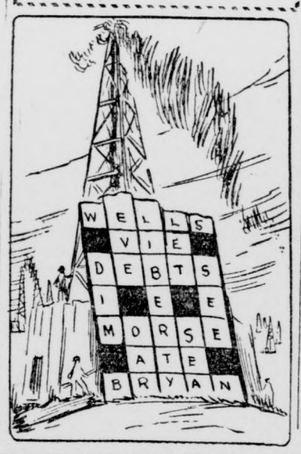
Word 4. A kind of trimming that is used on little girl's clothes.

Running Down

Word 1. A place where travelers find food and rest.

Word 2. A long handled cup-like spoon or dipper.

YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE ANSWERED



WHAT WOMEN WEAR

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—The square-shouldered athletic type of American girl is the joy and delight of the tailor of women's suits, but she is becoming the despair of the designer of the evening frocks of somewhat softer line. That is why many of the neck lines of the newest evening gowns are diagonal, slanting from the peak of one shoulder to the other armpit.

NIGHT COUGH QUICKLY RELIEVED

This is the substance of a letter received from H. W. Webb, Quincy, Ill., "I coughed a great deal, especially at night. Tried almost everything and found nothing to equal FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR COMPOUND One dose relieved my cough and I rested well all night." One of the largest selling cough medicines in the world. Contains no opiates. Safe for children. Insist upon Foley's. Refuse substitutes.

FIGURES QUOTED FOR APARTMENTS

Increasing Urban Population Is Taken Care Of In Majority of Cities

With urban population in the United States, according to the latest census bureau findings, growing twice as fast as rural population, what is happening to the nation's housing habits? Are urban Americans tending to become typically apartment dwellers? Or is the strong movement to the suburbs that is remaking modern cities pouring this population, instead, predominantly into neighborhoods where the automobile and the trolley have made possible a new extension of the way of life represented in the space and privacy of the single family dwelling?

The present time is a balancing point between tendencies, according to a study which has just been made by National Association of Real Estate boards. The study is based on United States Census figures and statistics of the United States department of labor.

Something like 51 per cent of the annual increase in the urban population of the country is being provided for in some form of dwelling other than single family dwelling, study of statistics for 1922-1923 shows. In cities of over 25,000 population, 54 per cent of all new residential construction is some form of multiple family dwelling. For the country as a whole, rural and urban, it is estimated that at least 35.2 per cent over one-third of the annual increase in population find their living quarters in other than single family dwellings.

Shortage Seen

But an additional study, going into the first half of 1924, raises the interesting question as to whether the apparent heavy listing of the urban population of the country toward apartment dwelling has not, however, reached its climax, and been checked. Here for the first time construction records show more detached dwellings than apartments.

The comparison of building statistics with population statistics incidentally indicates that while the rate of construction for apartments and residences during the peak of the present building activity in large cities has been sufficient to take care of the annual increase in population it is not taking care of the matter of replacement. The study finds an indicated replacement shortage in these cities of at least 8 per cent.

The increase in population for the country for 1922-1923 for municipalities of over 8,000 population was 958,526, 68 per cent of the total increase. For the country outside of such municipalities it was 447,104, or only 32 per cent. Estimates of the census bureau show that in 266 cities of over 25,000 population (which includes all but twenty-one such cities in the country) the increase in population was 873,841. This is 91 per cent of all the urban increase for the year, and 62 per cent of the country's total population increase. The study finds that in these cities 211,235 families, or 46 per cent of all provided with new accommodations, were provided with single family dwellings; 248,236 families, or 54 per cent were provided with other than single-family dwellings.

Two-Family Type

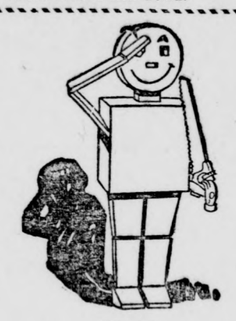
Making the conservative assumption that all of the 447,104 increase in population in rural communities and in cities under 8,000 population is cared for in single-family dwellings, and that in the cities of between 8,000 and 25,000 population, grouped with the twenty-one cities of over 25,000 for which there are no single-family dwellings is half what it is in the 266 cities over 25,000 in population, the study finds not more than 910,890 persons, or 64.8 per cent of the total increase population for the United States provided with single-family dwellings; and at least 494,740 persons, or 35.2 per cent, provided with other than single-family dwellings.

For the first half of 1924 the figures show what appears to be a turn in the trend. Here the average number of families accommodated per structure, instead of rising, as in previous years, goes down in the large cities from 1.86 to 1.75.

An enormous recent increase in popularity is shown in the two-family type of residence. In 68 identical cities of over 100,000 population percentage of families provided with new accommodations who went into this type of house rose from 18.5 to 23.4 in 1924.

Back Again

BILL DING, who tells the folks all they want to know about the plans furnished by BENTLEY LUMBER CO., 460 West Los Feliz road.



"Well, folks, I'm all here, and still a kicking strong. I'd most give up hope a short time back, when the world was com'en to the end, and had it all figured out this here party we were going to have down ter the house some Saturday night was never go'en ter happen.

"But, as all the bugs seems cleared out of the air, about this here world's ending, etc., I think it's about time someone told about the board's end in the Bill Ding Business, cause there ain't know foolin' 'em about a board's end. All boards we manufacture down here at Bentley Lumber Co. have got the same uniform quality all the way through, and that is what makes fine homes for folks that's building.

"Well, fer the folks that's not been acquainted, I'll say I am building a fine little cabin up in the hills to spend the week-ends. This week finds it mostly all completed, a little fixen here and there, and she is ready for the grand opening. Any time anyone thinks of Bill Ding in Glendale, they think of Bentley's, of course, for they get their Bill Ding material and plans and everything down there, so I'll say they can get you a cabin plan fer the mountain as well as plans fer your home."

MONTROSE NOTES

MONTROSE, Feb. 28.—Mrs. David Johnson was re-elected president of the La Crescenta Community church yesterday afternoon at the annual meeting held at her home. Other officers named were: Mrs. Willis Wise, vice-president; Mrs. William Stine, secretary; Mrs. Sam Miles, treasurer; Miss Gertrude Bickell, corresponding and literary secretary.

Letters were read from the Marv Holmes school thanking the local missionary society for gifts of quilts and wearing apparel sent in Christmas boxes. Mrs. F. Buckman of Burbank led the devotional services, and Miss Gertrude Bickel gave a talk on "Chosen in the Orient." Mrs. A. H. Kelso, offered prayers for the Chinese in stricken districts.

Mrs. D. Ewer and Mrs. J. Snyder of Pasadena, formerly of La Crescenta, were visitors at the session yesterday.

Mrs. Johnson was assisted in serving by Mrs. F. Buckman and Mrs. H. Dyke. Mrs. Dyke is the house guest of Mrs. Johnson, spending the winter here. She will return to her home in Cleveland, Ohio, in the spring.

A joint meeting of the boards of directors of the La Crescenta Improvement association and the Montrose Chamber of Commerce was held last evening, to discuss merging the two organizations. Mark S. Collins of the La Crescenta organization declared that "ten times as much could be accomplished by uniting, for the benefit of the entire valley, than each separate body is doing at present." Theodore Belanger of Montrose praised the unselfishness of the men behind the movement and declared it was for the good of all concerned.

James Brown, president of the Montrose chamber, said the growth of the valley demands bigger steps than it is able to take at the present time. W. D. Kemper, president of the La Crescenta Improvement association, told of the various small organizations at present functioning for the different districts, and declared they should be called into the larger organization. Others who urged consolidation were: G. Anawalt, of the Anawalt Lumber Co.; G. L. Mead, of the Mead service station; A. E. Sullivan, manager of the Bettingen Lumber Co.; R. Q. MacDonald, of Highway Highlands; F. Merritt, manager of the Montrose State bank; C. E. Culberson, former president of the La Crescenta Improvement association; D. Ross, of the fire unit, and A. B. Cochran, president of the Montrose Realty board.

OAKMONT RIDING CLUB ORGANIZED

Country Club Stables Turned Into Exclusive Society For Horse Lovers

The Oakmont Saddle stables, organized twenty months ago and now known throughout Southern California, is about to be turned into an exclusive equestrian organization, to be known as the Oakmont Riding club, Mrs. J. R. Thorpe, owner and proprietor, announced today. The stables are located at the corner of Ocean View boulevard and Waltona drive, Montrose, just one-half mile north of the Oakmont Country club.

In making this announcement, Mrs. Thorpe extends an invitation to a limited number of persons to become charter members of the Oakmont Riding club. The membership fee will be small at first, she said, but as soon as the charter roll is filled the fee will be raised. All members of the Oakmont Country club are eligible for membership in the new organization and in addition others who love horses and are enthusiasts over exploring from a saddle the thousands of miles of bridle paths that reach from Monrovia to Beverly Hills in one unbroken line, leading through Glendale and the Verdugo hills.

Inducements Offered

"In short, if you love the great out-of-doors, good horses, healthful exercise and enduring companionships," says Mrs. Thorpe, herself an expert horsewoman, "you will find it all at the Oakmont Riding club, located right at the door of the Oakmont Country club, one of the best of its kind in Southern California. And here, right at the door, are the green, beautiful, intriguing Verdugo hills, lined with inviting bridle paths and containing the most thrilling delights of nature that can be explored to advantage only on horseback."

In connection with this announcement, J. R. Thorpe, husband of Mrs. Thorpe, announces that W. S. Sparr of Sparr Heights has plans ready for extending a new boulevard through from the Oakmont Country club to Brand park, that magnificent 800-acre municipal playground recently given to Glendale by L. C. Brand, one of its most distinguished citizens. This new boulevard will run west from Country Club drive and will have a thirty-foot bridle path in the middle, making it possible to connect up Brand park with the existing system of bridle paths leading from Monrovia to Beverly Hills.

Breakfast Rides

"In addition to the regular rides which members of the Oakmont Riding club will be at liberty to take at all times," Mr. Thorpe explained, "there will be specially conducted breakfast rides, moonlight rides, canyon and mountain trips and also practice rides in a new ring which will be built on property adjoining the Oakmont Country club.

"If a man or a woman loves the winding canyon trails between green hillsides, oaks centuries old, great white-barked sycamores gnarled into fantastic shapes, a path now in the shade of evergreen foliage and now knee-deep in blue meadow grass, a sudden leap, a deer, perhaps, or a mountain lion—in short, if you love the very best that life has to offer in the great unspoiled hills, these things are provided liberally to those who avail themselves of this opportunity to become charter members of the Oakmont Riding club."

Ideal Exercsie

In answer to the oft-raised question, "Why all the equestrian activity of the past few years?" Mr. Thorpe calls attention to a statement recently made by Dr. A. J. Ochsner of Augistana hospital, Chicago:

"There is no other form of exercise that so fully affects every nerve and every organ of the human body as does horseback riding. Nothing will bring out a healthy glow more quickly or more enjoyable than this exercise. Nothing will more promptly put one's organs of digestion and elimination into the way of properly performing their functions than will this exhilarating sport. On horseback one is forced to breathe deeply and this, in the open air, in itself means an enormous advantage to a man who spends his working hours in intensive, concentrated mental activity."

AT LA CRESCENTA

LA CRESCENTA, Feb. 28.—Final plans for the building of fire trails leading to the summit of mountains back of the La Crescenta valley were described to members of the La Crescenta valley unit of the Los Angeles Forest Protective association at the C. P. Waste home yesterday by Captain Arthur Aitken. The preliminary work of trail-building has been completed, and the local organization expressed the hope that the work will be finished before the fire menace increases.

The association holds one dance each month to raise funds to equip the patrol with shovels and badges and to furnish the cabin it is to build on the hills to be used as supply base and lookout.

St. Patrick's day will be celebrated here tonight when the La Crescenta Valley Women's club will hold a green dance at the schoolhouse. Favors to the Irish saint will be distributed and refreshments will carry out the general color scheme of green.

Geoffry Butcher and Paul McCarton were victims of schoolground accidents this week which resulted in broken arms for each boy. Although McCarton's arm was broken in three places, the child sat at his desk for an hour before telling his teacher of the accident.

Mrs. E. Hunt and daughter Ethel have returned from a trip to San Francisco.

Eighty-nine pupils of the La Crescenta school district were inoculated during the past week.

La Crescenta Chamber of Commerce reports there are new members joining every day. The chamber expects to have a membership of about 75 in the near future.

Briggs Terrace avenue is now being graded. Mayfield and Prospect avenues have also been taken care of while county surveyors are working on Altura street and Montrose avenue. It is planned to regrade on the east end of the avenue, which was left in bad condition when the upper north side was paved last fall.

It may yet become fashionable for the much divorced lady to list her six nicest husbands.

One week from today CHEVY CHASE will be advertised THROUGHOUT THE SOUTHLAND. It is the FEATURE EVENT OF 1925.

Here it is—1600 ACRES of Beauty at your very doors—and yet for 15 years it has been closed to the public—barred to the world by iron gates—a private estate with a keeper in charge to guard it from intrusion.

Glendale bounds it on the west, Flintridge is built up to its northern edge—Pasadena is its eastern boundary, and the great growing city of Los Angeles is less than eight miles away—25 minutes' drive over paved boulevards all the way—And yet not one per cent of all the people in these communities have ever been inside this property. It is a hidden domain—BUT NOW THE GATES ARE OPEN WIDE.

The first unit of Chevy Chase goes on sale THIS SUNDAY—a real PRE-OPENING to Glendale people only.

Be there, and be there EARLY.

See the splendid wide paved highway—CHEVY CHASE DRIVE (formerly Sycamore Canyon Road, name changed by the City Council last Thursday) soon to unite Glendale with Flintridge and Pasadena by a direct route. See the First Unit at the GLENDALE GATEWAY—First unit to go on sale, but soon to be backed up by a beautiful residential community 1600 acres in size, with hundreds of shade trees, splendid improvements (now going in), sensible restrictions, a championship golf links—and a through highway of MAJOR importance to bring unbelievable rises in property values.

The story is too long to tell here. These prices speak for themselves—

CHEVY CHASE TO LINK FOUR SOUTHLAND CITIES

REFUTES TAX STATEMENTS IN EAST

Misrepresentations Made On New Law Voted Upon By People Of State

The writer of the following article is manager of the tax department of the central office of the Pacific-Southwest Trust & Savings bank, Los Angeles. He is a resident of Glendale and is thoroughly conversant with tax problems in California. The article was written in response to a number of inquiries from all parts of the United States asking about the new law recently voted upon by the people of California, and which has been misrepresented in eastern papers by stating that the new law provides for the taxing of visitors and tourists.

By CHARLES A. RUDEL
Written for The Evening News

The misrepresentation in the eastern press concerning California tax laws, especially the misrepresentation of a recent law which they claim will tax "visitors and tourists," refers to a constitutional amendment voted by the people at our last general election on November 4.

The amendment, while passed, does not become effective until the present Legislature has passed the bills pending, being Senate bill No. 37 and Assembly bill No. 138, which provide that foreign stocks, bonds and mortgages shall be valued by the assessor at 7 per cent of their full or market value and be subject to the same rates as apply to other personal property.

For illustration, a bond, share of stock or mortgage worth $1000 would be assessed at $70 and if the rate is $3.70 per $100, as was the Los Angeles rate for 1924, the tax would be $2.59, whereas, under the present law the assessment would have been $330, with taxes amounting to $12.21.

The final result, of course, depends upon the passage of these bills, and it is not probable, if the bills are passed, that they will be effective until 1926.

The new law does not provide for any additional personal property nor does it make any changes other than the method of assessment, which is for the purpose of lowering the tax.

The original law taxing personal property in California took effect March 16, 1872, and while amendments have been made from time to time, the principal items provided for assessment remain unchanged.

Personal property in California is divided into two classes: "Tangible," such as jewelry, automobiles, merchandise, household goods, etc., and "intangible," such as stocks, bonds, solvent credits, etc., and the new amendment applies to the latter.

Visitors or tourists are not subject to tax on any personal property such as jewelry, bank accounts, automobiles, stock or bonds.

Forty-six states in the Union have an inheritance tax, while two states, Florida and Alabama, have none.

It has been said that our inheritance tax laws are unfavorable to visitors here, who hold cash, bonds and notes in our banks, in the event of death while temporarily in California.

By a recent ruling, the inheritance tax department of this state now holds that cash in bank, whether the account be a term savings or a checking account belonging to a non-resident dying here, is not taxable. Bonds, likewise, belonging to a non-resident dying here and deposited for safe keeping in the state of California, regardless of whether the security behind the bonds be California property or property located within the bounds of another state, are not subject to taxation. Furthermore, notes belonging to a non-resident dying in California are not taxable.

The only property of a non-resident dying in California taxable under the Inheritance tax law is (1) real property belonging to such non-residents and located in the state of California, and (2) capital stock in a California corporation belonging to such non-residents. Under our inheritance tax laws the widows and minor child are exempt for $24,000 each, other children and husband $10,000 each.

It is being said that Florida, having no state income tax, offers special advantage to those from states now having such taxes.

California does not have, and never has had a state income tax law.

TEXTILE MACHINERY

BOSTON, Feb. 28.—The Saco-Lowell shops, large producers of textile machinery, are reported to have more business booked than at any time in six months, and several additional large orders are under negotiation.

Beautiful Subdivision, Ideal Location, Close to Glendale

DAILY CONTRACT IS MADE BY CONCERN

Coker & Taylor Average New Job Each Working Day Since January 1

Coker & Taylor, plumbers, 209 South Brand boulevard, have averaged one new plumbing contract for each working day since January 1 of this year, reports Edgar Coker. People are fast learning that the lowest bid is not the cheapest in the long run, he states, and home builders are coming to investigate carefully who does the plumbing work on their new homes.

"Plumbing has to stand constant wear, twenty-four hours a day, 365 days a year," said Mr. Coker. "People, therefore, are coming to demand the very best of materials and the most skilled workmanship in this line. This, we are proud to say, we supply.

"Honest builders are anxious to secure the services of good plumbers, who recommend, sell and install dependable plumbing fixtures and use only the best materials throughout. The firm of Coker & Taylor has built up its present reputation on years of superior service."

PIG IRON DULL

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 28.—Local pig iron has been very dull. Some Bessemer has been sold at $22.50. Valley and basic is nominally at $22, and $23 is quoted for foundry. Scrap is quiet and unchanged, while heavy melting steel is off $2.50 from its high of the year.

FARM IMPLIMENTS

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 28.—Demand for farm implements in this section is splendid, F. H. Turner, manager of the local branch of the B. F. Avery & Sons Plow Co., reports purchases for the fall trade exceed those of a year ago.

SMALL PEACH CROPS

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 28.—Only a half crop of peaches is expected in southern Missouri this season because of recent cold weather Apples, grapes, cherries and strawberries were undamaged.

AID ENLISTED TO ADVANCE REALTY

National Body's Growth So Pronounced Assistants Are Necessary

The membership of the National association of Real Estate boards has now grown to include 516 real estate boards of the United States and Canada. It is becoming manifestly impossible for the president of the association and its officers to visit in person during the year more than a fraction of the boards within this membership. It is, however, important that close, personal communication between the national body and its members be established and kept. The enforcement of the realtors' code of ethics, the advancement of our great national program of real estate fact-finding and education, the guarding of the term realtor, the advancement of scientific appraisal work as a step toward public recognition of the professional quality of the realtors' work are objects for which is needed the closest and strongest unification of our forces.

To make this close unification possible the association is this year calling into service more than a hundred men to act as assistants to the vice-presidents in their respective territories.

It will be the function of these assistants to the vice-presidents to visit local real estate boards as personal representatives of the National association. They will bring to the attention of the rank and file of realtor membership the work which the National association is doing and the ideals and policies for the establishment of which it needs their help. The assistants will carry to memberboards help the National association is prepared to give in furthering local board activity.

TOURIST TRAVEL

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 28.—Tourist travel to California is estimated 20 to 30 per cent heavier than for the first two months of 1924. Travel will be still further augmented by the fact that seventy-nine national and regional conventions will be held here, while the large conventions in the state will exceed 150.

OPENING OF ESTATE SET FOR TOMORROW

Large Tract of 1600 Acres, Bounded By Glendale, Flintridge, Los Angeles And Pasadena Put On Market

Probably the most important event in the real estate history of Glendale for many years is today's announcement by Bert Farrar of the pre-opening sale of Chevy Chase for Glendale people only.

For over fifteen years this great 1600-acre estate at the very door of Glendale has been kept under lock and key by its former owner, J. C. Anderson, president of the Pan-American Petroleum Co Large iron gates blocked all entrances to the property and watchmen were constantly on guard. As a result probably less than one per cent of the people in the communities immediately adjoining Chevy Chase have ever been on the property.

Unites Four Cities

The opening of this tract presents not only a great opportunity to the people of Glendale today, but is also of great significance to the entire Southland, as it unites for the first time the four great communities, Glendale on the west, Flintridge on the north, Pasadena on the east, and the great city of Los Angeles on the south.

The development of this tract is to be carried out under the personal supervision of Bert Farrar. The entire community is to be congratulated on this fact, as Mr. Farrar comes to Southern California from Seattle with a record of eighteen years' successful experience, during which time he developed and sold thirty-five separate subdivisions.

Engineer to Help

Chevy Chase, according to Mr. Farrar, is to be his masterpiece and will receive his undivided attention until its development is complete. Every feature necessary to make Chevy Chase the show place of the Southland will be incorporated under the plans proposed by Mr. Farrar. Franz Herding, noted Swiss city planning engineer, will work with Mr. Farrar on development.

The construction of Chevy Chase Drive directly through the property to Flintridge and Pasadena will be of the utmost importance to the three communities thus linked and will provide Chevy Chase with a through boulevard destined to carry all the traffic between Los Angeles on the south and west and Flintridge and Altadena, La Canada and north Pasadena. This boulevard is already paved for nearly a mile into the property and will be completed during the coming summer.

Change Road's Name

In view of the great importance of Chevy Chase Drive as a major traffic artery, the City Council of Glendale last Thursday changed the name of Sycamore Canyon road to correspond to the rest of this boulevard. The ultimate plans of the Glendale City Planning commission contemplate the extension of Chevy Chase Drive directly across the southern end of Glendale to Griffith park.

One of the outstanding features of the development of Chevy Chase will be the construction of the championship length nine-hole golf links in the center of the property. A fully-equipped clubhouse will also be erected. Membership in the golf and country club will be open to all Chevy Chase lot buyers at a nominal fee, while a much larger sum will be charged to outsiders. For over a year Billy Bell, the noted Los Angeles golf architect, has been working on the layout of these links and experts predict that it will become one of the leading courses of the Southland.

Extensive bridle trails have already been installed on much of the higher portions of Chevy Chase adjoining the established bridle paths of Montrose, Flintridge and Pasadena. Every possible facility for the ideal outdoor life of California will be available here.

Opening Sale

Special importance is attached to tomorrow's opening sale of the first unit, as buyers here at this time will receive the advantage of the very low opening prices, backed up by the assurance of an intensive development of 1600 acres beyond them. Without doubt, according to experts, these first unit lots will be the greatest profit-makers in the property as well as delightful homesites, close to the business center, schools, churches and other municipal advantages of Glendale.

Water, gas, electricity and telephones have already been carried through to the first unit where street work is now rapidly progressing. All improvements are included in the purchase price.

Those who judged men by their clothes are all dead now. They were foolish enough to judge hootch by the label.

BANK CLEARINGS SHOW BIG TRADE

12th Federal Reserve Unit Debits Indicate Jump In All Business

Debits to individul accounts (bank debits) at banks in twenty clearing-house centers in the twelfth federal reserve district afford an approximate measure of the total volume of business activity in the district. These figures, corrected for usual seasonal variation, were 3.4 per cent larger during January than in December, 1924, and 5.0 per cent larger than in January, 1924. The latter increase is approximately equal to the estimated annual growth of business and trade in this district.

Comparative stability marked the industrial situation during the month, and there was little change in the volume of employment. Present employment figures are slightly smaller than a year ago, but there have been no reports of serious unemployment conditions during the winter. During January, the lumber mills of the district increased production from the unusually low levels of December. Stocks of lumber held by reporting mills on January 31, 1925, were smaller than one year ago. Unfilled orders on the books of these mills at the close of January, 1925, were 15.9 per cent smaller than at the close of January, 1924.

Mining Activity

Mining activity continued during January at the relatively high levels of recent previous months and metal markets were seasonally active. Petroleum production in California was slightly less during January than in December, 1924. Decrease of production was accompanied by a seasonal decline of consumption during the latter month which resulted in a further increase of 2,291,942 barrels in stored stocks, now aggregating 100,121,316 barrels.

Flour millers of the district produced and sold less flour during January than in December, 1924. The decline in volume of sales was greater than in production, and millers' stocks of flour increased slightly during the month. In twenty cities of the district there was a decline of $1,765,000 in value of building permits issued during January, 1925, as compared with January, 1924, 13 of the reporting cities showing increases and 7 decreases.

Irregularities

Irregularities in trade persisted. Of the 11 lines of wholesale business for which figures were compiled by this bank, 7 showed decreases in value of sales during January, 1925, as compared with January, 1924, the decreases being smaller, however, than were similar declines reported for December, 1924, compared with December, 1923. Trade at retail, as represented by sales of 36 department stores in principal cities of the district, declined by about the usual seasonal amount from December to January, and was smaller in the latter month than in January a year ago. The volume of retailers' outstanding orders was approximately 2.6 per cent greater in January, 1925, than in January, 1924.

The price level at the end of January was approximately 10 per cent above the low point of June, 1924, and 6 per cent higher than in January, 1924, according to the wholesale price index number of the United States Department of Labor.

During the closing months of 1924, prices of farm products as a group attained an approximate parity with their 1913 relationship to prices of other commodity groups, a position maintained during January. On January 30, 1925, wheat for May delivery on the Chicago market was quoted at $2.04 per bushel, the highest price paid since January, 1920.

Further slow increase in the volume of credit advanced by member banks of the district was reported during the month, and a slight growth in borrowing from the Federal reserve bank was noted. Interest rates charged by banks in leading cities tended slightly upward.

If the brain leaves considerable parking space inside the skull, the germ of swellhead will find it sooner or later.

Typical California Mission Type Bungalow

A Very Cleverly Designed Bungalow

The one-story house has many advantages to commend it, and especially in small families it provides the maximum of comfort and convenience.

The elimination of stairs to climb finds favor at once with the housewife, and her work of superintending the household can be done with ease and expedition when there is only one floor to look after.

The advantages of the modern apartment has made its appeal to thousands of city dwellers merely by the reason of the location of an entire suite of rooms on one floor. The private house that competes successfully with the apartment or flat building will be looked upon with great favor if it is compactly arranged in one story.

The one story brick house has much to commend it to the small family desirous of enjoying the pleasure of owning their own home, yet anxious to escape the arduous burden of caring for a large, cumbersome domicile.

The exterior, which can be provided with similar effectiveness in stucco or hollow tile or metal lath, presents a highly attractive appearance, with a roof of many colored shingles laid in irregular lines. The cozy entrance and the broad porch to the side make an interesting exterior.

One enters the house through a small vestibule decorated in molded plaster or tile. The entrance door has a curved head and is constructed of solid timbers, giving the impression of safety and stability. Off the vestibule is a coat closet for the convenience of the person entering.

The vestibule leads into the living room, which is of roomy proportions. A feature of this room is the curved ceiling, and a large, open fireplace does much to lend an air of distinction. French doors lead to the porch at the left, which can be enclosed to form a sun parlor.

Off the living room is a dining alcove which takes the place of the dining room. The success of the kitchenette arrangement and the combination of living room and dining room, which almost has grown to the proportions of a fad, has convinced the modern home owner of dispensing with a dining room.

Where the family is large, of course, there is a very valid reason for a dining room, and where frequent and formal entertaining is done it is indispensable. But with the rapidity and general informality of present-day American domestic life, it appears that the dining room is destined to eventually disappear from the home of the average family.

In this house the dining room is not completely abandoned. A separate room for the serving of meals is provided, but the room is little more than an alcove—sufficient to accommodate four or five people comfortably, and making no pretense of being anything more than a jolly place to have a bite.

A well-equipped kitchen opens directly from the dining alcove, and therefore but few steps are required for the matron of the house in taking care of the kitchen duties.

Two bedrooms are provided for by the plans, roomy and well arranged, with a tile bath that communicates with a small hallway, in which a linen closet is provided.

Aside from the material comforts that assure the owner of this house a atisfactory home, there are special ornamental features that help to make it distinctive. The thatch-roof effect of the shingles over the front door blends harmoniously with the entire exterior scheme.

The floor-pot cut-outs in the shutters have a useful as well as an ornamental purpose and the ornamental lantern at the entrance and the iron cat sitting placidly over the window in the brick gable add just enough of the unusual to be attractive, but not freakish.

How to Make the Home Look New

When a new season begins, every home-maker is consumed with a great desire to make a complete change in the decorative scheme of her home. This is not practical, of course, but there are many ways of artfully touching up old rooms to give them a new air.

In the Springtime, for instance, what could achieve a more delightful, light-hearted atmosphere than new Draperies for every room? Colorful gay chintzes or light colored sheer drapery materials will allow plenty of sunlight to drift in and give an old setting a new aspect.

Come in Monday or phone us. We are always glad to assist you in every way. There's no obligation.

Firm Announces Change of Policy

J. H. Rohr, manager of Layrite Hardwood Floors, 237 South Verdugo road, states that within thirty days his workmen will all be put on a co-operative basis, each man receiving a percentage of the profits of the firm. Mr. Rohr states that he has been working toward this step for the past two years, selecting the workmen with care and weeding out the less efficient, and now feels that his company is ready for the desired change.

This will result in increased efficiency and more conscientious effort on the part of the workers, according to Mr. Rohr, because each man will be vitally interested in the reputation and standing of the organization, which he represents. The following represents the personnel of the concern: R. O. Hopkins, J. M. Dorr, Louie A. Kronenberg, Wm. Wornholz, W. J. Eden, V. H. Wynigear, J. H. Keen, W. J. Little, Tom Fields, Elmer Fields, W. R. Farr, Harry Hugo, Dewy Stoops, E. R. Clanch.

The Layrite Hardwood Floors had its inception in January, 1923. The volume of the concern has been built up to such an extent that the quality of the material used is much higher and the cost is correspondingly lower than it was two years ago, says Mr. Rohr.

PROPER HEATING MOST ESSENTIAL

Expert Tells Of Home Heating And Its Importance

By F. R. BRUNER

Of the Jewel City Plumbing Co.

In the planning of a home the same careful consideration should be given the selection of a proper and healthful means of heating as are given the other important features of the building. Nothing can add more real comfort and happiness to the home than proper heating, while thoughtlessness, on the other hand, may easily bring tragedy and sorrow.

Great care should be exercised in avoiding the cheap, portable, open-flame heater, for which great claims are made by irresponsible dealers and manufacturers.

In fact, there is no type of open-flame heaters that should be used, for even though the heater be vented to the outside and considered odorless, nevertheless the flame will rob the air in the room of oxygen and thereby create an unhealthy condition.

The home-builder may be protected from this unsatisfactory experience by first selecting a furnace that is best suited to the type of fuel he intends to burn, purchasing the furnace from a dealer with a known reputation for satisfactory dealing and who is, or has connected with him, an engineer of knowledge and ability in the heating line.

In selecting a proper method of heating, the cost of fuel and maintenance should not be overlooked in considering the first cost of the plant, as an apparatus of efficient type, properly installed, will, within a comparatively short time, save the total first cost of the plant in the saving effected over a cheap and inefficient one, and will also carry with it the comfort and satisfaction that every owner hopes to attain, regardless of the type or cost of plant purchased.

Warm air heating systems are conceded to be healthful and generally desirable when properly installed, and from the standpoint of first cost are the logical method for the medium-priced home.

Here in Southern California, where we have natural gas at a low price, the conditions are ideal for the use of gas for heating purposes.

The use of gas has grown by leaps and bounds during the past few years and people are becoming educated to the fact that the heat given by a properly designed and properly installed gas furnace fills every requirement as to convenience, economy, cleanliness, safety and a pure healthful heat.

Doctors now realize and are recommending the use of the gas floor furnace for home heating, as it affords a very economical and efficient heating system that provides a steady, even temperature that eliminates all hazards to life and health.

The gas floor furnace can be easily installed in any old or new home, as a basement is not required. The furnace fits in the floor in a central location and is controlled and lighted from the register over it, the better furnaces being equipped with a pilot light, which is a Godsend to the housewife, as it eliminates the use of matches for lighting and adds to convenience, as it is simply a matter of having heat with the turn of a key.

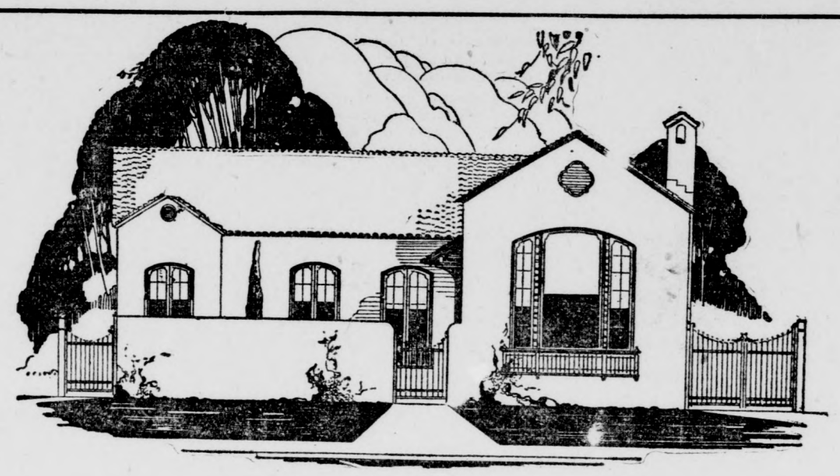
In the floor furnace type of heating the gas is burned in a sealed chamber that is entirely separate from the air chamber and all fumes and gases are carried to the outside by a special vent pipe. So there is no more chance to get gas fumes in the house than there is of mixing the water warmed in a gas heater with the gas that warms it.

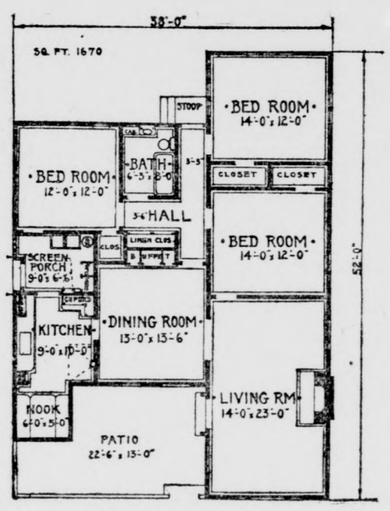
It is also true that no oxygen is taken from the air in the rooms, as the combustion chamber is located under the floor and takes all oxygen needed from under the house.

A scientifically made and properly installed warm air floor furnace will heat a five or six-room house very efficiently and will prove a source of comfort at the least possible expense for fuel and upkeep.

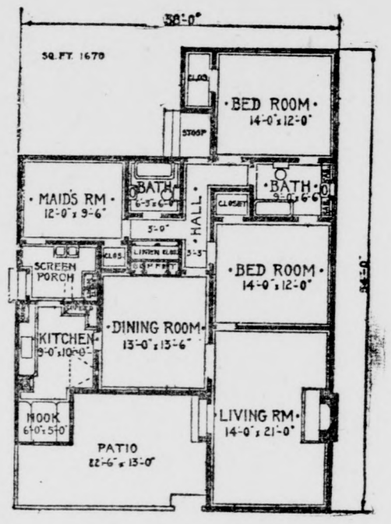
Too much stress cannot be laid upon the importance of providing for proper heating arrangements at the time your building is under construction. California homes do not require the heavy eastern type of furnace, but the foggy mornings and chilly afternoons absolately demand some kind of standardized heating.

Whether you are building your own home or a house to rent, you will save money by having your flues put in before the house is finished.





FLOOR PLAN NO. 1910



FLOOR PLAN NO. 1911

Owning your own home fulfills one of the greatest joys in the world. Your family will never be so happy as when they move into a home that is really theirs.

Makes no difference what your salary is, if you acquire within your means you can own a comfortable, convenient home.

Throughout the nation the spirit of homebuilding is spreading rapidly. It is encouraged by the government and every patriotic citizen, because it means genuine contentment for everybody. Now is the logical time for you to decide that you will give your family a home they can call their own. It will represent the greatest of gifts to them. Do you remember the promises you made your sweetheart? You both had great hopes then, but have allowed other interests to attract your surplus earnings. Revive those old planning days, incorporate with them a fixed determination to make home ownership a reality.

All around you are evidences of success—homes made possible by others who inwardly have no more love for their families than you have, with no better positions than yours, with no more ability for conserving than you have. They simply made up their minds to acquire a home and then converted efforts and savings toward that end. No man can really feel that he has succeeded until he can boast of home ownership.

The exterior is of stucco over metal or wood lath composition materials, tile or brick, and will permit of color schemes to meet individual tastes.

The alternative floor plans convey a combination of arrangements which should make it easy for home builders to adopt one of them in meeting requirements.

In congressional districts where the majority is a little radical, politics makes strange red fellows.

A country where fool drivers keep the population thinned out has no right to scold Ireland for an occasional killing.

LOWER TAXES IN CITY ARE URGED

Fact-Finding Body, Advisory Board To Be Formed On Next Monday Night

Editor, The Evening News:—That a growing city should need increased taxes goes without saying, and every property owner is willing to pay an equitable tax.

The increased income necessary to the administration of a growing city should come mostly from the improvement of vacant properties and from additional improvements on already improved property, while but a small increase should be levied upon other property. To be sure, if it can be shown that a property is undervalued, or that our tax rate is too low, then a reasonable increase of taxes is fair.

But an increase within one year of from 1 to 200 per cent in taxes on a purely residence property is not equitable, is not just, and is altogether unnecessary. No successful business man would permit such sudden and unreasonable increase in overhead expenses as would call for so violent a raid upon his resources.

Control Expenditures

To sanction expenditures beyond the ability of a community to pay on the basis of a fair and equitable rate of taxation is evidence of municipal extravagance.

Public expenditures should be kept within the limits of the public credit. Because we have the power to make unreasonable raids on our taxpayers is no justification for such a procedure.

It used to be that Californians could boast of more reasonable taxes than were inflicted on our eastern friends. But those days are past.

Governor Richardson is seeking to bring us back to economic sense, and President Coolidge is striving to awaken us to the importance of national frugality. If greater economy is important in the administration of state and national affairs, it is equally so in matters municipal.

Meeting Planned

To canvass such questions and find answers thereto is the business of every taxpayer. No small group of men, such as a city council, however wise, has the required breadth of view to administer wisely and unaided large municipal affairs.

The advice and counsel of some widely representative body which can view taxes and expenditures from a city-wide concept, is needed in every city to aid and assist our public officials.

To organize such an advisory board is the purpose of the meeting called for Monday at 8 o'clock, at the Wilson Intermediate school. We urge representation at this meeting from every social, civic and religious organization, that the entire city may have a voice in the organization of the proposed fact-finding body and advisory board.

H. V. ADAMS,
Chairman Municipal Affairs Committee of Republican Club.

Woman Is Found Dead As Son Comes Home

Mrs. Eliza S. Rohde of 822 South Verdugo road, aged 67 years, was found dead in her chair in the dining-room, at 6 o'clock last night, Friday, February 27, 1925, by her son, C. H. Rohde, on his return from work in Los Angeles. Before her on the table was a half empty cup of coffee. A book printed in German was beside her.

Dr. T. C. Young was notified and, on his arrival, pronounced the woman dead. The body was taken to Riedeman Brothers' funeral parlors, Los Angeles. The county coroner was notified and an inquest may be held, it is learned from Glendale police headquarters.

Mrs. Rohde had been planning to return in May to Preetz, Germany, where she was born. She had secured a passport and had made all preparations for the trip, according to her son, C. H. Rohde. Another son, William Rohde, was notified.

Friday Bridge Club Members Hold Meet

Form Evans for Congress Club

all, that these same men and women, after knowing me all these years are my loyal backers for the great honor which you ladies and gentlemen wish to place upon me.

To Support Choice

"I will accept this endorsement, with certain conditions. If I am the choice of the Republicans of my home city, Glendale, and of those loyal to the party in the San Fernando valley, as it seems to be probable, then I will consent to my name being placed at the ninth district conference. If at that conference the Republicans of the entire district are agreed that I shall be the nominee, I will do everything in my power to be elected.

"If, however, the Republican conference shall decide upon some other candidate to represent the ninth district, then I shall give him or her my most sincere and hearty support.

"There is a general feeling throughout the district that Glendale and the cities of this valley are entitled to recognition in the next congressional race. Republican leaders everywhere, I believe realize the growth in population, business and industry which has taken place in the past few years. For this reason and because this valley has played a regular and unselfish part in electing candidates from other parts of the district in campaigns in the past, the party leaders of the ninth district seem ready and willing to honor Glendale and the San Fernando valley.

"Therefore, if I am your choice, I feel sure that other sections in the district will recognize us. However, as I have already stated, should the Republican conference decide upon some other candidate for the Republican nomination, I pledge him or her my full support."

Expresses Thanks

In conclusion, Mr. Evans thanked those who had been responsible for bringing forth his name and for the many offers of support he has received in Glendale, in the valley and throughout the ninth district.

Mr. Evans paid a fine tribute to the work of President Coolidge and declared that, if elected to Congress, he would support the president in his program of efficiency and economy.

The meeting of Evans' enthusiasts was called to order by Judge Frank H. Lowe a little before 8 o'clock. Judge Lowe was elected temporary chairman and appointed Percy J. Hayselden temporary secretary.

In accepting the chair temporarily, Judge Lowe said that it was the most distinguished body of men and women over which he had ever presided. Following his opening remarks in which he declared it was the duty of fellow townsmen of Mr. Evans to rise up and show other cities of the district that Glendale is solidly behind their proposed candidate, a committee on permanent organization and order of business was named and retired to an ante-room to prepare a report. This committee, named by Judge Lowe consisted of John Robert White, chairman; Albert P. Pearce, A. T. Cowan, Colonel John D. Fraser, G. E. Wende, Mrs. E. W. W. Hayward A. L. Baird, S. C. Packer, Mrs. Mabel L. Tight and Charles A. Rudel.

Committee Report

The report of the committee which was unanimously adopted follows:

"The name of the organization shall be, 'Evans for Congress Club.'

"The purpose of the organization, as the name indicates, shall be the advancement of the candidacy of W. E. Evans of Glendale as a member of the House of Representatives from the ninth district of California at the next congressional election.

"To carry out the purpose of this club we propose:

"First: To secure from all Republicans throughout the ninth congressional district the endorsement of W. E. Evans as a candidate for Congress.

"Second: To present the name of W. E. Evans for consideration and endorsement at the usual conference of Republicans of the ninth congressional district held prior to the primary election.

"Third: This club will actively support the nominee of that conference at the primary election.

"Fourth: After the Republican nomination is made at the primary, this club will function through and under the regular Republican state, congressional and county committees in securing the final election of the nominee whom we confidently hope will be our fellow citizen, W. E. Evans.

"The officers of the organization shall be president, first vice-president, second vice-president, secretary, treasurer, chairman of executive committee.

"The executive committee shall be appointed by the president and shall consist of eleven members in addition to the six officers named above. The executive committee shall have power to add to the list of officers, to appoint all committees and make any change herein desired. The following are recommended as your permanent officers:

"President, C. D. Lusby.

"First vice-president, Mrs. Ella W. Richardson.

"Second vice-president, F. H. Vesper.

"Secretary, J. C. Sherer.

"Treasurer, Delos H. Smith.

"Chairman of executive committee, H. M. Butts."

Escorted to Meeting

It was while the report on permanent organization was being drawn up that a special committee was appointed by Judge Lowe to go to the home of Mr. Evans and invite him to come to the meeting. Just as the report was adopted this committee, composed of Judge Harry W. Chase, E. U. Emory and D. J. Hanna, escorted Mr. Evans into the hall. There was a wild burst of applause.

Though there were no formal speeches, a number of leading Republicans who attended the meeting talked informally, supporting the proposed candidacy of Mr. Evans. Chief among those who spoke was Charles H. Toll, termed by Judge Lowe, a "bulwark of the Republican party in the southwest."

"In contemplating a candidate for a position such as this," Mr. Toll said, "we first must look to availability. There is no greater factor than availability in determining the popularity and ultimate election of a candidate. In this regard Mr. Evans, our fellow townsmen stands 100 per cent.

Best Candidate

"Mr. Evans has been active in the ninth congressional district for many years and in this contact has made a host of warm friends, all of whom have the highest regard for him and believe him admirable timber for the congressional nomination. There is no other man in the district who possesses such strength in the factor of availability.

"It is a wonderful opportunity for Glendale to have one of her sons in Congress. It will 'put Glendale on the map' in a much bigger way than she has ever been before."

Mr. Toll urged all to join in the endorsement of Mr. Evans at this time saying: "It would be the height of folly to miss this chance to nominate and elect our own candidate to Congress and we can impair his chances in no greater way than by a division in our ranks at this time. A strong element of uninimity at the outset will be our surest weapon of success.

Must Start Now

"It is early but not too early to start working for Mr. Evans, to show that we are behind him and to show that we are anxious, too, for other cities of the district to know we are behind him and approve of him as a citizen and a neighbor and are working for his election.

"In placing the name of Mr. Evans at the district conference we will depend on the Republican leaders of the entire district to remain loyal to us and throw their support to our candidate. If we are right in this judgment, favorite sons of other communities will soon be discouraged. Only an active support of Mr. Evans here at home can induce leaders in other cities to take up his cause in an active manner, however."

In conclusion Mr. Toll urged the citizens of Glendale to use their every influence in a quiet campaign from this date forward for the nomination and election of Mr. Evans.

Entitled to Nominee

W. A. Blanchard, prominent Republican and leader of the party in Burbank and the upper valley was the second speaker. He said he had known Mr. Evans for eight years and held him in the highest regard for his unusually good judgment and dependability.

"The valley is entitled to the next representative from this district," Mr. Blanchard said, "and the valley is solidly behind Mr. Evans as its candidate.

"There is one wonderful feeling in the political world, the feeling that you don't have to apologize for your candidate. We don't have to apologize or give excuses for Mr. Evans, for the whole valley will be proud of him as a candidate!"

A. R. Kilgore said it was a pleasure and a privilege to speak in behalf of the candidacy of Mr. Evans, when he was called upon by Judge Lowe.

"Mr. Evans has the esteem of all those who know him, he merits the esteem of everyone in this city and the recognition of Southern California generally," he said.

Business Man

Robert L. McCourt dwelt on what he termed Mr. Evans' rarest quality.

"He is more than a lawyer, he is a sound business man as well," the speaker declared. "We are looking for business men nowadays, and in Mr. Evans we have a shining example whom we will do well to elect where business men are needed so badly."

The outstanding self-sacrifice of Mr. Evans in party affairs and his ever willingness to put self in the background for the good of Republicanism was brought out most vividly by Mr. McCourt.

"His action at the Pasadena conference when, after a deadlock between Montaville Flowers, Congressman Lineberger and Mr. Evans had threatened to wreck the harmony of the party, he withdrew his name from the list of proposed candidates, bespeaks the character of the man probably better than anything else," Mr. McCourt said.

Praise From Mr. Lusby

After Mr. Lusby had been elected permanent chairman of the club and was escorted to the chair by Mr. White and Mr. Pearson, the former spoke briefly on the proposed candidacy of Mr. Evans also.

"For fourteen years I have known Mr. Evans and have been associated with him in business affairs. Never have I met a finer gentleman, he is a prince among men, we can and will elect him.

"With Mr. Evans in Congress we shall have a representative who we will know where to find in Washington and who we know will stand four square for the Republican party and back the Coolidge administration to the last degree.

In conclusion Mr. Lusk urged citizens of Glendale to "roll up their sleeves and get to work and elect Mr. Evans."

Greet Club Officers

New officers of the club were escorted to the front of the hall before the meeting adjourned. Each spoke briefly.

Mrs. Richardson said she had known Mr. Evans for many years and that to her knowledge he had "never been found wanting." Republicanism is next to religion, she said and that in electing Mr. Evans the district was advancing the cause of Republicanism.

Mr. Vesper told of employing Mr. Evans as the attorney for his bank when the latter first came to Glendale.

"Young Mr. Evans was thoroughly reliable and could always be depended upon to to the right thing at the right time," he said.

H. M. Butts declared Mr. Evans is "a man who SHOULD be in Congress." This remark brought forth a storm of applause. "Just imagine how much better this country would be if every congressional district had a man of the quality and calibre of Mr. Evans to send to Congress."

J. C. Sherer was prevented from attending last night's meeting because of illness.

Good Men Need

A. T. Cowan, publisher of The Glendale Evening News, was called upon by Chairman Lusby.

"My delight is in supporting good men for offices where good men are needed," Mr. Cowan said. "There are plenty of men of little or no worth out for offices, but good men are scarce. It, therefore, behooves us to see that a good man is elected. We are taking no chances in placing the name of Mr. Evans. He has always shown himself to be a straight-forward, honest citizen of rare intelligence and I take pleasure in the promotion of his candidacy."

John Robert White in his closing remarks spoke again of the self-sacrifice of Mr. Evans in party affairs.

"Let us place honor where honor is due," he urged.

Leaders Recognize Merits

R. P. Benton, for four terms state assemblyman from the Boyle Heights district and a member of the executive board of the ninth congressional district committee also spoke in behalf of Mr. Evans. He too alluded to the self-sacrificing spirit of the Glendale man in placing Republicanism before his personal advancement. Leaders throughout the entire district recognize the merits of Mr. Evans as a candidate and will undoubtedly support him, Mr. Benton said.

Grove Ketchum of Burbank predicted that the valley as a whole would stand solidly behind Mr. Evans. He said that a survey of the territory has already determined that point.

Before the meeting adjourned, Chairman Lusby announced that he would appoint members of the executive committee later. Their names will be printed in The Glendale Evening News.

Pasadena Woman Hurt When Trucks Collide

Mrs. Michael Ybarra of Pasadena was thrown through the windshield of a truck driven by her husband, and seriously injured, in an accident last night on San Fernando road, when another truck crashed head-on into them. The impact wrecked the truck driven by Ybarra, he reported to the Glendale police, but the driver of the other truck backed off and made its getaway without rendering assistance. It was a yellow truck, north bound, Ybarra told the police.

J. J. Scott of 360 West Honolulu avenue, Verdugo City, was slightly injured last night at Harvard and Jackson streets, when his car turned over, following a crash with another car. Mrs. Scott was also injured, he reported. No report by the driver of the other car has been made.

George Cleveland Is Injured In Accident

George Cleveland, 212 West Windsor road, was taken to the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital today for treatment of a scalp wound received in a motorcycle accident at Colorado street and Brand boulevard. Cleveland will be able to leave the hospital this afternoon, attending physicians report.

Possible Successor

The nation, although deeply shocked because of the death of President Ebert, speculated this afternoon on the identity of his possible successor.

Chancellor Luther is acting president. How long he will continue in that post is uncertain, for both Republicans and Nationalist forces had begun to press for action by the Reichstag just as soon as it became apparent that President Ebert's illness was likely to incapacitate him for a long time.

The Weimar constitution provides that in the event of a president's continued disability the Reichstag shall designate a "presidential representative who shall serve until the president either resumes his duties or a new election is held."

Message by Coolidge

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—President Coolidge this afternoon sent the following message of condolence to Germany on the death of President Ebert:

Chancellor of Germany, Berlin.

"His Excellency, Hans Luther,

"I have learned with very great regret of the death of President Ebert and desire to extend my profound sympathy and that of the government and people of the United States to the government and people of Germany in the loss they have sustained and to the family of the late president, Mrs. Coolidge's and my sincere condolence.

Owner of Seized Car Is Arrested In L. A.

Otto L. Sanford, whose car was confiscated last Sunday when it was discovered on South San Fernando road loaded with liquor, was arrested last night in Los Angeles by Detective Sergeant F. C. Williams, after a three-day hunt. The man was brought to Glendale police headquarters and was later released on putting up a $1500 bond. He will appear Tuesday, March 3, before Judge Frank H. Lowe of the Glendale police court for arraignment.

R. O. Weaver, arrested yesterday in San Diego, was delivered over to the Glendale police today, charged with passing a bad check in payment for a car bought from J. V. Hough, local Chevrolet dealer. His preliminary hearing before Judge Lowe was set for March 17 and his bail was fixed at $2000. On failure to raise this sum he was taken to the Los Angeles county jail.

Burglars Get Big Meat Haul From Sam Seelig

The Sam Seelig market at West Broadway and Pacific avenue was broken into last night and $500 worth of meats, mostly hams, taken. C. W. Frye, proprietor, discovered the robbery when he opened the store this morning and immediately reported the case to the Glendale police department. Sergeant C. P. Blake investigated and found that entrance had been gained by jimmying the rear door. No clews were left.

Mrs. J. Cole of 1131 North Geneva street reported that her home was broken into last night and several articles of clothing stolen. Mrs. Mattison B. Jones of 727 Kenneth road reported someone in her house last night. The police investigated but found no one.

Navy Chief Answers Criticism Of Service

didn't you tell Mitchell if he didn't stop you'd order him away?" asked Representative Prall, Democrat of New York.

"No, I didn't," snapped Weeks. "The president couldn't make him resign, and neither could I."

Under close examining by Prall, Weeks admitted that of the total war department appropriation cut ordered by the budget bureau, more than one-third was taken from the air service.

The war department originally asked for $280,000,000, Weeks said. This was cut to $259,000,000 by the budget, a reduction of $21,000,000. The air service asked for $26,500,000 and received $17,000,000.

"Congress appropriated 64 per cent of the amount requested by the chief of air service," Weeks said. "Ordnance got only 52 per cent. Of the total cut of $21,000,000, $15,500,000 was taken from the air service and ordnance.

Aircraft Insufficient

"The general staff did not interfere in any way with the final appropriation for air service," concluded Weeks.

"Has the air service sufficient aircraft?" asked Prall.

"No, and I approved the Lasiter report for spending $25,000,000 yearly for ten years for air service development," said Weeks. "If, right after the war, we had expended large amounts of money for construction, we would have airplanes not considered standard type, and I would have been criticized for that."

Commenting on the statement of Major-General Mason M. Patrick, chief of air service, that with the construction of 265 new planes during the next two years, America would not be surpassed in aviation for four or five years, Weeks said.

"I think General Patrick is a bit optimistic. We can't tell what new types of airplanes will be developed by other nations. I think that under the circumstances we have done pretty well by aviation."

Weeks criticised Congress for limiting funds for experimental work in aviation.

In one particular we are not behind other nations in preparedness. We have a fine big pension office.

EXCUSES OF TODAY HIT BY EVANGELIST

BROWN PROGRAM
Saturday night, 7:30, "What Shall I Do To Be Saved?"
Sunday, no morning service at the tabernacle.
Sunday afternoon, 2:30, "Slime Pits," men only.
Sunday afternoon, 2:30, Mrs. Loren Jones will speak to women at the First Methodist church.
Sunday night, 7:30, "Where Satan Sows His Seed."

"Excuse-making is the commonest of sins and the blackest of black sins," John Brown, evangelist, told his large audience last night at the Union tabernacle on Kenwood street, in speaking on some of the excuses of the modern day. Mr. Brown spoke from the text: "Why sit we here until we die?" taken from the third verse of the seventh chapter of II Kings.

"An excuse is nothing more than a lie in the face of infinite love," the evangelist shouted. "He who becomes gripped and dominated by this habit eventually becomes a failure. I wish I could flash the light of the judgment on these flimsy, flamsy excuses and show men and women the road on which they are traveling.

"Scores, yes, hundreds of people, give as their excuse for not coming into the church, 'there are hypocrites there.' This is the weak excuse they make. One out of a hundred of those who stay out of the church do so on those grounds.

"You have hypocrites in your lodges. For every hypocrite you show me in the churches, I will show you two or three in the lodge and club. The lodge pin shields them.

"People, I would rather get into the church and live with the hypocrites there for a few years, than to die and go to hell and live with them forever. And there are thousands going to hell because they stay out on that excuse. In my opinion that is the poorest excuse."

He took occasion to flay the long-faced Christian and placed a certain amount of responsibility upon him for keeping men out of the church and encouraging excuse making.

"Everybody has a certain amount of influence," he said, "and it is up to him whether he uses it for good or for evil. Those who profess Christ are using their influence in the right direction, while the good man outside the church, sometimes without realizing it, is using his against the things for which he stands."

USING FLOUNCE

PARIS, Feb. 28.—Shall we flounce? We shall, both on skirts and on sleeves. The lower part of the new sleeves frequently duplicate in lace the flounces applied to give fullness to skirts. A new afternoon frock worn today is distinguished by cream lace flounces which are duplicated in small proportions to the tight sleeves from the elbow down.

Servant Girl In England

Just to get a "thrill," MISS MARTHA PREWITT, daughter of David Prewitt of Lexington, Ky., one of the wealthiest landholders in the state, became an "h'extra" girl in the London town house of Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Price. Now she is regaling her London friends with her experiences.

CAR DEALERS PLAN RADIO PROGRAM

Famous Artists To Appear On KHJ Monday Night, Boost Auto Show

Radioland will hear all about the first automobile show to be staged in Glendale by The Glendale Motor Car Dealers' association, starting March 7, when a special radio program will be presented over KHJ, the Times, on Monday night, March 2, from 7 to 8 o'clock.

The motor car dealers will have some interesting announcements to make relative to the auto show, and according to advance information, it behooves all radio fans to tune in Monday night. As a rule, KHJ is silent on Monday nights, but next Monday night special arrangements have been made for the station going on the air in order that the motor car dealers may present their program.

Artists on the bill arranged by the motor car dealers are all well known to Radioland. Several selections will be played by the Kitian Trio, three girls who play the violin, 'cello and piano, with Winifred Schutten, violinist, as manager. Albert Bryant, a Glendalian, will render several tenor solos.

Hatch Graham and his banjo known to all radio fans, will be on the program, singing the popular melodies that have made him a favorite with listeners in. Les Roscoe, pianist, will be present and Lewis F. Queen's Hawaiians will provide soothing South Sea tunes.

The motor car dealers' program has been arranged by Gould H. Warren, chairman of the radio committee of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce.. The program will start at 7 o'clock next Monday night and will last one hour.

In the meantime, the local motor car dealers are going ahead with plans for the big show which will be held at Magnolia and Brand boulevard, in the tent where the Sciots' "'49" party is now in progress.

Glendale will present two radio programs this week. The regular Chamber of Commerce radio program will be presented next Saturday night, March 7, over KFI, starting at 8 o'clock and lasting one hour. The program is being arranged now, Mr. Warren announces.

SHIPPING LOWER

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 28.—With the exception of somewhat accelerated oil shipments via Panama canal, Pacific coast shipping is considerably under normal. Lull in coastal lumber trade with low cargo rates offerred by mills, has resulted in more than forty steam schooners being laid up. Lumber and general cargo shipments to Japan and Australia also have fallen off.

LENGTH OF SKIRT

MONTE CARLO, Feb. 28.—The shortest of promenades here is sufficient to convince one that frocks in general have a long and tight tunic to which the underskirt is merely an unobtrusive background which must never reach below the knees and that sleeves are either long or nonexistent.

The easiest way to be reconciled to age is to observe a few young simpletons trying to act smart.

Loyal Temperance Club Holds Meeting

The first meeting of the Loyal Temperance Legion was held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Edith Glassey at 460 West California avenue. Miss Zorra Glassey was temporary chairman when the following officers were elected: Zorra Glassey, president; Jane Bradley, secretary and Edith Palutzke, treasurer. Virginia Hanger played a piano solo, and refreshments were served by Mrs. Glassey. She was assisted by Miss Palutzke. The next meeting will be held March 4 at the Glassey home, and all children from the ages of 6 to 16 years are invited to be present.

IRISH LINEN SHOP EXPANDS RAPIDLY

North Brand Store Earns Wide Reputation For Quality Stock

Featuring fine Irish linens has gained for the Irish Linen store, 117 North Brand boulevard, a reputation throughout Southern California. Established in Glendale on March 17, 1919 by W. L. Moore, the organization has rapidly expanded until today it carries an exceptionally fine stock of all descriptions of dry goods. The linens continue to be the featured articles, however.

Three years after it was founded, a half interest in the establishment was purchased by W. G. Lauderdale, who a year later, bought the entire store. He has consistently maintained a policy of selling only quality merchandise, and that policy has brought him a continual expansion of trade.

Employes of the store have been instilled with Lauderdale's spirit of fairness and cordiality, until patrons find it a pleasure to trade there.

LADIES' APPAREL SHOP IS SUCCESS

University Graduates Start Business That Proves Hit From Start

On November 1, 1923, Melba-Dott Russell and Jeanne Bosley opened a women's apparel shop at 133 North Brand boulevard. They were inexperienced and had just graduated from the University of Southern California. By all precedents they should have failed. But they didn't. Their success was remarkable.

In May, 1924, Melba-Dott Russell purchased Miss Bosley's interest in the organization and became owner and manager of the store.

Her place of business has an enormous advantage. It is affiliated with five other stores in buying. Featured among the models are Madame Juliette, Georgene, Ann Wilcox and Roslyn. They have gained recognition in the most exclusive circles, but the Melba-Jeanne Shoppe has been enabled to sell them to Glendale patrons at big savings in prices.

Miss Russell will leave soon for New York on an extensive buying trip.

About the only way to keep a law from being unconstitutional is to attach a rider levying a tax.

NELSON TO LEAD APPRAISAL BODY

Successor To Hollister Is Named, Proper Taxes Committee's Aim

Herman Nelson was elected chairman of the Tax Appraisal committee, to succeed V. M. Hollister, at a meeting held last night in the office of the secretary, James F. McBryde, 111-A East Broadway. Mr. Hollister withdrew from the chairmanship owing to pressure of other civic duties, but remains on the committee, which was recently created by the Glendale City Council, to confer with E. W. Hopkins, Los Angeles county tax assessor, and cooperate with his department in obtaining proper appraisals

The committee last night appointed a sub-committee to call on Mr. Hopkins and go into the matter with him. This committee will meet with the county assessor Monday and another meeting of the Tax Appraisal committee will be held Wednesday night.

FURNITURE STORE SHOWS PROGRESS

Hunt & Bowers Carry Both New and Used Stock In Varied Line

The Hunt & Bowers Furniture Co. is one of the oldest furniture stores in Glendale, although the business was assumed by the present owners in March, 1922. J. F. Hunt and J. L. Bowers are associated as partners of the firm, Hunt having come to Glendale from Laramie, Wyo., and Bowers from Warren, Ohio, widely separated points.

The stock consists of both new and used furniture. Due to a greatly increased business, the floor space was greatly augmented two years ago and the interior of the establishment was redecorated to give the merchandise within the proper setting it deserved. Every year has seen a steady and substantial increase in the volume of business transacted.

The EASY Vacuum Electric WASHER

Before you buy a washing machine, let us demonstrate without obligation on your part, the "EASY" method of washing clothes by means of Air Pressure and Suction. The revolving vacuum cups move up and down sixty times per minute—on the down stroke they force the water through the mesh of the garments—on the up stroke they suck the water back through the mesh. This efficient method of washing forces all dirt and foreign substances out of the garments without the least wear, tear or friction. Air Pressure and Suction washes the heaviest blankets or the daintiest lingerie.

ROTARIANS PLAN THREE LECTURES

The Glendale Rotary club has arranged for a return visit and series of three lectures by Dr. Charles Barker, noted adviser of boys and girls and of fathers and mothers, on Thursday, March 12, in the Broadway High school auditorium. None who heard Dr. Barker during his visit here last year will ever forget his forceful, helpful lessons on topics of vital interest to young manhood and young womanhood.

For more than four years, under the auspices of Rotary clubs over the country, Dr. Barker has been delivering these lectures, and he is in such demand that Glendalians are fortunate in having an opportunity to hear him again.

The addresses are straightforward messages to fathers and mothers, as well as to the young folk, and will be delivered as follows:

Free Admission

At the High school, probably during the morning session, he will speak to an assembly of the students on "How To Make the Most Out of Life."

In the afternoon, probably at 3 o'clock, he will speak to mothers and daughters on the subject, "A Mother's Relation to Her Daughter."

In the evening he will talk to the men and boys on "A Father's Responsibility to His Son."

Bear in mind the date, Thursday, March 12, and plan to hear these addresses. There will be no admission fee and no collection of any sort, the appearance of Dr. Barker being a contribution to the welfare of the community on the part of the Rotary club.

TRICE FURNITURE OF HIGHEST GRADE

Founded Four Years Ago, Concern Has Backing Of Experience

Four years ago W. F. Trice founded the Trice Furniture Co. in Glendale. For thirty years he has been in the furniture business. With the solid backing of long experience and a fixed policy of handling only the highest grade of merchandise at the lowest prices consistent with good business, the firm has had a marked success. Last year it was necessary to add fifty feet to the length of the store and to remodel the entire interior to care for the output efficiently.

Prior to coming to Glendale, Mr. Trice was associated with the Trice Bros. Furniture Co., a chain of three stores in Paragould and Jonesboro, Ark. His store at 118 West Broadway now is one of the most popular among Glendale furniture buyers.

The entire interior of the store has been recently redecorated and now furnishes a beautiful setting for the furniture it contains.

Little Players Seen In Song, Dance Bill

Pupils of the Little Players' Studio, of which Miss Hazel Campbell is director and Mrs. S. Montgomery is instructor of dancing, presented a program in the auditorium of Glendale Intermediate school last night before an audience of several hundred specially invited guests.

The opening number was a musical recitation, "I've Got a Pain in My Sawdust," by Berenice Gardner, with Evelyn Gardner at the piano. A reading, "I Ain't Goin' to Cry No More," followed. Jean Campbell, 4, gave a rose dance; Thalia Wilson read "Their Only Child' and "Getting Rid of Jim." "In Want of a Servant" was a humorous one-act play. Characters were: Mr. Marshall, Lloyd Loyd; Mrs. Marshall, Dorothy Donnally; Margaret O'Flannagan, Irene Gieb; Mrs. Bunker, a widow, Carolyn Loyd; her son Freddie, Ray Gieb; Katrin Von Follenstein, Adele Loyd; Snowdrop Washington, Beatrice Fear; Hulda Johnson, Garnette Campbell; Sam Ling, Ray Gieb.

Mrs. R. N. Stryker gave two readings, "The Song and the Man," by John McCully; "The Stranger at Our Door" and a humorous character sketch, "Waiting For the Train;" Olive Montgomery was presented in two costume dances. Janet Ord sang "It's Lullaby Time," assisted in pantomime by Jean and Kemper Campbell, jr., and Beverly Powell, with Marguerite Powell at the piano.

A humorous monologue, "Casting the Play," was given by Adele Loyd; Irene Gieb and Adele Loyd danced the Argentine Tango in costume; and a one-act play, "In the Darkness" (Dan Totheroh), a pathetic sketch from the lives of pioneer homesteaders, was presented by the following cast: Lizzie, the homesteader's wife, Dorothy Donnally; Nathan, the homesteader, Ray Gieb; Bess, the sister, Irene Gieb; Arth, the sheepherder, Lloyd Loyd.

terns and on every lawn chairs will be placed for the accommodation of the guests of the evening. Refreshments will be served to circles of friends. Bunting and streamers will reflect the showers of confetti. Many householders will send up a few fireworks as a little personal touch.

One of the new double-deck busses for the proposed Central avenue-Kenneth road scenic bus line will carry free passengers up and down the avenue. The bus will also call for the officials of the Glendale Avenue Improvement association and other citizens interested in the civic welfare of Glendale.

The next meeting of the association will be held Monday night at the offices of Charles B. Guthrie & Co., 208 South Brand boulevard.

LIGHT GLOVES

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—When the "glad hand" is extended nowadays it is no longer encased in the black glove so extensively worn during the last winter. A rich man could be happy if he could overcome the suspicion that his friends have designs on his purse.

It frequently happens that the man who says he will think it over means that he will ask his wife about it.

Another disadvantage about obeying the traffic laws is that it makes one so suspicious.

A POPULAR PRODUCT

Practically all of our new customers are recommended to us by builders and contractors who have found their relations with this organization a gratifying business experience.

They extend the same relations to their customers through the use of "STONE-TILE," knowing that they have obtained the most important elements in building—namely, Strength, Low Absorption and Permanence—together with reasonable cost.

"STONE-TILE" grows stronger with age, thereby eliminating depreciation and any maintenance upkeep. Thus, where our product is used a higher resale has been created.

COMPLETE DATA ON BASKETBALL LEAGUE

Figures for First Round of Play Show Individual Scores, Team Averages, Standings and Full Results

By A. S. HALL
Of The Evening News Staff.

With the first round of play in the Glendale Merchants' basketball league schedule at an end, and the second round to start Monday night, facts and figures of plays and players are presented today by the sports department of The Glendale Evening News.

The Huli Trucks finished the first round at the top of the league with five victories and one defeat. Their otherwise perfect record was marred on February 16, when the M. E. church team took their measure, 29 to 28, in one of the hardest fought games of the season. Prior to that time, the truckmen had won five straight games.

McKowan, forward with the Radio team, was a strong factor in putting his team in second place. McKowan scored 91 points during the first round. The Radios, however, only played five games, a scheduled game between the Radios and the Standard Oilers being postponed and not played before the first round ended.

How They Finished

The Radios were doped as sure winners in the Radio-Oilers game, and had it been played, the Radios would have finished the first half of the season tied with the Huli Trucks.

The schedule for the second round has not been completed by Coach N. C. Hayhurst, president of the league, but will be completed tonight and will appear on the sports page of The Glendale Evening News on Monday. The schedule, in the main, will follow the schedule for the first round.

The standings at the end of the first round of play follow:

	W.	L.	Pct.
Huli Trucks	5	1	.883
Radios	4	1	.800
M. E. Church	4	2	.667
Calla Lily	4	2	.667
Standard Oil	2	3	.400
Legion	1	5	.167
Christian Ch.	0	6	.000

Results First Week

Radio, 55; Christian church, 10.

M. E. church, 50; Christian church, 8.
Standard Oil, 23; Legion, 10.

Team-Game Averages

The Huli Trucks led the league in average points scored per game. Their average for six games was 39 2-3, while their opponents' averages in order were: Radio, five games, 38 4-5; opponents, 20; Calla Lily, six games, 36 1-2; opponents, 19 1-3; M. E. church, six games, 28 2-3; opponents, 24 2-3; Standard Oil, five games, 22 2-5; opponents, 22; American Legion, six games, 19 1-2; opponents, 36; Christian church, six games, 10; opponents, 45 1-2.

The total points scored by each team, together with the points scored by their opponents during the first round of the league, follow in order:

	Games Played	Totals Points	Opponents Total
Huli Trucks	6	238	137
Calla Lily	6	219	116
Radio	5	194	100
M. E. church	6	170	148
Legion	6	117	216
Standard Oil	5	112	110
Christian church	6	60	273

Individual Points

McKowan, forward on the Radio team, led the players in total points scored, with 91 markers chalked up during the first round. The following list shows the name of the player, team he played on, and total points scored during the first round, in the order in which the players stand. The key to abbreviations is: Huli Trucks, H. T.; Calla Lily, C. L.; Radio, R.; M. E. church, M. E.; Standard Oil, S. O.; Legion, A. L.; and Christian church, C. C. The standings are:

The following players made less than ten points each: Wolfe, M. E., 9; Walker, A. L., 9; Wilde, H. T., 7; Buck, A. L., 7; McKay, A. L., 6; Amons, A. L., 6; Bunker, A. L., 6; Stone, C. C., 5; Dennis, C. C., 5; Mapes, A. L., 4; Schmidt, A. L., 4; Schenck, S. O., 4; Randall, C. L., 4; McAllister, R., 4; Wardell, C. C., 4; Wilson, H. T. 3. The following players made two points each: American Legion team, Waechtner, Wheelan; Christian church, Heacock, Nebel, Helm, Shaefer, Davis, Ojer; M. E. church, McCormick. Logsden, of the Christian church team, was low point man for the season, playing in only one game and getting only one point, on a free throw.

RINGSIDE GOSSIP by FAIR PLAY

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—Mickey Walker's letters have shown a change in tone since the California boxing commissioners ruled he would have to defend his title in bouts to a decision out on the west coast.

From what he said when he first arrived and settled in the Hollywood cottage it looked as though the east would not see him in a long, long time. Life promised to be very soft out there.

But now that he understands he will have to box to decision just as though he were in New York, the Pacific coast is not likely to be any more popular with him than is New York.

It would be no surprise were Walker to return east before spring is well established in this section of the country.

Another thing—Mickey's presence here may be a matter of good business very shortly. As the writer exclusively stated more than a week ago, a bout between Walker and Benny Leonard is being steamed up for the metropolitan outdoor season.

Since this statement was made, confirmatory news has been broadcast and now there seems to be no doubt that if the promoters name attractive terms the two great fighters will meet. In such case Walker will be needed here for publicity purposes.

In the meantime Mickey's victory over Bert Colima is bound to set him high on the coast and he is certain to be an attraction worth money to any promoter. But the big money lies in the east. It is estimated that the husky young Jerseyman will be offered more than $100,000 to meet the retired lightweight king.

A bachelor is contented for the same reason that people once were content with candles. They didn't know any better.

JOHN B. FOSTER'S VIEWS

EN ROUTE TO CALIFORNIA, Feb. 28.—Out here on the line of the railroad that leads to California, the happy swatting ground of the baseball goliath, everybody is pulling for the corn fed pitchers of the plains and the prairies to lead the way again in the major leagues. And present indications are that the west will be well represented when the 1925 pitching honors are handed around.

Johnson, Alexander and Vance all come from the land of big hogs and tall corn. They started early in life on ham and eggs, and they have been going it ever since on that diet which leads pigs to slaughter and baseball players to glory.

There is scarcely a soul between Chicago and Council Bluffs who has not committed to memory all the present and past history of the trio that belongs to Iowa, Nebraska and Kansas. Whenever any baseball fan dares to assert that they raise big pitchers in the east, these middlewesterners demand loudly to be shown, pointing the while to the records that were turned in last season by Johnson, Alexander and Vance.

Alexander, it is said, is coming back to the season of 1925 better than he was in 1924. That broken bone last season interrupted a baseball year that promised to be the most successful of his carreer.

Alexander stands near the top of them all, and his keenest regret is that his injury prevented him from pursuing throughout the season the sort of halo that was attained by Johnson and Vance. The Cubs think part of their slump last season was attributable to Alexander's injury.

There is another middle westerner who may be added to the galaxy of corn fed pitching stars this season. He is Yde, the left hand kid who went through the season of 1924 almost without losing a game. Yde obtained his experience in Oklahoma, but his games brought him into the corn belt and the fans point to him as another of the pitchers who have helped to put baseball on the map.

To these pitchers who already have shown something, may be added a half dozen young fellows who are to make their bows in the majors this season, presumably with a fair chance of making good.

The general calibre of minor league pitchers in the middle west is higher than it has been in at least 3 years, according to Mike Sexton, president of the National Association. It is his contention that pitchers are getting back to the form they displayed when they tried to pitch curves and did not throw their arms out at the shoulder fooling with freak deliveries.

Joe McGinnity, the Giant iron man of years ago, who is a product of Iowa, is going back to the box this year and is willing to wager he will have as good a season as any kid who starts in minor league company between the Alleghany mountains and the Mississippi river.

The midwest is eager to have the Cubs or the White Sox, or one of the St. Louis clubs win a pennant. There has been no world series out this way since the affair of 1919, and they yearn for something to take the taste of that out of their mouths.

Moreover, there is a resentful attitude against any more championships being monopolized by the east. While it probably has no basis in fact, they feel out here that the east is not much of a sporting center—that it wins pennants with a fat purse rather than by developing young ball players.

Baseball Owner Found Not Guilty of Fraud

NEW YORK, Feb. 28. — The jury that heard the trial of Charles A. Stoneham, baseball magnate, and Elmore D. Dier and Ross F. Robertson, brokers, brought in a verdict finding them not guilty of using the mails to defraud when the federal district court opened Friday. The verdict was reached last night, but the jury was locked up when it was found Stoneham and Robertson were not in court.

It isn't what a women says that is shocking, but the fact that a woman could say it.

Is Jack Lucky or Clever?

Ring experts claim JACK DEMPSEY, present heavyweight champion, has not met the rugged type of fighters in defending his crown that men who have held the heavyweight crown met in their days. Years ago challengers were a crop of tough birds.

By NORMAN E. BROWN
Written for The Evening News.

Until Jack Dempsey really signs for another battle we may consider him retired. At least he can't be expected to mix his honeymoon with a championship battle.

The consensus of opinion is that he did not meet, as king of his division, men of the caliber that the old-timers tackled while defending their title.

Dempsey has defended his title against Billy Miske, Tommy Gibbons, Georges Carpentier, Bill Brennan and Luis Firpo.

Brennan, albeit a likeable fighter, was a big husky chap, fast and fairly clever. But that let him out. He did not carry a mule kick.

Luis Firpo was a wild man, not a fighter. He has proved a bust in the ring.

Carpentier, the most formidable opponent Dempsey has met, as fighters and not wild men are estimated, was on the road back when they met. He lacked the stamina of old.

What About Gibbons?

Gibbons, the only man who has stayed the limit with the champion, is in an odd position. If Dempsey was at his best and trying his best in that Shelby fight one of two facts must be accepted. Either Dempsey is just an ordinary fighter and lucky to hold the title or Gibbons is a great fighter and entitled to rank with the leading heavies of the game for all time. It is hard to figure Gibbons on a par with Dempsey. It is hard to figure him even on a par with Kid McCoy, Choynski or any of the old fighters who tried in vain to dethrone the old champs.

These fighters represented the class of the men Dempsey has met in his ring career. Willard, the champ, was a lumbering mauler. The men against whom Dempsey hung up his knockout record that won him a chance at the title were second-raters.

Jim Corbett licked the clever Joe Choynski three times before meeting Sullivan in the bout that gave Corbett the heavyweight title. Two of these battles were really two sections of one, police halting the first battle.

While champ Corbett knocked out Charlie Mitchell, one of England's cleverest heavies and fought Tom Sharkey toe to toe for four rounds. It was meant to be an exhibition but Sharkey was intent on knocking out the clever Corbett.

Bob Fitzsimmons had knocked out the popular Peter Maher in a round and met him a second time before winning the title from Corbett. He had fought an eight-round battle with Tom Sharkey, too, losing that battle on a foul to the battling sailor.

Jeffries had knocked out the great Peter Jackson in three rounds while fighting his way to the title. It must be said, however, that Jackson had slipped. However, Jeffries also had licked Sharkey in twenty rounds and fought twenty-round draws with Gus Ruhlin and Joe Choynski before grabbing the crown. During his reign the big boilermaker gave Sharkey, Corbett, Ruhlin, Fitzsimmons and Jack Monroe a chance at his title.

Dempsey Outclasses His Field

Surely Dempsey can produce no record like this last one. And it would be stretching a point to compare his record with that of any of the others.

Only the fact that Dempsey has outclassed every challenger he has met permits consideration of his name as one of the greats of heavyweight history. By comparison with the crop with which he was raised, Dempsey stands out as a wonderful fighter.

BOXING NOTES

Ace Hudkins hit Pat Mills with everything but the ringposts last night in their ten-round setto at Hollywood American Legion stadium, although Mills put up a game fight and succeeded in taking two rounds. Hudkins had the Englishman on the verge of a knockout several times but lacked the necessary steam to put him to sleep. The fans did not take kindly to the semi-windup in which Harvey Perkins and Ray Neuman tried to maul each other for six rounds, the referee calling it a draw, while the ringworms called it something stronger. Eddie Diggins had everything his own way in the six-round special bout, winning the decision over Eddie Trabon. Harry Soo, a Chinese boxer, got the nod over Johnny Godinas in four rounds, and Johnny Villaflores won over Kid Blakie in four rounds.

BOWLING SCORES

The Central Cleaners took two out of three games from the Brown Drug bowlers last night in a Mercantile league match at Recreation alleys. The druggists took the third game. Whaley of the winners rolled high score with 214.

Psenner Bros. made it two out of three games in their Mercantile league match with the Red Feathers. Caldwell of the winners had top score of 211 and was the only bowler in the match to pass the two century mark.

Ty Cobb Given 'Fine' Reception In Atlanta

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 28.—Ty Cobb, manager of the Detroit American league baseball club, and well known in Augusta, Ga., today was back in that town with a recollection of Atlanta hospitality that does not taste good.

Ty was arrested, posted $11 as a bond and left police headquarters here in a towering rage, following an argument at the Terminal railroad station over the price of some food Cobb had eaten and which was settled by the wife of the manager of the lunch counter and a policeman.

LAWRENCE PERRY SAYS

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—The practice of rival prize fighter managers trying to beat one another to the wire and sending forth biased accounts of bouts is a recognized part of the pugilistic industry. Is it possible that our professional golfers are beginning to take up the merry custom?

It is unthinkable, yet occasionally this winter information coming over the wires from sunny Florida or equally sunny California has given birth to a suspicion that it has not been disseminated by disinterested chroniclers.

There is the matter of the record for the Boca Ciega course at St. Petersburg, Florida, whence the other day came word that Walter Hagen and Joe Kirkwood playing in a foursome against Jack Erbeck of White Plains and A. C. Painter of Pittsburgh broke the course record with a 69 each, while together they had a best ball of 63.

So far as is known, ths is well below the best previous best ball record, but Leo Diegel will probably have something to say about the claims that Hagen's 69 and Kirkwood's 69 are a record for the Boca Ciega links.

For the fact is that last January Diegel, teamed with Gene Sarazen, beat Hagen and Kirkwood 5 and 4 in 18 holes in the course of which Diegel turned in a 67. This, to be exact, was on January 17.

Speaking of Gene Sarazen, the fact comes to mind that the little golfer has been shorn of titles as completely as Joie Ray was sheared of his world's records by Paavo Nurmi. His last title went when he was beaten in the professional golfers tourney at French Lick last summer.

It now seems uncertain just what he will do this season. He seems to be in process of working over his game, doing a lot of practice and getting back to his own natural, if unorthodox, style, which carried him so high.

Gene's poor showing in 1923 is thought to have been due to his neglect of practice and to his willingness to experiment with grips, stances and swings of other great players, instead of sticking to his own peculiar style, which, while a bit informal, served to dominate the golf world.

No athlete ever came up so swiftly and went down so suddenly as Sarazen. He sprang into fame in the winter of 1920-21 and in 1923 he was hitting the downward grade. It remains to be seen what success Sarazen has in re-ascending the heights.

There seems to be some confusion of opinion among big three authorities as to the precise terms of the agreement they have reached concerning salaries of football coaches. From Cambridge comes word that a limit of $8,000, the maximum salary paid to a professor, has been set for football coaches.

Dr. Charles W. Kennedy, of Princeton, states that no definite stipulation has been made concerning coaches' salaries but that a limit has been placed upon the total athletic budget. Salaries may be placed at whatever figure is thought proper so that the budget be not exceeded. Thus, before anyone becomes excited, it will have to be made clear that the total budget has been subjected to a radical downward revision.

MAY LAND CLUB

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 28.—With the visit here today of President Harry Williams of the Pacific Coast baseball league, discussion was expected to be renewed on the possibility of securing a Coast league franchise for San Diego. While here Williams will be in conference with Sam Porter, San Diego hotel proprietor, and Claus Spreckels. Baseball enthusiasts here were reported as being hopeful of securing for San Diego the Salt Lake City franchise.

MISS WILLS WINS

PASADENA, Cal., Feb. 28.—Miss Helen Wills, national tennis champion, was scheduled to meet Miss Winifred Suhr of San Francisco here today in the second round of the women's singles of the Huntington hotel invitational contests. She will also play with Miss Suhr in doubles against Mrs. William Henry of Idaho, and Mrs. Stephen Roy of Santa Monica. Miss Wills defeated Mrs. Henry, 6-2, 6-1, in the opening round.

SOX GO SOUTH

CHICAGO, Feb. 28.—Led by Eddie Collins, their new leader, the vanguard of the Chicago White Sox will leave here today for their training camp at Shreveport, La. A squad of about thirty players will be on hand for the first workout Monday.

DALY IS DEAD

NAPA, Cal., Feb. 28.—James Daly, well-known motorcycle racer, is dead here today. He died late yesterday of complications resulting from injuries sustained in an automobile accident several months ago, according to physicians. Daly was a rancher here.

HARTZ SETS NEW RECORD AT TRACK

Demon Speed Merchant Hits 136.3 Miles An Hour At Culver City Bowl

Another record went by the boards yesterday when Harry Hartz sent his demon racing car around the Culver City Speedway for two laps at the rate of 136.3 miles an hour, eclipsing the mark set by Bennett Hill at 135.5 miles an hour. On the strength of Hartz' showing in practice yesterday he is among the drivers favored to finish well up towards the front in the race tomorrow.

Fred Comer turned a couple laps at 133.1 miles an hour yesterday in practice and is expected to finish strong tomorrow. Comer is not the type of driver that tries to set the pace early in the race, but lags back awaiting his chance to get out in front by a sensational spurt in speed and stay there.

Tomorrow's race will start at 2 o'clock. The race was called off last Sunday after 25 miles had been run, on account of three accidents. The grind tomorrow will be 250 miles and the event will be the opening classic of the 1925 A. A. A. season.

BASEBALL

Tomorrow's local attraction will be the game between the Glendale K. C. state champions and the Los Angeles council, at the park on San Fernando road. Myers, catcher for the local Caseys, will play his last game here, as he leaves next week for Texas to join the Omaha Western league club. McDonald will pitch for Glendale.

The Gilmore Oilers are booked to journey to the Crown City tomorrow to meet the Pasadena Merchants at Tournament park.

The Pacific Electrics, leading the Industrial loop, will meet the E. S. Smith team this afternoon. Burbank is in second place, but draws a bye this week. The trolleymen meet Santa Barbara tomorrow.

Harry Nelson has resigned as secretary of the Greater Southern California Baseball Managers' association to manage the Mesa, Arizona, ball team.

Ken Parker, pitcher for Zelzah, has been named manager of the Burbank team, which has been reorganized. Burbank meets the William Lane team tomorrow.

BURBANK NEWS

BURBANK, Feb. 28.—The Radio Concert band of this city was heard last night over KNX, the Hollywood broadcasting station. The program went on the air at 10 o'clock and lasted a half hour. The following numbers were given:

March, "Lights Out", McCoy; Grand Medley, "Superba", Dalby; Cornet solo, "The Charmer", Boose, Ralph Foy; "American Patrol", Meacham; Serenade, "Moon Beams," Huff; "Slim Trombone", Fillmore; Selection, "Woodlands", Ludus; Vocal tenor solo, "Sunshine of Your Smile", Neal Foy; Sextette, brass, "Soldier's Tail"; Overture, "Bridal Rose", Lavallee; March, "Col. Minor"; Rosencranz.

The Royal Neighbors met last night at the home of Miss Bertha Lang, 331 Orange Grove avenue. Mrs. Minnie Harrington of Culver City, district deputy of the order, will be present in Burbank the night of March 6, it was announced, when a large class will be presented for adoption at the Odd Fellows' hall.

Earl Dufur has returned from a trip to Hughes lake, in the Bouquet canyon country, going up on a business trip. He says the almond trees are in bloom and the crops are getting a good start in that section.

W. H. Graham has taken out a permit for the construction of a business block at the northeast corner of San Fernando boulevard and Verdugo avenue to be constructed of brick, contain two store rooms and to cost $7000.

At the last Boy Scout court of honor meeting troop 2 led with nine merit badges. The officers of this troop are: E. B. Thomas, scout master; J. Campbell, assistant scout master; C. Clark, troop committee; Kermit Ehrman, senior patrol leader; Francis Koppes, scribe; Sidney McDonald, Ben Manning and Harry Simmons, patrol leaders.

DRIVERS READY

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 28.—Tommy Milton, Harry Hartz and Bennett Hill were the favorites in the field of twenty drivers scheduled to start tomorrow in the Culver City bowls 250-mile postponed Washington's birthday classic. Hartz hung up a new world's record of 136.3 miles per hour in a practice spin yesterday.

CITY PRINTING

NOTICE OF SALE OF FRANCHISE

Office of the City Clerk of the City of Glendale, California.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT SOUTHERN COUNTIES GAS COMPANY OF CALIFORNIA, a corporation, has made its application to the City Council of the City of Glendale for a grant to it, its successors and assigns of a franchise and privilege herein particularly described; that said City Council proposes to grant said franchise and privilege in accordance with the laws of the State of California, said franchise being particularly described as follows, to-wit:

A franchise to lay, construct, maintain, use and operate gas pipes in, under and along those certain streets, alleys, lanes, highways and public places in and of the said City of Glendale, described as follows, to-wit:

Beginning at the southeasterly boundary line of the City of Glendale, where Sonora Avenue intersects Flower Street; thence northwesterly on Flower Street to the northwesterly boundary line of the City of Glendale between Allen Avenue and Linden Avenue.

Together with the right to carry, transport and convey manufactured and/or natural gas in and through said pipes for light, heat and power purposes, together with the right to lay, construct, maintain and operate all such other apparatus and appliances in connection therewith as may be necessary to safely and efficiently operate, maintain and use said pipe lines.

Said franchise shall continue for a period of twenty-five (25) years from the date of granting same.

Said franchise is offered for sale upon the terms and conditions hereinafter contained and said grantee shall file with the City Clerk of the City of Glendale a written acceptance within thirty (30) days after passage of the ordinance granting same. The terms and conditions under which said franchise is offered for sale are as follows:

First: That the grantee or grantees of said franchise and privilege, his or their successors or assigns, shall, in good faith, commence work to lay and construct said pipe lines in a good and workmanlike manner within not more than four months from the granting of said franchise and privilege, and shall thereafter continuously prosecute said work diligently and in good faith, so as not to obstruct the use of the streets by the public or to cause inconvenience to the abutting property owners for an unreasonable length of time.

Second: That the grantee of said franchise, his, its or their successors or assigns, shall have the right to make all necessary excavations in any such streets and thoroughfares hereinbefore mentioned for the construction and repair of such pipe lines; provided that such right shall be subject to such regulations as are now or may hereafter be in force and in particular Ordinance No. 369 of the City of Glendale, adopted on the 29th day of January, 1920, and entitled, "An Ordinance Regulating the Making and Refilling of Excavations in Public Streets, Alleys, Sidewalks and Other Public Places, Repealing Sections 7, 8, 9 and 10 of Ordinance No. 21 and Repealing Ordinance 119."

Third: That no part of the pipes shall be laid not less than three (3) feet beneath the surface of the streets or alleys wherein laid and shall be located along a line first to be designated by the Street Superintendent of said City of Glendale. Where such pipes are to be laid under or across any street paved with macadam or concrete, the same shall be done so as not to disturb the foundation thereof by a tunnel or bore, or when this cannot be done, under a special permit from said Street Superintendent upon application therefor, such application to be accompanied by a drawing, specifications and explanation showing reasons therefor.

Fourth: That during the laying or repairing of any such pipes, any trench or excavations made for such purposes shall at night time, from sunset to sunrise, be barricaded and protected and terms placed at distances of not more than one hundred (100) feet apart along such trench or excavation, and also at all street and alley intersections, sufficient to protect the public.

Fifth: The pipe line constructed or maintained under the provisions of this franchise shall be constructed and maintained in accordance and conformity with all of the ordinances, rules and regulations now in force, or that may hereafter be adopted and prescribed by the Council of said City of Glendale.

Sixth: That the work of laying and repairing such pipes or other appliances shall be conducted with the least possible hindrance to the use of said streets for the purpose of travel, and as soon as the laying or repairing of any pipes or appliances is completed, all portions of the streets which have been excavated or otherwise injured thereby shall be placed in as good condition as the same were before the laying of such pipes, and to the satisfaction of the Street Superintendent of said City. That any damage or injury suffered by any person by reason of any excavation being improperly guarded during said work shall be borne by the grantee of said franchise, his or its successors or assigns.

Seventh: That the City of Glendale reserves the right to change the grade of any street or portion thereof over which said franchise shall be granted, and the grantee of said franchise, his or its successors or assigns, shall at once change the location of all pipes and other appliances laid under said franchise, so as to conform to said change of grade. That if any portion of any of said streets shall be damaged by reason of leaks in any pipe laid under said franchise, the grantee of such franchise, his or its successors, shall at his, its or their expense, repair any such damage and put said street in as good condition as before such leak, to the satisfaction of the Street Superintendent of said City.

Eighth: That if the grantee of said franchise, his, its or their successors or assigns, shall fail to comply with any of the written instructions of the City Council or the Street Superintendent of said City, with respect to the location of any portion of said system or pipes or pipe lines, or the repair of any damage to said streets or thoroughfares, within ten (10) days after the service of written notice upon said grantee, his, its or their successors or assigns, requiring compliance therewith, then said City Council or Street Superintendent may immediately do whatever work is necessary to carry out said instructions at the cost and expense of said grantee, his, its or their successors or assigns, which costs, by the acceptance of said franchise, said grantee, his, its or their successors or assigns agree to pay upon demand.

Ninth: That the said grantee or its successors or assigns shall, during the life of said franchise, pay to the City of Glendale, in lawful money of the United States, two per cent of the gross annual receipts of such grantee, its successors or assigns, arising from the use, operation or possession of said franchise; provided, however, that no percentage shall be paid for the first five (5) years succeeding the date of this franchise.

It shall be the duty of the grantee of said franchise and its successors or assigns to file with the Clerk of the City of Glendale at the expiration of one year after said period of five (5) years, and at the expiration of each and every year thereafter, a statement verified by the oath of said grantee or its successors or assigns, or by the oath of the manager or other authorized officer of said grantee, or its successors or assigns, showing in detail the total gross earnings collected or received by said grantee or its successors or assigns during the preceding twelve (12) months for the use, sale, rental or furnishing of manufactured and/or natural gas for light, heat, power or any other purpose whatsoever from any part of the system for the construction and operation of which said franchise is granted, and within ten (10) days after the time for filing the aforesaid statement it shall be the duty of said grantee, its successors or assigns, to pay to the City Treasurer of the City of Glendale the aggregate sum of said percentage upon the amount of the gross annual receipts arising from the use, operation or possession of said franchise, and if the amount paid is incorrect in the judgment of the City Council, it may order the the payment of such additional sum as it may find due hereunder, and if not paid the same may be collected by suit. Any neglect, omission or refusal by said grantee or its successors or assigns to file said verified statement or to pay said percentage of the said gross annual receipts at the time or in the manner hereinbefore provided shall work a forfeiture of said franchise and of all the rights thereunder to the City of Glendale.

Tenth: That whenever any portion of the territory covered by said franchise shall be annexed to or otherwise become a part of any other municipal corporation or of the County of Los Angeles, or any other county, the rights reserved under said franchise to the City of Glendale or any officer thereof shall inure to the benefit of such municipal corporation or county and its appropriate officers.

Eleventh: That the said grantee or its successors or assigns shall not sell, transfer or assign said franchise or any of the rights or privileges granted thereby, except by a duly executed instrument in writing filed in the office of the Clerk of the City of Glendale; and provided further, that nothing in said franchise contained shall be construed to grant to said grantee or its successors or assigns any right to sell, transfer or assign said franchise or any of the rights and privileges thereby granted, except in the manner aforesaid.

Twelfth: That any neglect, failure or refusal to comply with any of the conditions of said franchise shall work a forfeiture thereof and the said City, by its City Council, may thereupon declare said franchise forfeited and may exclude said grantee or its successors or assigns from further use of the highways of said City under said franchise; and the said grantee or its successors or assigns shall thereupon surrender, upon demand by appropriate instrument in writing, all rights in and to the same, and said franchise shall be deemed and shall remain null, void and of no effect.

The grant of said franchise shall be effective only upon the further condition that the grantee shall, at all times during the life of said franchise, keep on file with the City Council a bond running to said City of Glendale in the penal sum of One Thousand Dollars ($1000.00), with at least two sureties to be approved by said City Council, conditioned upon said bidder well and truly observing, fulfilling and performing each and every term and condition of said franchise, and that in case of any breach of condition of said bond the whole amount of the penal sum therein named shall be taken and deemed to be liquidated damages and shall be recoverable from the principal and sureties on said bond; provided, however, that if said bond shall not be so filed, the award of said franchise shall be set aside and the money paid therefor shall be forfeited, and said franchise shall be, in the discretion of the City Council, re-advertised and again offered for sale in the same manner and under the same restrictions as herein provided. If said bond be not so filed and kept on file, said franchise shall be void and of no effect, and any money paid therefor or thereunder shall be forfeited.

Said franchise shall be granted on the condition that all expenses of sale and of advertising said franchise shall be paid by the successful bidder, and unless so paid said franchise shall be forfeited.

NOTICE IS ALSO HEREBY GIVEN that sealed bids in writing will be received for said franchise up to ten o'clock a. m. on the 31st day of March, 1925, and at the time above mentioned, and in the Council room of the City Council of the City of Glendale, any and all sealed bids will be opened; that all bids must be for the payment of a stated sum in gold coin of the United States, and that the said franchise will be struck off, sold and awarded to the person, firm or corporation who makes the highest cash bid therefor provided only that at the time of the opening of said bids any responsible person, firm or corporation present or represented may bid for said franchise or privilege a sum of not less than ten per cent (10%) above the highest sealed bid therefor, and said bid so made may be raised not less than ten per cent (10%) by any other responsible bidder, and said bidding may so continue until finally said franchise shall be struck off, sold and awarded to the highest bidder therefor in gold coin of the United States by said City Council.

That each sealed bid shall be accompanied with cash or a certified check payable to the Treasurer of the City of Glendale for the full amount of such bid, and no sealed bid shall be considered unless said cash or check is enclosed therewith, and the successful bidder shall deposit at least ten per cent (10%) of the amount of his bid with the Clerk of the City of Glendale before the franchise shall be struck off to him. If the successful bidder shall fail to make such deposit immediately, then and in that case his bid shall not be received and shall be considered as void, and the said franchise shall then and there be again offered for sale to the bidder who shall make the highest cash bid therefor, subject to the same conditions as to deposit as above mentioned. Said procedure shall be had until said franchise is struck off, sold and awarded to a bidder who shall make the necessary deposit of at least ten per cent (10%) of the amount of his bid therefor, as herein provided.

That the successful bidder shall deposit with the Clerk of the City of Glendale within twenty-four (24) hours after the acceptance of his bid the remaining ninety per cent (90%) of the amount thereof, and, in case he or it shall fail to do so, then the said deposit theretofore made shall be forfeited and the said award of said franchise shall be void, and the said franchise shall then and there by said City Council, in the same manner and under the same restrictions as hereinbefore provided, be again offered for sale to the highest bidder therefor and be struck off, sold and awarded; and in case said party shall fail to deposit with the Clerk of the City of Glendale the remaining ninety per cent (90%) of his bid within twenty-four (24) hours after its acceptance, the award to it of said franchise shall be set aside and the deposit theretofore made by it shall be forfeited, and no further proceedings for a sale of said franchise shall be had, unless the same shall be re-advertised and again offered for sale in the manner hereinbefore provided.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the successful bidder for such franchise or privilege struck off, sold or awarded to him or it shall file, and keep on file, a bond running to the City of Glendale with at least two good and sufficient sureties to be approved by said City Council, in the penal sum of One Thousand Dollars ($1000.00), conditioned that such bidder shall well and truly observe, fulfill and perform each and every term and condition of such franchise, and that in case of any breach of condition of such bond, the whole amount of the penal sum therein named shall be taken and deemed to be liquidated damages, and shall be recoverable from the principal and sureties upon said bond. Said bond shall be filed with said City Council within five (5) days after the said franchise is awarded, and upon the filing and approval of such bond, the said franchise shall by said City Council, be granted to the person, firm or corporation to whom it has been struck off, sold or awarded, and in case said bond shall not be so filed, the award of said franchise shall be set aside, and any money paid therefor shall be forfeited.

Frisco Lawyer Named To Rail Commission

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 28.—Frank B. Austin, local attorney, and authority on public utility matters, was Friday appointed an examiner for the State Railroad commission, President Harley Burnige announced. James P. Britt ,former deputy state market director for Southern California, was appointed assistant to Examiner W. R. Williams, in charge of the Los Angeles office of the railroad commission.

Youthful Bandits Get Loot From Pullmans

CHICAGO, Feb. 28.—A police dragnet was thrown out over the Calumet district today to trap two youthful bandits who casually held up nine Pullman car passengers on the New York Central railroad's "Western express" Friday night, and escaped with loot valued at $10,000. The holdup occurred as the train, Chicago bound, was between Chesterton and Gary, Ind.

OPERATIC ARIAS ARE PRESENTED

Artistic Program Is Given For Tuesday Afternoon Club Members

The operas "Madame Butterfly," "Andre Chenier" and "Aida" in story and music were heard yesterday afternoon in a most artistic program, arranged and presented by Miss Margaret Goetz of the San Carlo Opera Co., at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse. Given under the auspices of the music department of the club, the program attracted 400 club members and friends and was declared to be one of the finest musical events ever sponsored by the club.

Miss Goetz gave the stories of the three operas. Assisting her was Mrs. Alice Harrison, pianist, who played the entire musical score for each opera. Arias from "Madame Butterfly" and the soprano part of "Andre Chenier" were sung by Miss Bella Morse, dramatic soprano. Daniel Gridley of Long Beach, who possesses a wonderful tenor voice, sang the tenor part in Andre Chenier. Of special delight was the singing of arias from "Aida" by Miss Beatrice Sapiro, dramatic soprano.

The program was of interest to those familiar with the operas and those desiring a background for operatic appreciation. Mrs. Roberta T. Young, curator of the department, presided, and introduced Miss Goetz.

TUJUNGA NOTES

TUJUNGA, Feb. 28.—State Highway Engineer Cortelou will meet owners of property on Michigan avenue from Sunset to Hillhaven road at Mr. Zachau's office Wednesday at 9 a. m., when the proposed raising of the grade of the street to conform to the building lines will be discussed. The meeting was arranged by Zachau.

A number of Tujungans journeyed to Glendale last Sunday morning to hear Evangelist Brown at the tabernacle. They reported an eloquent address upon the influence of home life affecting the upbuilding of character.

The Service committee of Tujunga and Sunland have obtained use of the building in the rear of the Haines Canyon water office, and are open every Saturday afternoon from 2 to 5 p. m., for receiving donations and for disbursements. The regular monthly meeting of the Service committee will be held Monday evening at the Community church in Tujunga.

A free employment bureau has been opened, in charge of Miss Osgood. It is the desire of the Service committee and those interested in this work, to make this a real service to the community.

Several friends called upon Ensign Woodruff at his home on South El Centro street last Monday evening and spent a pleasant evening in helping him celebrate his birthday.

The regular business meeting of the Ladies' guild of the Episcopal church was held February 20 The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Elizabeth Shaner; vice-president, Mrs. John Steven McGroarty; secretary, Mrs H. K. Wheeler; treasurer, Miss Adelaide Bailey.

The regular meeting of the Tujunga Women's club was held Thursday afternoon. The Philippine Islands were discussed with Mrs. Jennie Immel as speaker.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the American Legion is giving a series of card parties and dances. The second card party was given Thursday evening at Legion hall. The next will be March 14.

Another fault of the times is too much birth control and not enough control of the youngsters after they are born.

COMMENT by GIL A. COWAN

A speaker before a Sacramento service club made some remarks in the interest of music which are worthy of forwarding Glendale people.

"Music in homes saves more money because of the hours of enjoyment it gives than anything else. It is the nearest approach to a flower of nature we have."

"Give music to the child until seven years of age and you have saved the child. He is in harmony with the world."

"The State of Illinois spent more money in prosecuting the Leopold and Loeb case than they will spend in music in the schools next year. There was no music in the Leopold and Loeb homes."

And here's a good one on Boston; as told by Geoffrey O'Hara, composer of "Katy" and other war time songs:

"Boston with its great symphony orchestra has less music per capita than many middle western towns."

If Glendale believes it has a school housing shortage, read what Mr. O'Hara has to say of New York, his home. "We are 375,000 seats short in New York for pupils who are now running the streets."

That is one of the evils of metropolitan centers, perhaps. Child life becomes mere existence. Pity the poor children who have too few years at their books.

But books alone will not make the man, or woman. They need leadership. We sometimes wonder if teachers realize their tremendous responsibility. Do they intrigue the child mind in reading books outside of school hours, praising those who achieve athletic honors, accompany the youngsters on picnic parties and visit their homes as "company?"

That is the only way they can impart character and set examples for ambitious boys and girls.

Glendale needs to speed up its building program. M. D. Lack, secretary of the state board of equalization in speaking before a legislative investigative committee, made the declaration:

"A Chicago forwarding company reports just as many people as ever before are coming to California."

The city that makes itself attractive, that is prepared to meet their demand for homes and apartments, is going to take on population.

FILM ACTRESS IS HOSTESS TONIGHT

Patsy Ruth Miller To Make Prize Awards At 'Ye Country Fair'

Patsy Ruth Miller, popular film actress, is going to greet Glendalians tonight, when she comes to Glendale to attend "Ye Country Fair," being held by Glendale Music club in the Fuller building at 219 North Brand boulevard. It will be "Patsy Ruth Miller Night" with Miss Miller awarding the two grand prizes.

Miss Miller will arrive in Glendale at 9 o'clock and will be met at Brand boulevard and Colorado street by the Glendale Drum and Bugle corps, which will escort her to the fair. She will award the Louise Dresser doll and the silver basket, to the holders of the lucky numbers given with tickets purchased for the club concert next Tuesday.

The various attractions at the fair have proven most popular. This afternoon was for the children, and countless kiddies were fair visitors. All booths will be open tonight and in honor of Miss Miller's visit a record crowd is anticipated.

FROM EAGLE ROCK

EAGLE ROCK, Feb. 28.—"Enter Madame" has been chosen by the Arden players of Occidental college as their annual play. Ellen Haven Gould will direct. The play will be given at the Eagle Rock school auditorium the nights of March 12 and 13. Following is the cast announced:

The Merchants' Credit association will hold an important meeting Monday noon at the Black Cat Tea rooms, 1722 Colorado boulevard, it is announced by Mrs. J. C. Reiter of the Chamber of Commerce.

The recent Minstrel show given by the St. Dominic's choir for the benefit of the Catholic church was a financial success, reports Lloyd Hamilton, who directed the entertainment.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Chamberlain and Guthrie, their son, of Marietta, Ohio, are visiting California. They are cousins of H. I. De Vol and upon their arrival in Los Angeles they took a trip to Eagle Rock to locate their relatives. Mr. DeVol states that they were greatly impressed with the beauties of this locality and it is not at all improbable that they may consider making their home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Cowden left here for their former home in Wisconsin about two months ago to live, but after being there a short time, Eagle Rock looked better than ever to them and they are now back again to stay.

NO RAISES GRANTED

SAN BERNARDINO, Feb. 28.—The question of salary increases for the elective officers of the San Bernardino city government will not be submitted to the voters of the city this year, it has been decided by the City Council. After having passed the first reading last week an ordinance calling for a special election on the question April 1 has been voted down. Opposition to the proposal developed among the taxpayers, who indicated to council members that the proposed special election would, in all probability, fail this time, it was stated.

DEDICATED TO INDIANS

RIVERSIDE, Feb. 28.—The new Sherman Institute Protestant chapel, fruition of a dream of a decade, a magnificent and unique building of Spanish architecture, costing $32,000, has been dedicated to the unity of Protestant service for the Indian boys and girls who will attend this institution in future years. Present were 700 Indian children, among whom and their teachers and employes was contributed at the service $1272.

EMPLOYES WIN POINT

LONG BEACH, Feb. 28.—Municipal employes have won their fight to have the city close shops on all holidays which have been declared legal by the state. They forced the adoption of a city ordinance by the City Council to have all state holidays declared legal holidays here. In the past the City Council authorized all legal holidays for the city and the municipal employes the day before holidays rolled around.

BIG FRIUT SHIPMENT

ANAHEIM, Feb. 28.—The Anaheim Citrus Fruit association, during the year ended November 1, shipped 338,440 boxes of citrus fruit, or 846 carloads, all but 136 boxes, which were grapefruit, being oranges. The association has 272 active members and holds an acreage of 2790, of which 472 acres were added in 1924.

NEW PAVILION COMPLETE

BALBOA, Feb. 28.—Last detail of service has been completed on the new bathing pavilion of the Corona Del Mar estate of W. S. Sparr of Glendale, Riverside and Los Angeles, it is announced by Capt. Thomas W. Sheffield, resident manager, who said the estate is ready to cater to the wants of the public.

SUNLAND NOTES

SUNLAND, Feb. 28.—The building of homes in Sunland Park addition will now be actively undertaken and pushed. The subdividers, Newmire & Ohm, have completed their work on a subdivision which they have had underway in Glendora, and have moved their equipment to Sunland Park. They plan to build complete homes.

EVENING NEWS MAKES BUSINESS SURVEY OF CITY

CLASSIFICATION OF VARIOUS CONCERNS

Business, Industries and Professions, Are Listed According to Year In Which Each Is Established In Glendale

EVERY EFFORT WAS MADE in the time allowed to get a complete classification of the business, industrial and professional people of Glendale. Should any have been omitted, they are requested to communicate with the Business Survey Editor of The Glendale Evening News, 139 South Brand, telephone Glendale 4000, and they will be accorded classification.

BORTHICK BROS., real estate, 244 South Brand bouevard; established 1896. E. W. Borthick, manager. Pioneering in a new field, before even they could realize the height of Glendale's growth, Borthick Bros. have had much to do with this city's development. To their credit must be chalked some of the most important real estate transactions in the history of the San Fernando valley.

1898

F. W. McINTYRE, real estate, 724 East Broadway; established 1898. F. W. McIntyre, manager. One of the earliest pioneers of the real estate business in Glendale, F. W. McIntyre has had much to do with the development of this portion of the San Fernando valley.

1900

1902

GLENDALE SANITARIUM & HOSPITAL; sanitarium and hospital, sanitarium, 1509 East Wilson avenue, hospital, 142 North Jackson street; established June, 1902. Dr. A. W. Truman, medical superintendent. The Glendale Sanitarium and hospital, about a year ago, completed its new modern institution, adding a beauty spot to Glendale and prestige to itself. Patients, many of them famed throughout the world, come here from all parts of the globe. The sanitarium is one of the best equipped and manned in the country.

1903

DR. S. A. ALLEN, dentistry, 405 Lawson building; established December, 1903. Dr. S. A. Allen, dentist.

1904

Business Survey Of Great Value To City

THE GLENDALE EVENING NEWS in today's edition presents a business, industrial and professional survey of the city of Glendale. The business houses, industrial plants and professional people are arranged according to the year each was established here The survey purposely omits those who entered business here and later ceased operation. It is possible that some who are in business have been omitted. This, however, was not purposely done, for The Glendale Evening News made every effort to secure a complete classification. For days a business survey coupon was published in this newspaper with the explanation that it was to be filled out and forwarded to this office. Also, this newspaper used the mails, the telephone and other means to make its classification as complete as possible in the time permitted for the huge task. However, if any find themselves omitted, kindly telephone the Business Survey Editor, The Glendale Evening News, 139 South Brand, Glendale 4000, and a suitable announcement will be gladly made. Particular attention is called to the fact that automobile dealers do NOT appear classified with the other businesses. The auto industry plays such a prominent part in the city's progress that it is given a special position, the dealers being indexed by the make of car or cars sold. The Glendale Evening News believes that this business survey will prove of great value to the business, industrial and professional interests of the community. In fact, the survey will prove of importance to the community at large. Many facts and figures are brought out that will be of interest and value. Further, The Glendale Evening News plans to continue the development of the survey, and those who are not represented in today's edition should immediately communicate with this newspaper and participate in the progress record of the community.

GLENDALE BRANCH SECURITY TRUST & SAVINGS BANK, general banking, 100-102 North Brand boulevard; established November, 1905 as First National Bank of Glendale. R. F. Kitterman, manager. Believing in the future of the San Fernando valley, this bank recently completed building one of the most modern office structures in the south. Courteous service and safe banking are featured.

1906

PACIFIC TELEPHONE & TELEGRAPH CO., public service, 15 South Brand boulevard; established May, 1906. Fred Deal, manager. Belief in the future growth of Glendale has resulted in the installation here of equipment designed to serve a great increase in population. The present growth of the city necessitated the construction of a modern telephone plant that gives adquate service. Since its establishment in 1906 the plant has doubled its capacity time after time, keeping pace with Glendale progress.

DR. RAYMOND E. CHASE, physician and surgeon, 310 Lawson building; established 1906. Dr. Raymond E. Chase, physician.

T. R. CROSWELL, real estate, 213 West Broadway; established June, 1906. T. R. Croswell, proprietor. Nineteen years in business has given T. R. Croswell a deep insight into real estate values in Glendale and the San Fernando valley, making him especially fitted to give investment advice to clients.

J. F. McCLISH, realtor, 111 South Glendale avenue; established 1906. J. F. McClish, proprietor. One of the finest recommendations for any man is the length of time he remains in business in one location. If he makes for himself a successful career during that time, his ability is recognized as above the average. J. F. McClish is rightfully proud of his record.

MILTON HESSE, contractor, building, 228 North Jackson street; established December, 1907. Milton Hesse, contractor. Pretty residences and substantial business buildings stand as monuments to his work in Glendale. During his period of business since 1907 Hesse has done his part in city progress. He is one of the men who had an important part in building down-town Glendale.

H. L. MILLER CO., real estate, loans, insurance, 109 South Brand boulevard; established April, 1907. H. L. Miller, proprietor. This company has been active in the real estate field in Glendale for nearly eighteen years, and today is rated as one of the most substantial in the city.

GLENDALE HARDWARE CO., hardware, 601 East Broadway; established April, 1907. James Webb, manager. The men who organized this firm eighteen years ago had the utmost faith that Glendale some day would be a city of importance. Today they are reaping the benefit of that foresight. The company has one of the most complete hardware stocks in the city, and uses modern methods of display and delivery.

GLENDALE CREAMERY CO., dairy products, 755 West Doran street; established March, 1908. William P. MacMullin, Smith MacMullin, proprietors. Rapid development of Glendale and the districts immediately adjacent to this city has made the work of the Glendale Creamery company extremely important. It has kept pace, however, with Glendale's growth and now is equipped to serve even a more densely populated territory.

GLENDALE HARDWARE CO., hardware, 601 East Broadway; established June, 1908. James Webb, proprietor. Faith of its founder in the future of Glendale was not misplaced. In 1908 one had to be a confirmed optimist to foresee the metropolitan district that would be this city in 1925. But the man who opened the doors of the Glendale Hardware company in June, 1908 was one. He now is building his business with an eye to still greater development in the future. Don H. Webb, his son, plays a prominent part in the progress of the company.

VALLEY SUPPLY CO., hay, grain, supplies and fuel, 208-214 North Howard street; established 1908. V. M. Hollister, manager. Foresight on the part of its founders netted big returns to the Valley Supply Co. It is an important merchandising agency of the San Fernando valley, with a complete stock of feed, poultry supplies and all kinds of fuel.

O. M. NEWBY, realtor, 107 South Central avenue; established 1908. O. M. Newby, proprietor. This real estate office was launched at about the time Glendale began its rapid growth to its present size. During the past seventeen years O. M. Newby has handled hundreds of transfers and leases that were highly important to the city's development.

Study of Many Concerns Will Show Why City Is Fastest Growing In America; March of Prosperity Is Unbroken

THE GLENDALE EVENING NEWS herewith presents a business, industrial and professional survey of the city of Glendale, classified by the year each firm or person was established. It is planned to continue the survey, and any who may have been omitted are requested to immediately communicate with the Business Survey Editor of this newspaper.

GLENDALE BOOK STORE, books and stationery, 113 South Brand boulevard; established May, 1909. C. H. Bott, proprietor. For sixteen years Glendale has been supplied with countless books by the Glendale Book Store. No one can estimate the transactions for which materials were supplied—ledgers, cash books, paper and ink—by that same institution. And during that sixteen years a reputation has been built that is worthy of any business. The Glendale Book Store now is one of the finest institutions of its kind in the South.

McGEE'S DRY GOODS STORE, dry goods, furnishings, shoes, 614 East Broadway; established May, 1909. R. M. McGee, proprietor. When Glendale was much younger and her future looked far less rosy than it does now, the McGee dry goods store was founded. Today it is still building and expanding for an even greater Glendale in the future. A complete line of high grade merchandise is carried.

J. A. NEWTON ELECTRIC CO., electrical contractor and dealer, 154 South Brand boulevard; established June 20, 1910. J. A. Newton, president and manager. During fifteen years that the J. A. Newton Electric company has been in business in Glendale, its founders have watched and kept apace with the development of electricity. They have added new lines and broadened their knowledge with the advent of the radio, electrical household equipment and other things electrical that have somewhat lessened the burden of humanity and added to its enjoyment. The company has now one of the most complete radio shops in the city.

GLENDALE BEAUTY SHOP, beauty culture, 103-A North Brand boulevard; established 1910. Rose B. Anderson, proprietor. Probably in no other business has there been such development during the last fifteen years. Nor is there an art in which one must be so versatile to meet the demand and the taste of its public. Fads come and go. New beauty discoveries are made almost daily. Yet this institution has kept well in the lead in the march of progress, with the result that today it is one of the most popular of beauty shops.

road; established December, 1910. George V. Black, proprietor. To pioneer a drug store in a newly opened district and make it a real success requires nerve, a faith in ones own ability and an even greater faith in the future of the territory. But this drug store has passed through fifteen years of trials and successes. Today it can supply everything that one finds in modern drug stores, from magazines and ice cream cones to the most difficult pharmaceutical prescription.

FOX-WOODSUM LUMBER CO., building materials, 714 East California avenue; established November, 1910. Frank L. Fox, president. This institution began business in Glendale just as the city started to put aside its swaddling clothes to emerge as a community to be reckoned with in Southern Califfornia business affairs. As a result the Fox-Woodsum Lumber company has furnished the materials with which many of the finest structures that have made Glendale famous as a city of beautiful buildings, were erected. Now it easily retains its place as one of the best stocked building material institutions in Los Angeles county.

J. F. STANFORD, contractor, real estate, insurance, 227-A South Brand boulevard; established 1910. J. F. Stanford, proprietor. Fifteen years of business in Glendale has made for J. F. Stanford a reputation for square dealing and a knowledge of real estate values. He conducts an active insurance department in connection with his contracting and real estate business.

ROY L. KENT CO., real estate and building, 130 South Brand boulevard; established March, 1910. Roy L. Kent, proprietor. Many of the finest homes in Glendale may be credited to this builder. He has aided in the financing of a large number of office buildings and residences.

EDWARDS & WILDEY CO., realtors, 100 North Central avenue; established 1910. Godfrey Edwards, O. G. Wildey, proprietors. Brought into existence when Glendale was first recognized as an important unit of Southern California, this firm safely passed through booms and depressions, and today is recognized as one of the most substantial.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK IN GLENDALE, general banking, 1265 South Brand boulevard; established February, 1910. Ross Walker, assistant cashier. This institution has grown and expanded with Glendale. It has helped to organize and finance some of the most substantial business houses in the city today. It maintains complete commercial and trust, as well as savings, departments. Its banking equipment is the best.

TOLEDO GAS FLOOR FURNACE, furnaces, 360 West California avenue; established January, 1911. Clem Moore, representative. Aided by natural forces and the Southern California climate, the Toledo gas floor furnace has been installed in a great many Glendale homes since that company first saw the business opportunities here in 1911. Glendale does not have the severe winter weather that requires huge coal stoves used in Chicago. Southern California has natural gas. Hence, the gas floor furnace, built to eliminate the dangerous carbon monoxide fumes that recently caused many deaths in Los Angeles.

ARBOR REST HOME, sanitarium, 1209 East Lexington drive; established August, 1911. Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Grant, proprietors. When people who live in the north or east get "that run-down feeling" they come to Southern California to recuperate. Many of them come to Arbor Rest Home, a modern sanitarium that is justified in using that name. Modern equipment is used by a thoroughly trained personnel.

CORNWELL & KELTY, hardware, 107 South Brand boulevard; established February, 1911. A. G. Cornwell, Daniel Kelty, Jr., proprietors. There is hardly a business that must depend so much on a reputation for fair dealing and honest merchandise as hardware. That Cornwell & Kelty has expanded and grown to its present place in Glendale is its greatest recommendation. Good hardware first; fair prices and quantity buying with real service have been the backbone of its growth. The firm is playing a prominent part in the city's growth.

GLENDALE PAINT & PAPER CO., paints, wallpaper, 119 South Brand boulevard; established September, 1912. William Hunter, proprietor. If an honest poll were taken to determine what individual or business firm had the most to do with making Glendale a city beautiful, there is every reason to believe that many of the votes would be cast for this company. Its paint covers the outside and its wallpaper the inside of many homes and business houses here. The company is prepared to fill any painting and papering requirement.

SMITH'S GROCERY, grocery and market, 111 East Chestnut street; established December, 1912. Gordon L. Smith, proprietor. Few lines of endeavor have to face keener competition than do grocery stores. But for thirteen years Smith's Grocery has filled orders and given good values. As a result, it has prospered and expanded. Its greatest endorsement is the number of people who have made the grocery a personal institution by trading there year after year.

MEECH & DAUGHERTY, auto repair and garage, 410 Los Feliz road; established 1912. C. M. Meech, J. E. Daugherty, proprietors. When Meech & Daugherty started in business in 1912 there were many garage men who believed that all motorists were "suckers" and acted accordingly. This company, however, took the attitude that permanence in business depended on service and fair dealing. That belief has paid them good returns and has made them many friends. They are well equipped to handle any auto repair job.

GLENDALE FEED & FUEL CO., AND VALLEY SUPPLY CO., feed and fuel, 208-214 North Howard street; established June, 1912. V. M. Hollister, R. M. Brown, proprietors. With Glendale as its headquarters and the whole San Fernando valley as its market, this company has kept pace with valley development. Its feed and supply department has made itself firm in the regard of valley ranchers, while its fuel department is called upon, month after month, by both householders and business firms of Glendale. All of the departments are well stocked.

JAMES W. PEARSON, realtor, insurance, bonds, loans, 715 South Brand boulevard; established June, 1912. James W. Pearson, proprietor. The owner of this office was one of the pioneers in the Glendale real estate field. His foresight of thirteen years ago has been well rewarded. He has had much to do with the development of the community.

DR. R. V. HOGUE, dentistry, 104 South Brand boulevard; established September, 1912. Dr. R. V. Hogue, dentist.

CROFTON SHOE STORE, shoes, 105 North Brand boulevard; established December, 1912. David G. Crofton, proprietor. A valuable stock of the popular brands of better shoes has been carried at the Crofton shoe store since its inception in 1912. Only experienced clerks are employed with the result that patrons get correct fits that prevent foot trouble.

JEWEL CITY UNDERTAKING CO., morticians, 137 North Orange street; established February, 1913. J. E. Phillips, president. There is no time in the lives of men when greater efficiency, greater tact and more devoted service is needed than when the mortician is summoned. The Jewel City Undertaking company has always given the kind of service that holds for it the deep regard of remaining members of stricken families. That kind of service has made the company most valuable to Glendale.

BARBER SHOP, barber work, 119 West Broadway; established June, 1913 at 109 South Brand boulevard. P. F. Rentfrow, proprietor. Because the life of a barber shop is dependent entirely on quality of service, many pass out of existence before more than a few anniversaries can be celebrated. This one, however, has shaved Glendale faces and cut the hair of Glendale men for twelve years. And more recently it has bobbed the heads of hundreds of Glendale women. No further word is needed.

ROBERTS & ECHOLS, drugs, 100 South Brand boulevard; established November, 1913. F. H. Roberts, Frank Echols, proprietors. Displaying keen foresight, Roberts & Echols foresaw the development of Glendale and Brand boulevard and in 1913 hung out their shingle. Today they have one of the most up-to-date and complete drug stores in the city. They have made their fountain department one of the most popular and have built up a reputation for careful attention in the prescription department. The city is proud of the firm's fine building at the southeast corner of Brand and Broadway.

DR. P. O. LUCAS, dentistry, 1243 South Brand boulevard; established June, 1913. Dr. P. O. Lucas, dentist.

GLENDALE MILL CO., building materials, 226 North Geneva street; established 1913. L. E. Nale, manager. For twelve years the Glendale Mill Co. has been furnishing the lumber, the doors, windows and mill-work for hundreds of residences and business houses. The growth of the company has been in proportion to the growth of Glendale. It has entirely modern equipment and a big stock of products in its warehouses.

GLENDALE SAVINGS BANK, 204-208 Security building; established general banking, 101-103 South Brand boulevard; established May, 1913. H. E. Francy, cashier. Specializing in savings accounts, but doing a general banking and trust business, this bank has made itself an important unit of Glendale business. Experienced bankers, closely in touch with the outside financial world, are back of the institution.

DR. H. C. SMITH, physician, 201 West Broadway; established November, 1913. Dr. H. C. Smith, physician.

SPENCER ROBINSON, realtor, 616 East Broadway; established 1913. Spencer Robinson, proprietor. One of the pioneers of the real estate business in Glendale, Spencer Robinson had the vision twelve years ago to see the Glendale of today. Now he looks forward to the metropolitan city that will be here in another twelve years.

BENTLEY LUMBER CO., building materials, 460 West Los Feliz road; established January, 1914. John Bentley, president. From Puget Sound the Bentley Lumber company has obtained spruce and pine; hardwoods from California and the orient; cedar shingles hewed from "shakes" in British Columbia and building materials from factories in every corner of America. All these the company has gathered together and brought to Glendale builders. Already it has furnished the materials to build many of Glendale's homes and blocks. It is planning and is prepared to supply the material for many more.

SHOE SHOP, shoe repairing, 1503 South San Fernando road; established 1914. W. L. Floyd, proprietor. For eleven years this shop has kept the shoe leather of countless Glendale citizens in condition. Its customers have been sent away week after week, year after year, their shoes as nearly good as new as it was possible to make them. Shoe repairmen have been known to fix shoes in faulty fashion, believing that they would wear out sooner, thereby giving them more work. Floyd doesn't work on that principle. He believes that only the best of work and service will result in returning customers.

PACIFIC UNION CONFERENCE, Seventh-Day Adventist headquarters, 603 East Broadway; established June, 1914. Elder J. L. McElhany, president. As early as 1914 Glendale was recognized as a religious center of Southern California. The Pacific Union conference has directed religious activities of the Seventh-day Adventists and conducted religious meetings at its headquarters here since that time.

GLENDALE MUSIC CO., radio, pianos, phonographs, 118 South Brand boulevard; established April, 1914. F. J. and Vincent Salmacia, proprietors. Advancing as science progresses, the Glendale Music Co., has attained a place in the Glendale radio field that is most important. The radio department was added to the already complete line of pianos and phonographs when the air first began to be filled with static, music and bedtime stories. Buying only proved instruments the company has built a reputation here for reliable products and fairly graduated prices. The city is proud of the fine three story building recently erected by the Glendale Music Co.

DR. C. R. LUSBY, dentistry, Security building; established July, 1914. Dr. C. R. Lusby, dentist.

L. G. SCOVERN CO., mortuary, 828 South Brand boulevard; established November, 1914. L. G. Scovern, proprietor. Dignified service at reasonable cost, and a human understanding of clients in their time of need have given the L. G. Scovern Co. an exceptionally friendly place in the hearts of scores of Glendale people. The company has a modern equipment and experienced aides.

FANSET DYE WORKS, cleaning, dyeing, 2995 Glendale boulevard; established February, 1914. Lincoln Heyes, manager. Housed in a modern structure, the Fanset Dye Works is one of the most modernly equipped cleaning plants in the south. Its trade is drawn from all over Glendale and surrounding communities. A fast system of delivery is maintained.

J. A. ENDICOTT, realtor, 116 South Brand boulevard; established 1915. J. A. Endicott, proprietor. Since the inception of this office ten years ago J. A. Endicott has been an important factor in many real estate transactions. At the present time he has charge of a number of extremely important leases in the down-town business section.

1916

EL CONTENTO, rest home, 426 South Adams street; established April, 1916. Mrs. A. V. Tarling, proprietor. From a busy, rushing world El Contento draws its patients. Broken by hurry and strain they get both mental and physical relaxation in the finest kind of "homey" surroundings and are given the best of medical attention by a competent personnel.

MONARCH AUTO SUPPLY, INC., auto supplies, 204 South Brand boulevard; established October, 1916. H. M. Butts, president. In a field where competition is great, the Monarch Auto Supply company, Inc., has built up a following of satisfied customers that is invaluable. In this business it is necessary, if one is to meet all demands, to carry a stock of merchandise that seems almost endless. This company carries a complete stock.

GLENDALE TILE & MANTEL CO., fixtures and flooring, 107 East Doran street; established April, 1916. Joseph Fortunato, manager. Building and development in Glendale during the past nine years has aided this firm in building to its present state of efficiency. The work and service of its personnel has done the rest. Carrying a complete line of fixtures and flooring it has done its part in building Glendale.

SUNSET MERCANTILE SERVICE, collections, credit reports, 221-A West Broadway; established November, 1916. D. B. Pingree, manager. Filling one of the most necessary niches in modern business, the Sunset Mercantile Service has retained the friendship and respect of both creditors and debtors. Tact and the use of a modern, human system in collections and obtaining credit reports has had much to do with its success.

GLENDALE AUTO WRECKING CO., auto wrecking, 1010 East Broadway; established November, 1916. H. Doorken, manager. Few businesses of this nature have had the success that has marked the progress of the Glendale Auto Wrecking Co. in the past eight years. On the policy of square dealing both with individuals from whom purchases are made and with customers, the establishment has won its way into favor.

H. S. WEBB & CO., dry goods, 139 North Brand boulevard; established June, 1917. H. S. Webb, proprietor. There have been trying times since the World war for dealers in dry goods. Those times are past, and it is on recommendation of H. S. Webb & Co., that they weathered the storms with ease. They carry an exceptionally high grade stock of dry goods. That is one reason for their success. The other reasons include prices that are fair to their customers and themselves, and the right kind of service. The company is in fine home specially built for it.

The PIONEER PRINTING C, job printers and publishers, 3 East Broadway, formerly the Clover Company; established December 1, 1917. Fred Wilkins, manager. Printing is an art, and the Pioneer Printing company is familiar with that art to the high degree. Coupled with detailed knowledge of price estimates it permit fair pricing the company has built an enviable business in Glendale and has even obtained work in Los Angeles and other surrounding cities.

DR. J. P. LUCCOCK, dentistry, 620 East Broadway; established May, 1917. Dr. J. P. Luccock, dentist.

H. S. WEBB & CO., department store, 139 North Brand boulevard; established June, 1917. H. S. Webb, manager. With one of the finest department store stocks of merchandise in Glendale, this establishment has won wide recognition among shoppers. Employes are courteous and prices are low for the quality of merchandise that is handled. Since its organization the store has been expanded a number of times.

WEBB'S MEN'S STORE, men's furnishings, 105 South Brand boulevard; established June, 1918. H. S. Webb, proprietor. Although a relatively recent business in Glendale, this shop has established a permanent niche here. Buying to best advantage, the store is enabled to pass on savings on merchandise to its customers, although keeping the standard of that merchandise at the highest point.

TROPICO FEED & FUEL CO., feed and fuel, 1507 South San Fernando road; established November, 1918. C. J. Tuttle, manager. Within the past few years the Tropico Feed & Fuel company has established itself as one of the most important industries of Glendale. Placing on sale here only the highest quality feed and fuel at reasonable prices the firm is continually enlarging its list of customers.

BAKER HARDWARE STORE, hardware, 1413 South San Fernando road; established 1918. L. L. Baker, proprietor. Rapid growth of Glendale during and just after the war opened the field for an additional hardware merchant. Building on the assumption that the future growth of Glendale will be even greater, the Baker hardware store is already prepared to meet an unprecedented demand for hardware commodities and building hardware.

CHANDLER'S FURNITURE, furniture, 119 North Glendale avenue; established 1918. F. N. Chandler, proprietor. With one of the most complete lines of good furniture for every room in every residence in the city, this company has made a remarkable growth in seven years of business. The display rooms are filled with every conceivable kind of fine furniture. A line of gas ranges, refrigerators and similar home necessities is also carried in stock.

DR. A. R. GILKERSON, chiropractor, 111 East Broadway; established January, 1918. Dr. A. R. Gilkerson, chiropractor.

GATEWAY MARKET, groceries and meats, 1750 South San Fernando road; established July, 1918. Claude Caswell, proprietor. The owner has the experience and personality that enable him to conduct a modern market with the greatest efficiency. The trend toward grocery and meat stores of this character was but well under way in 1918. The Gateway market is filling the demand well in its district.

HARROWER LABORATORY, pluri-glandular products, 920 East Broadway; established March, 1918. R. E. Spicer, president. The backers of this scientific laboratory in 1918 had faith in the Glendale of the future. They believe now that their faith was justified. A relatively new business, its success has been built on quality and right dealing. The business was founded by Henry R. Harrower and its business is world wide.

ANDERSON EXPRESS & TRANSFER CO., express and transfer, 118 North ouise street; established February, 1919. F. W. Anderson, proprietor. Proper equipment for safe and quick delivery, in the hands of careful, licensed employes has made this one of the successful transfer companies of Glendale. A fleet of trucks are kept busy daily to give rapid service.

LIFE INSURANCE, 348 West Park avenue; established July, 1919. E. C. Hurlbert, agent. During the past decade life insurance and life insurance agents have earned their place in the business and professional world. It is agencies of the type of this one that had much to do with raising the standard of the profession to its present status.

LAURA'S RESTAURANT, restaurant and fountain, 1517 South San Fernando road; established 1919. Mrs. A. LaCom, proprietor. Furnishing food and drink for the hungry multitude is one of the most useful of occupations. It is done properly in Laura's restaurant. Expert chefs prepare the food and careful, attentive waitresses serve it.

C. & S. CAFETERIA, restaurant, 222 North Brand boulevard; established May, 1919. J. T. Stewart, owner. Quickness in serving is one of the principal

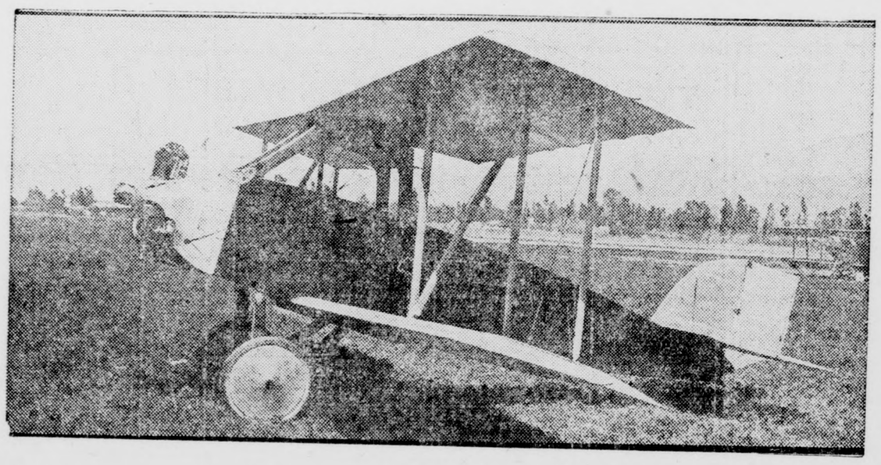
The 1925 Model Kinner Airster



It is a significant fact that the new 1925 model Kinner Airster is the same sport plane, with the exception of a few minor details, that was designed by this company more than six years ago.

No greater tribute could be paid the Kinner Airster than to say that our engineers, in six years of study, have been unable to discover one single radical change which would make more efficient America's most successful sport plane.

The popularity of the Kinner Airster may be judged by the fact that in six years of production we have never been able to place a new plane on our sales floor.

While all planes now under production are sold, we are in a position to accept a limited number of advance orders for spring delivery.

COMPARE THE WORK

"Compare the Work" is more than a slogan. It is a fair invitation and an appeal to the intelligence of the typewriter buyer and user. It is also an expression of confidence by the Royal Typewriter Company in their product.

The Royal Typewriter was designed and built to answer the last word in that office efficiency which aggressive business organizations must have.

The most responsive elastic key-action ever devised enables the typist to do better work with much less effort.

Its beautiful press-work has a distinction which makes one letter stand out among many. "Royal" clear-cut type impressions reinforce the result-getting power of business correspondence. Forceful quality is added to every letter signed.

The twenty special "Royal" features illustrated and described in the Royal booklet give graphically an insight of the master mechanical achievements which have given the Royal typewriter its world-wide reputation.

For a light portable typewriter for home or office, you cannot secure a more practical machine than the practical reasons for cafeterias. To that the C. & S. cafeteria adds wholesome, well cooked food and exceptionally reasonable prices. Cleanliness is paramount in the cafeteria kitchen.

GLENDALE PHARMACY, drugs, 638 East Broadway; established June, 1919. B. P. Tolson, M. S. Burchhartt, proprietors. Less than six years old, the Glendale Pharmacy has built up a valuable clientele by proper preparation of physicians' prescriptions, and it has made its fountain extremely popular. A complete line of periodicals is also handled by the pharmacy.

GLENDALE PHONOGRAPH CO., phonographs, radio, pianos, 109 North Brand boulevard; established January, 1919. William Bode, manager. With the finest toned musical instruments to be obtained, and by keeping pace with the progress of the radio this company has quickly built up a substantial business in Glendale. Many of the radio sets installed in Glendale homes were installed by the Glendale Phonograph company.

GOOD & BELEW, cleaning and dyeing, 110 East Broadway; established May, 1919. R. E. Good, O. W. Belew, proprietors. A business that rejuvenates old and soiled clothes and turns them back to the owner as good as new. The owners have made a study of the proper treatment of clothing, and on the results of that study they have built a successful business. They are fully equipped to give proper service.

WILLIAM H. HOOPER & CO., service station, 222 East Broadway; established July, 1919. William H. Hooper, proprietor. During the last few years service stations have gone through a period of evolution and today are an extremely important industry. William H. Hooper & Company in 1919 founded what was destined to become one of the biggest and best in Glendale. Besides dispensing hundreds of gallons of gasoline daily to motorists, they handle greases, oils and other necessary adjuncts to motor travel.

ARTHUR CAMPBELL, realtor, 110 East Broadway; established August, 1919. Arthur Campbell, proprietor. Honest salesmanship and a knowledge of business conditions as related to future growth have aided in the success of this office.

W. E. MERCER, realtor, 624 East Broadway; established November, 1919. W. E. Mercer, proprietor. Launched during the period of business depression immediately after the close of the war, this office safeguarded its clients and successfully engineered numerous important transactions.

McMILLAN & SCHUYLER, realtors, 122 West Broadway; established March, 1919. William McMillan, E. L. Schuyler, proprietors.

ARTHUR CAMPBELL, real estate and insurance, 110 East Broadway; established August, 1919. Arthur Campbell, proprietor. A thorough knowledge of realty values that prevents loss to clients through inflation, has made this real estate dealer valuable to investors.

MOTHER'S FAVORITE COOKIE CO., wholesale cookie bakers, 131-133 North Howard street; established January, 1919. I. A. Ford, manager. A knack of making cookies "just like mother used to make," was brought to this business six years ago. Now it has one of the largest wholesale outputs of any baker in this territory. Products of the company are continually sought by housewives who thereby escape the drudgery of cookie making at home.

LOS ANGELES AUTO ASSOCIATION, auto club, 406 South Brand boulevard; established March, 1919. J. W. Botsford, representative. Tremendous increase in the population and automobiles in Glendale brought this auto club branch to Glendale six years ago. General automobile and touring information is available here for members of the club and the general public.

J. F. STANFORD, realtor, 227-A South Brand boulevard; established 1919. J. F. Stanford, proprietor.

PETER HANSON, realtor, 520 Security building; established May, 1919. Peter Hanson, proprietor. During nearly six years of business in Glendale, this office has handled a number of leasing and transfer negotiations that were of great importance to the city.

W. E. MERCER, real estate, 624 East Broadway; established November, 1919. W. E. Mercer, proprietor. A number of valuable business leases and realty transfers have passed through this office since it was organized more than five years ago.

CHESTER'S WINDOW CLEANING SERVICE, window and house cleaning, 208 East Broadway; established January, 1920. J. E. Chester, proprietor. When one sells service only, that service must be above par to live and thrive in the face of competition. Good work, fast service and small charges for labor are Chester's bids for clients.

GUARANTEE PLUMBERS, plumbing, 1515 San Fernando road; established 1920. J. C. Stow, proprietor. Launched a Glendale during the so-called after-the-war slump, this company succeeded through merit and expanded when some other businesses were in a slump. Employes of Guarantee Plumber know their business. Plumbing equipment sold by the company is better than the average.

GROCERY AND MARKET groceries and meat, 1405 South San Fernando road; established October, 1920. A. E. Bradshaw proprietor. One of Bradshaw's reasons for success with his grocery and market is his care in handling vegetables, meat and groceries. Crisp, fresh lettuce sells better than limp, dried-up heads. He believes that trade increases when customers know meat is always fresh and tender.

KAIGHIN'S, candy manufacturer, 120-122 South Maryland avenue; established June, 1920. C. A. Kaighin, proprietor. Pure ingredients make pure candy, and absolute cleanliness keeps it pure, in the opinion of C. A. Kaighin. He operates his candy factory on that principle, and the results show in the marked patronage that is given his place of business.

RALPH W. BROWNE, photography, 215 North Brand boulevard; established October, 1920. Ralph W. Browne, proprietor. The first requisite for a successful photographer is to know photography. Ralph W. of the stage. The school gives its students a good foundation and all the fundamentals for later success.

LABORATORY, experimental work and repairing, 908 South Central avenue; established September, 1922. S. A. Willis, proprietor. This organization furnishes the equipment and materials for the experiments of others. It is from institutions such as this that the world's inventions are perfected.

ALDRIDGE BARBER SHOP, barbering, 144 South Brand boulevard; established December, 1922. J. M. Aldridge, proprietor. Some men are extremely particular about the manner in which they are shaved; they are careful of the trim of their hair. Many such men are patrons of J. M. Aldridge. During the past year he has also devoted some of his talents to bobbing, and in that line his success has been just as pronounced.

GLOBE BUILDERS' SUPPLY CO., building supplies, 214 West Broadway; established December, 1922. A. B. Gottlieb, proprietor. This is the firm that furnished much of the building supplies for a large number of the new bungalows and residences that have been constructed in Glendale during the past four years.

SHAFE'S STATIONERY STORE, office supplies and art goods, 123-A South Brand boulevard; established December, 1922. J. H. Shafe, proprietor. A successful office supply and art store must carry a myriad of articles that are Greek to the average person. But the store manager must know the names of them and what they are intended for. Only then can he give adequate service to his customers. This merchant knows his business.

LITTLE INN, restaurant, 442 West Los Feliz road; established August, 1922. A. H. Hendrickson, M. S. Chalker, proprietors. While probably small in size as some inns go, this restaurant is large in the amount of business it transacts daily. Patrons return day after day. The Inn is making new friends regularly by clean, wholesome food and excellent service.

SOUTH GLENDALE MARKET, vegetables, fruits and groceries, 1419 South San Fernando road; established 1922. T. Funatsu, proprietor. This market, only three years old, has gained a firm foothold in its community by knowing how to buy, how to display its wares and how to sell. Its owner believes in taking only a small margin of profit, and giving the benefit of his savings in buying to the ultimate consumer.

GLENDALE SASH & DOOR CO., millwork, 1415 Gardena, doors and much of the moulding in the more recent structures in Glendale are the product of this company. Honest merchandising methods, truthful advertising and high grade merchandise are responsible for this showing.

SCHRAM REALTY OFFICE, real estate, 406 West Los Feliz road; established 1922. H. E. Schram, proprietor. This office has to its credit many of the attractive realty transfers that have been effected since it was organized three years ago.

ED. NISLE, men's furnishings, 135½ South Brand boulevard; established March, 1922. Ed Nisle, proprietor. By keeping his stock up to date and standardized and by holding his prices down to the point where he makes but a fair margin of profit, Ed Nisle has attracted to him some of the finest trade in Glendale.

ED. N. RADKE, jewelry and optometry, 109½ South Brand boulevard; established April, 1922. Ed N. Radke, proprietor. There are few lines of work that require more balanced technic or more professional skill than those of the optometrist and jeweler. The owner of this institution has made a reputation that is enviable during his three years in business.

THE POPPY SHOPPE, confectionery, 125 North Brand boulevard; established March, 1922. Charles E. Jones, proprietor. Three years of business in Glendale has made the Poppy Shoppe one of the most popular of its kind. Prices are kept at a reasonable figure and the wares, well protected from contamination, are as well displayed.

ACACIA PHARMACY, retail drugs, 922 South Glendale avenue; established November, 1922. G. C. Harris, proprietor. Careful attention to physicians' orders in filling prescriptions and holding the merchandise in all departments to supply a maximum demand has made the Acacia one of the most successful pharmacies in the city.

BROADWAY CENTRAL MARKET, grocery, meat, vegetables, 217-221 West Broadway; established October, 1922. This is a complete food emporium, containing all departments to be found in a modern market, meat, bakery, delicatessen, fruit and vegetables. The grocery is owned by Von's chain of stores.

THE QUALITY SHOP, women's wear, 110 South Brand boulevard; established October, 1922. This shop has endeavored to fulfill every obligation implied by the name and has succeeded to a remarkable degree. It is a metropolitan unit in every way and is conducted in a metropolitan manner. The store is centrally located and stocks are complete and conveniently arranged.

OLD BOOK SHOP, books, 114 South Maryland avenue. F. A. Estock, proprietor. Established 1922. Browsing is permitted and encouraged here. The owner has chosen as a motto, a book for everyone and for every mood.

BRAND HOTEL, hotel, 223 South Brand boulevard; established October, 1922. The owners and manager all had had extensive experience in the hotel business. There was a demand for a hotel of this character in Glendale. Therefore, it was inevitable that the Brand should flourish.

COURT TEA SHOP, tea room, 211 East Broadway; established September, 1922. Mrs. A. W. Owers, manager. A number of features have helped to make this cozy tea room a popular place in Glendale. A charming color scheme and a restful atmosphere attract those tired out from shopping. In the heart of the business district, the tea shop is at the far end of a court, far enough removed from the street to appear detached from the busy world without.

KAFATERIA SHOE STORE, shoes, 126 North Brand boulevard; established September, 1922. Eleventh of a chain of similar stores, it has made a remarkable success in the two and a half years of its existence. Quantity, big sales and a material saving to customers constitute the policy of the store.

HOLLAND AUTO REPAIR CO., auto repairs, 341 West Colorado street; established October, 1922. F. E. Holland, proprietor. The owner of this establishment had thorough training in his business before coming to Glendale. He was employed for several years in the Otto Gas Engine Works in Philadelphia, in the Pierce-Arrow and Packard factories and for the General Motors Co. He was a member of the board of experimental engineers during the war; was shot and interned in a German prison camp for six months.

QUALITY TOGGERY, ladies' and men's ready-to-wear, 111 North Glendale avenue; established March, 1922. William Sapir, proprietor. By guarding carefully against imperfect goods or shoddy garments, this store has made itself worthy of the name it bears. Prices are kept as reasonable as good business will permit. A more recent addition to Glendale, yet it has built up an excellent trade on this policy.

KIEFER & EYERICK, morticians, 305 East Broadway; established February, 1922. E. O. Kiefer, J. M. Eyerick, proprietors. One becomes very particular when he is forced to call the mortician. The methods and standing in the community; the type of men back of the company, all must be the best. That is one of the reasons Kiefer & Eyerick are called so frequently to attend to the last rites of loved ones.

BURTON McGINNIS, loans, 211 East Broadway; established March, 1922. Burton McGinnis, proprietor. Difficult and sometimes delicate problems must be solved by loan offices. Burton McGinnis has earned a reputation in Glendale for fair dealing and for an understanding of finance.

WALTER H. LEIMERT CO., real estate, Mountain street and Jackson street; established March, 1923. J. P. Riley, manager. This firm has developed Bellhurst park and has been active in the real estate field since its inception two years ago.

BURTON McGINNIS, loans and investments, 211 East Broadway; established March, 1923. Careful study of real estate values has given Burton McGinnis the necessary foundation to give honest advice to prospective investors.

DR. L. L. DAILEY, chiropractor, 111 East Harvard street; established November, 1923. Dr. L. L. Dailey, chiropractor.

HENRY'S BARBECUE, restaurant, 2211 West Verdugo road; established May, 1923. Henry O. Kilian, proprietor. Barbecued meats are made specialties in this neat restaurant, although complete meals of all descriptions are served its patrons. Established two years ago, this eating house now numbers scores of friends who regularly patronize it. Extreme care is taken for cleanliness and service is the best.

PEOPLES & HAMME, dry goods, 3210 Glendale boulevard; established July, 1923. B. Hamme, manager. With a big stock of quality merchandise at reasonable prices, and with cordial service this company has built up a lalrge trade in its territory.

COURT BEAUTY SHOPPE, beauty culture, 211 East Broadway; established August 8, 1924. Mrs. T. L. Marrin, proprietor. A thorough knowledge of the intricate art of beauty culture is an essential to success in this business. The owner of the Court Beauty Shoppe has this knowledge, thereby winning for the firm a large measure of success during the six months it has been in existence.

MAGILLS GROCERY, groceries, 420 West Park avenue; established September, 1924. Mrs. E. Magill, proprietor. Service to the community in which it is located is the aim of every grocery store. This institution has won recognition from its patrons as a modern grocery where service is spelled with a capital S.

ART SILK UNDERWEAR CO., underwear, 203 East Harvard street; established November, 1924. N. B. S. Peckham, agent. In an age of specialization this company has developed a specialty to a remarkable degree. Dealing only in silk underwear the firm is constantly adding new patrons and obtaining re-orders from those who have become acquainted with its wares.

GLENDALE WHOLESALE MARKET, fruits and vegetables, 436 West Los Feliz road; established February, 1924. Y. Tatsumi, proprietor. A direct connection between the ultimate consumer and the truck farms of Southern California. Fresh vegetables and fruit are brought every morning to this establishment to be sold during the day with but a narrow margin of profit.

GATEWAY POULTRY MARKET, poultry and eggs, 1501 South San Fernando road; established September, 1924. A. Cornelius, proprietor. Poultry, live and dressed and eggs fresh from Southern California ranches are sold at reasonable prices. The market puts the public directly in touch with the producer, in many instances eliminating numerous profits.

ALBERT THE FLORIST, florist, 220 West Los Feliz road; established October, 1924. Albert Nahama, proprietor. There is a very decided "knack" required if one would be a successful florist. He must be somewhat of an artist and he must know flowers, plants and their culture. Because Albert Nahama has that knowledge and that knack, his florist shop has met with immediate success.

EXIDE BATTERY SHOP, auto and radio batteries, 118 West Los Feliz road; established November, 1924. S. Ferguson, proprietor. The advent of the radio brought with it a closer universal touch with battery men. The Exide Battery shop was quick to take advantage of the situation and as a result it is ready to supply any kind and size of battery on a moment's notice. Its recharging department is elaborate.

E. A. MORRISON CO., groceries, 126 West Los Feliz road; established October, 1924. A. E. Morrison, manager. Buying for cash and watching continually for bargains that can be passed on to its customers has enabled this company to sell for low prices and develop a big, high class trade.

NEW ENGLAND BAKERY, bread and pastries, 126 West Los Feliz road; established October, 1924. Located in a large market building with its working and display possibilities and with overhead cut to a minimum, bread and bakery goods are turned out here daily in large quantities at quantity prices. Cleanliness is held paramount here.

YOUNG'S MARKET CO., meats, 126 West Los Feliz road; established October, 1924. Young's Market Co., Inc., proprietor. One of a big string of meat markets owned by the same corporation, this place has the immense buying power that enables it to pass on big savings to its patrons, and at the same time to sell only the best.

YOUNG'S COFFEE AND TEA DEPARTMENT, teas and coffee, 126 West Los Feliz road; established November, 1924. Young's Market Co., Inc., proprietor. Tremendous buying power of a chain-store group enables this coffee and tea department to sell all grades of its wares at prices below the average. Proper storage and grinding facilities also enable it to keep its products in the best of condition.

RUSSELL'S KITCHEN HARDWARE, kitchen ware, 126 West Los Feliz road; established October, 1924. L. E. Russell, proprietor. Display means much to the success of any kind of business, in the belief of the owner of this company. Attractive display, coupled with careful study of the desires of his customers is rapidly building success for the firm.

FIRST BOND & MORTGAGE CO., real estate, 1743 South San Fernando road; established September, 1924. C. A. Haskins, manager. Although in business here for only a few months, the First Bond & Mortgage Co. has assumed an important place in the district.

BROCK VAN & STORAGE CO., storage, moving, 403 South Central avenue; established December, 1924. F. M. Brock, manager. Equipped with modern moving vans and trucks, this company is rapidly expanding its business here. Furniture is stored under bond in a fireproof warehouse by the firm for only a small charge.

GLENDALE SMALL ANIMAL HOSPITAL, hospital for small animals, 831 Melford street; established July, 1924. Dr. G. W. Blanche, manager. The love of man for small beasts, pets and trained animals was responsible for the founding of this hospital last year. It has cared for and cured hundreds of unfortunate animals since its inception. Excellent care is taken of animals left in its charge and the treatment is the best.

HAMILTON'S, ready to wear shop, 123 South Brand boulevard; established August, 1924. E. Hemingway, manager. Truthful advertising and honest values has brought to this shop an excellent clientelle, despite the fact that it is one of the newest in Glendale. A big stock of ready-to-wears is kept on display and the employes are courteous and attentive.

SISTER POLLY CORPORATION, home-made candy specialties, 223 South Brand boulevard; established May, 1924. J. A. Paul, proprietor. Candy-making of the kind that "sister used to make" has been reduced to a fine science in this organization. Expert candy-makers only are employed and cleanliness is paramount.

GIBRALTAR FINANCE CORPORATION, real estate, securities, 248 South Brand boulevard; established September, 1924. Marvin Smith, president. Careful study of the progress of real estate values in the San Fernando valley and a knowledge of sound securities has made this one of the most successful companies of its kind in the city.

CHARLES E. MURPHEY, realtor, 169 South Central avenue; established April, 1924. Charles E. Murphey, proprietor. He knew Glendale values before he opened his office last year. He has been able to pass that information on to scores of clients during his period of business.

HANLON'S CHINA SHOPPE, white and decorated china, 138 South Maryland avenue; established June, 1924. J. M. Hanlon, proprietor. From the ends of the world the Hanlon china shop has gathered today a unique, but exceptionally complete stock of white and decorated china. Much of the work is done in the shop itself. It requires special training to be able to conduct a business of this nature. J. M. Hanlon has it.

CARL & HENRY, auto body and fender service, 122 West Colorado street; established June, 1924. J. C. Carl, manager. One of the most recent acquisitions to the automotive field, Carl & Henry have an excellent equipment and with first class work and service have already built up an enviable business here.

REA INVESTMENT CO., auto financing, 127 West Wilson; established September, 1924. J. V. Rea, proprietor. A business brought into existence by the tremendous increase in automobile sales during the past few years, the Rea Investment Co. has had a fertile field in Glendale. In the half-year that it has been in operation the firm has aided scores of individuals who could not afford to pay out a large amount of cash an opportunity to obtain automobiles for both business and pleasure.

BURR CREAMERY CO., dairy products, Los Angeles street, established October, 1924. H. A. Walsh, manager. Physicians recommend Burr's milk for children. There is no greater recommendation for milk or milk products than that. The delivery system extends entirely over the Glendale district into Los Angeles and all of the other surrounding cities.

BOWERMAN LUMBER CO., building materials, 1622 North San Fernando road; established February, 1924. Charles C. Bowerman, proprietor. In business here but one year, the Bowerman Lumber Co. points with pride to scores of homes that have been built with lumber and building materials supplied by that firm. A rapid delivery service is maintained.

VALLEY LUMBER CO., building materials, Pennsylvania and Mayfield streets, La Crescenta; established 1924. E. C. Miller, manager. We Owe a Duty to Glendale

THE first duty of a Bank is to its depositors—to guard the safety of the money they entrust to it.

A Bank's second duty is to the community in which it operates—to use its funds, in every safe manner, for the promotion and development of business and building.

Because Security Bank recognizes the first obligation, it has large deposits with which to make loans. Because we recognize the second we have become a potent factor in the growth of Glendale.

ager. Shrubbery and flowering plants are specialties with this establishment, although even in the short time it has been in business, its tree stock and garden plants have become noted. The nursery is in the care of experienced horticulturists who are glad to give much good advice as to methods of planting and growing to patrons.

WINDSOR MOTOR SUPPORT FOR FORD CARS, PACIFIC COAST BRANCH, 125 West Acacia street; established January, 1925. W. H. LaFountain, Pacific coast representative, while a new firm in the automotive accessory field, it has already made much progress here. Building on a policy of fair dealing, the company is planning expansion to keep pace with the development of Glendale.

SINALOA HOTEL & COUNTRY CLUB, construction, 116 West Los Los Feliz road; established January, 1925. J. G. Baccus, manager. Faith in the future of Glendale and the San Fernando valley is the paramount reason for the existence of this company. Extensive plans have been made for one of the most modern hotels and country clubs in Southern California.

MARYLAND PHARMACY, drugs, 200 East Wilson avenue; established February, 1925. C. A. Stuart, proprietor. A recent arrival in business here, the Maryland Pharmacy with a large stock of drug store accessories and an efficient prescription department is rapidly developing a valuable trade.

L. J. CHRISTOPHER CO., ice cream manufacture and distribution, Wilson and Concord streets; established January 29, 1925. C. G. Hitchcock, jr., manager. Consumption of ice cream that has increased even more rapidly than in proportion to the population necessitated the opening of this factory branch. Arrangements have been completed for an enormous output during this coming season.

ROYAL COFFEE SHOP, coffees and teas, 111 South Kenwood street; established February, 1925. "Coffee King" Booth, proprietor. Providing the means for Glendale housewives to obtain their coffee freshly ground and their tea well cured, the Royal Coffee Shop, although recently established, is rapidly becoming very popular.

GLENDALE PHARMACY, pharmacy, 638 East Broadway; established February, 1925; B. F. Tolsen, M. S. Burckhartt, proprietors. Taking over an already established trade but a few weeks ago, the new owners have already made themselves popular with patrons through a policy of square dealing and careful attention to their wishes.

HOTEL MARYLAND GARAGE, garage, 2063 East Wilson avenue; established January, 1925. P. F. Burnett, manager. By giving quick and efficient service and charging only reasonable rates this garage is rapidly building a generous trade. It is a fully equipped establishment. Storage is also provided for motor cars.

S. W. STRAUSS & CO., investment bonds ,225 East Broadway; established January, 1925. Wilber P. Larrabee, manager. Branch of a national investment corporation, the local office is in a position to offer exceedingly attractive investments to Glendale clients.

GOOD FELLOWS' GRILL, restaurant, 116 East Broadway; established February, 1925. Tom Mikacich, proprietor. A recent arrival in Glendale business, Goodfellows' Grill is rapidly winning for itself a sizeable group of satisfied patrons. Cleanliness in the kitchen and service is held paramount.

THE GIRLS' SHOPPE, millinery and girls' apparel, 106 West Broadway; established January, 1925. Kieft & O'Brien, proprietors. This shop was launched here recently for the purpose of filling a need among Glendale girl shoppers. It specializes on dainty things for girls and millinery especially suitable for young women.

G. EDWIN MURPHY, nursery, 233 South Glendale avenue; established January, 1925. G. Edwin Murphy, proprietor. The owner is an expert horticulturist, who knows how to make and to keep nursery products hardy and strong. He has a large tract in which plants, trees and flowers of every description is grown and sold.

MORRIS RADIO CO., radio equipment, 217 South Brand boulevard; established February, 1925. W. J. Morris, proprietor. Specially constructed radio sets, as well as models built by the better-known radio manufacturing companies are sold by this firm. A large assortment of parts for fans who would construct their own receiving sets is also carried in stock.

NEW PROPRIETORS FOR DRUG STORE

Glendale Pharmacy Is Sold By Charles Stuart to Two Missouri Men

The Glendale pharmacy at the southwest corner of Broadway and Glendale avenue, has been sold by Charles F. Stuart to Bedford Tolsom and M. S. Burckhartt, both natives of Howard county, Missouri. The new proprietors are now in charge.

Mr. Burckhartt has been a lifelong friend of Mr. Tolson. He was formerly for many years the owner of a drug store at Fayette, Mo., later engaging in the same business at Hannibal, Mo. He has been in Southern California about two years and has many friends in Glendale.

Mr. Tolson came to Southern California six months ago, from Jefferson City, Mo., where he was owner of the largest drug store between St. Louis and Kansas City. He sold out on becoming dissatisfied with the climate of his native state and chose Glendale as the place of his future business and his permanent home after surveying economic conditions throughout Southern California.

LARGE COMPANY HAS LOCAL PLANT

Burr Creamery Corporation Opened Branch Here Less Than One Year Ago

The Burr Creamery corporation opened its Glendale branch at 253 West Park avenue June 1, 1924. This is one of the large creamery companies of Southern California, with branches in many cities. The firm decided to locate in Glendale because of the rapidity of the growth of this city, according to Harry A. Walsh, manager.

"The quality of the Burr products is well known," says Mr. Walsh, "and the immediate response of Glendale people to our decision to make these products available locally is very gratifying. We have been in business here less than one year but in that time we have built up a substantial business."

BATTERY AGENCY FOUNDED IN 1912

Cizek Auto Electric Co. In Business Here More Than Twelve Years

Cizek Auto Electric Co., distributors of Willard Storage batteries, first established at the present location, corner of Brand boulevard and Colorado street, under E. W. Cizek 12 years ago. In 1921, Henry F. Kuhn, formerly with the Willard Co. at Cleveland, Ohio, joined the firm, buying a half interest and taking over the management of the business office and sales department. Mr. Cizek has remained manager of the service station.

During the past year an enviable record was made by the Glendale concern which sold more Willard batteries per auto population than any other city in Southern California. Recently a branch station was established at San Fernando road and Cypress street under the management of Grover Van Nordheim.

Cizek Auto Electric Co., holds the local agency for Gabriel snubbers also. The concern is one of the oldest headlight testing stations and boasts a complete electrical department.

TRAVEL TALES

LONDON, Feb. 28.—If you can not have a tan—have a limp. Either is fashionable. If one has a tan, obviously a visit to Madeira or the Riviera is responsible. If one has a limp one says "my dear, I hurt it skiing at St. Moritz." Incidentally, about one in three of the "G. E. B." signs affixed by the French customs and seen on motors in London, is genuine.

FUNERAL HOME IS MODERN EDIFICE

Jewel City Undertaking Co. Has Erected Monument To Mortuary Needs

The artistic new home of the Jewel City Undertaking Co. at 137 North Orange street, dedicated to the mortuary needs of the city in January of the present year, stands as a beautiful and permanent monument to the thoughtful service of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Phillips, extending over a period of nearly fourteen years.

In that time the proprietors of this large and successful institution have made a host of friends in Glendale and vicinity, ministering to those bereaved and caring for their loved ones with all the art and skill known to modern science. For many years the home of the Jewel City Undertaking Co. was located at the northeast corner of Brand boulevard and Wilson avenue. Now located on Orange street near the southwest corner of Wilson avenue, built of stucco in the California-Mission style, the edifice presents a most striking and attractive appearance.

Throughout the building one notes a restful, spiritual atmosphere. The most modern and extensive equipment, moreover, is provided, and the proprietors add that their complete motor service includes a hearse, invalid coach, five-passenger sedan and seven-passenger sedan and a first call car.

MAKES GLENDALE AIRPLANE CENTER

W. B. Kinner Plans Addition To Factory; Turn Out More Big Ships

With new additions soon completed, increasing the available floor space from 4,000 feet to 10,000 feet, and steady operation assured, the Kinner Airplane Corp., located at the Glendale Airport, soon will have twenty-five planes under construction at one time and by January 1, 1926, will be turning out from four or five ships each month.

Kinner Airsters, the general utility ship, manufactured by the concern, is a two-passenger biplane with a three cylinder 60 horse power motor. The plane is capable of traveling 25 miles on one gallon of gasoline. The entire ship including the motor is manufactured by the Kinner company. At present the motors are cast in Los Angeles and assembled at the Airport, but it is the hope of W. B. Kinner, president, soon to install machine tools for the entire job at the local factory.

The Kinner Airplane Corp. was first established on the site of the Glendale Airport January 1, 1923. Recently a number of important additions to the factory have been made in anticipation of greater activity in commercial aviation in the near future.

LARGE PLANT FOR LOCAL CLEANERS

Fanset Dye Works, Inc., One Of Oldest Established Firms In City

The Fanset Dye Works, Inc., with its new $50,000 plant at 2995 Glendale boulevard and its branch at 213 East Broadway, is one of the old, established firms of the city. Thousands recall the brilliant opening of the Glendale boulevard plant, December 11 to 13, 1924, when many valuable prizes were given away, and instructive demonstrations of modern cleaning and dyeing operations were staged for the benefit of the public.

The Fanset Dye Works, Inc., has grown because it has served, declares John H. Fanset, president. The building at 2995 Glendale boulevard is an expression of this service, he states. The main structure occupies 75x40 feet, on a lot fronting 125 feet on the boulevard. In the rear of the main building are two smaller structures, one 20x40 feet, and the other 10x20 feet.

In these buildings every variety of up-to-date cleaning and dyeing is done, including the most fragile of women's apparel, states Mr. Fanset. The public is always welcome to inspect the plant and see how this highly-specialized work is done, he adds.

SEEKING STOCK

EL PASO, Feb. 28.—The Higginbotham interests, which have recently purchased 412,000 acres of range land in Mexico, are seeking Texas cows and bulls for stocking purposes.

BALLOON TIRES

AKRON, Feb. 28.—Rubber companies here are speeding up operations on the smaller sizes of balloon tires now that the use of this type on Ford cars is becoming more general.

ELECTRICAL FIRM FOUNDED IN 1920

Lighting Fixtures, Household Appliances Are Sold By Smith Company

The Smith Electric Co., 631 East Broadway, established five years ago by Thomas I. Smith, specializes on lighting fixtures and household electrical appliances. Mr. Smith has been a resident of Glendale since 1905 and has grown up with the city. He has multitudes of friends here, all of whom attest to the conscientious manner in which he has laid the foundations for his present success.

The Universal line of household appliances is featured by the Smith Electric Co. Hundreds of Glendale women who have had these appliances installed in their homes by Mr. Smith have come to find a new ease and joy in housework. The line of lighting fixtures carried is also very extensive, according to Mr. Smith, and many fine homes have been fitted out from the Smith Electric Co.'s well stocked store.

QUITS POSITION TO OPEN OFFICE

C. E. Kimlin Started Realty Business Last Fall at 225 East Broadway

The C. E. Kimlin Co., at 225 East Broadway, dealing in real estate loans and investments, was organized last fall by Councilman C. E. Kimlin, who, on April 14, will have completed a four-year term on the Glendale City Council. As manager of the Gendale Sanitarium and Hospital, a position he held for nearly ten years, Councilman Kimlin became well known in this city.

Last summer he relinquished this position to engage in business and has since been as successful for himself as he previously was for the large institution he served. On the city council, he is known as a man whose advice on business matters is always sound.

TYPEWRITERS AT NEWS FROM FIRM

H. C. Schumacher Builds Up Business In Glendale In Three Years

The Glendale Typewriter shop at 109 South Brand boulevard was established three years ago by Henry C. Schumacher, who has built up a large business among the merchants of the city. This shop is the Glendale agency for Royal and Corona machines, of which hundreds have been sold by Mr. Schumacher.

Royal typewriters sold by the Glendale Typewriter shop are used exclusively in every department of The Glendale Evening News, and Mr. Schumacher has sold large numbers of these machines to the various departments of the municipal government.

Brothers Quarrel, One Killed With Pitchfork

OIL CITY, Pa., Feb. 28.—The authorities at Lickingville, Clarion county, are investigating the death of Patrick McVeigh, aged 13, on the farm of Robert Brown, between Lickingville and Snyderburg. The brother of the dead boy, Charles McVeigh, aged 11, is being held in connection with the death. The two boys, who were about to be adopted by Brown, are said to have become intoxicated on the liquid which forms in the silo. The body was found by a member of the Brown family on the lawn and was pierced with pitchfork wounds. The boys are said to have been fighting throughout the day.

TEA ROOM SERVES LUNCHEON CLUBS

Miss Harriett Mae Reynolds Started In Business February 22, 1923

The Harriett Mae Tea rooms at 201 East Harvard street, founded February 22, 1923, by Miss Harriett May Reynolds, recently celebrated the second birthday with a dinner party and a cake with two candles. This institution has been very successful and a number of the luncheon clubs are served there.

Recently Miss Reynolds put in a partition and added a banquet room, for the better accommodation of these clubs. Good food, attractively served, is the basis of the reputation built up by the Marriett Mae Tea rooms.

'Bone Dry' Is Aim of Delaware Lawmakers

DOVER, Del., Feb. 28.—State Representative Weer has introduced a bill in the legislature, in session here, to amend the present Delaware liquor law, which makes it unlawful for any person to have in his possession either one quart of liquor or six quarts of beer. Weer would make it unlawful to have any "booze" or "beer" whatever in one's possession.

And, furthermore, the legislator who is chairman of the Temperance Committee, would make it mandatory for the court to impose prison sentences and fines on persons convicted of illegal possession of liquor.

LAUNDRY SERVICE GROWS WITH CITY

Company Has Expanded In Fifteen Years It Has Been Operating

The Glendale Laundry Co., Arden and Columbus avenues, has been in operation over fifteen years and is one of the best known institutions of its kind in this part of the country, according to J. F. Springer, president and manager, serving not only Gendale but Hollywood, Burbank, Eagle Rock, portions of Los Angeles, Montrose, Tujunga and Sunland.

Sixteen delivery trucks are required to serve the thousands of patrons of the Glendale Laundry Co., Mr. Springer states, and eighty people are employed in the plant, which is noted for its modern equipment for turning out fine laundry work.

Mr. Springer bought the Glendale Laundry Co. over a year ago from W. E. Hewitt, prominent Glendale business man and past president of the Chamber of Commerce. As one of the first large commercial enterprises of the city, this laundry has grown steadily through the years, expanding to keep pace with the growth of Glendale.

CONCERN GROWS WITH COMMUNITY

Glendale Creamery Founded In March, 1908; Serves Entire City Now

The Glendale Creamery Co., Inc., the oldest creamery company in Glendale, was founded in March, 1908. It was first located in the 400 block on West Doran street but later moved to 755 West Doran street, its present location, according to William P. MacMullin, president and founder. Smith MacMullin is treasurer-manager of the company, Harry White is secretary and H. D. Lockwood is sales manager.

"We early recognized the need for a local creamery," says William P. MacMullin, "and the Glendale Creamery Co., incorporated for that purpose, was a success from the start. In the years that have passed since we opened in 1908, we have grown with the city, reaching out into each new district as it was opened up, until today there is no part of Glendale and surrounding territory that is not served with our products."

IMPROMPTU JAZZ STIRS JAIL CELLS

Musicians' Club Is Raided; Brings Harmony To City Prison

"And say, bo," said one of the audience, a prisoner, "that makes you forget there's cells around."

The musicians, 37 of them, were arrested at the Musicans' club, charged with gambling. While some of them were telephoning friends to "get them out" the others started the "concert."

The music ranged from jazz to classical and at one interval, while all was still, a violinist held the assembly enthralled with "Meditation," from Thais, followed by "Humoresque" as an encore.

"I wonder why we didn't think of raiding this club before," said the desk sergeant. "These fellows made the jail doors shimmy."

BODY AND FENDER WORK DONE HERE

Firm Located at 115 West Harvard Street Makes Specialty of Jobs

All kinds of auto body and fender repair work, auto wood work, building of new bodies and welding, is done by the Glendale Auto Body & Fender shop, located at 115 West Harvard street. A. W. Gregg, owner and manager, established the business in the rear of 131 South Brand boulevard in 1921. During last December he moved the concern to its present location.

Cutting down automobile seats for camping purposes is a specialty of the Auto Body & Fender shop. Now is the time to have this class of work done, according to Mr. Gregg.

LOWER INSURANCE RATE IS FEATURED

L. A. Automobile Association Has Branch Office In Glendale On Brand

Lower automobile insurance rates are offered by J. W. Botsford, of 406 South Brand boulevard, Glendale manager of the Los Angeles Automobile association.

"We offer safe, low-priced driving protection and our membership and insurance entitle motorists to every service any automobile club can furnish," says Mr. Botsford. "In joining the Los Angeles Automobile association motorists affiliate themselves with men who have helped materially in bringing about better motoring conditions in Southern California.

"I will be glad to go into detail in regard to the many benefits to be derived from membership in this association, and urge those considering automobile insurance and membership in an automobile club to discuss these matters with me before making any decision."

CLINTON L. BOOTH SELLS INSURANCE

Devoted Quarter of Century To Business; In City For Twelve Years

Clinton L. Booth, whose offices are now located at the ourtheast corner of Colorado and Brand boulevards, is well known throughout Glendale as an automobile insurance agent. He has been in this line of business locally for the past twelve years, eight years with the Dodge agency at its former location at Brand boulevard and Harvard street, and later with this agency at 116-120 West Colorado boulevard.

For twenty-five years previous to coming to Glendale, Mr. Booth sold life insurance, and it may truthfully be said that practically his entire business life has been spent in one line of insurance or another. He is therefore regarded as an expert in all insurance lines and particularly, automobile insurance, which for the past twelve years has been his exclusive line.

HILLSIDE SITES ARE ATTRACTIVE

Ralph R. Race, realtor, 224 South Brand boulevard, has been at that location for over a year, specializing in hillside property. Previously, for four years, as a resident of Glendale, he was the sales manager for the Ajax Rubber Co., covering the states of Washington, Oregon and Idaho.

Mr. Race decided to open up a realty office in Glendale because he saw unusual possibilities for development of the hillside property in this city, which he believes is superior to that of Hollywood or Pasadena.

"There are no hillsides in Southern California that can compare with those of Glendale," says Mr. Race, "and the time is at hand when there is going to be a rush to the Glendale hills."

BUSINESS MEN'S LUNCHES SERVED

Glen Inn Centrally Located In Chamber of Commerce Building In 1920

The Glen Inn at 152 South Brand boulevard, advertised as "the largest, coolest dining-room in Glendale," was taken over a year ago by A. L. Thomson, from C. J. Pagones and L. R. Boulais, who founded it in 1920. In addition to its dining-room, the establishment has a soda fountain and candy department.

The Glen Inn serves business men's lunches and family dinners at popular prices and enjoys a patronage that includes not only Glendale but surrounding points. Located in the Chamber of Commerce building, in the very heart of the main business section of Glendale, it has enjoyed from the first a very gratifying trade, Mr. Thomson reports.

REALTOR SERVED AS CITY MANAGER

T. W. Watson, Pioneer of City's Development, on Planning Body

The T. W. Watson Co., realtors, 708 East Broadway, was organized September, 1922, by T. W. Watson, one of the pioneers in the development of Glendale. Mr. Watson grew up in Glendale and for some years was associated in business with his father, W. G. Watson. In 1906 he became one of the first city trustees under the charter adopted in that year. He served in this capacity until he was made city manager in 1914.

T. W. Watson served Glendale as city manager for nearly eight years, resigning to found the T. W. Watson Co. When the City Planning commission was organized a year and a half ago, Mr. Watson was appointed one of its members, and was elected chairman of the body by his fellow members, in deference to his fifteen years of distinguished service of his city.

FIRST NATIONAL FOUNDED IN 1909

Formerly Known as Bank of Tropico; Change Location To 1261 South Brand

The First National bank in Glendale, 1261 South Brand boulevard, was founded in May, 1909, as the Bank of Tropico, and at that time was located at Central avenue and San Fernando road. Later it became the First National bank of Tropico. When Tropico was annexed to Glendale, it became the Glendale National bank, later changing its name to the First National bank in Glendale. At the last call, according to a published statement, this bank showed total resources of $1,329,399.81.

W. W. Lee is president of the First National bank in Glendale; O. S. Richardson is vice-president; B. F. Lyttle, vice-president; John A. Logan, cashier; and Raymond W. Lee, manager of the escrow department. The members of the board of directors are: W. H. Bullis, B. F. Lyttle, John A. Logan, O. S. Richardson and W. W. Lee.

DR. H.E. HARROWER GIVES CITY FAME

Laboratory on E. Broadway Is Known Throughout Entire World

The Harrower Laboratiories, Inc. were first established in Glendale by Dr. Henry E. Harrower March 29, 1918, for the development of information pertaining to the internal secretions in general practice of medicine. The laboratories were first located on the second floor of the Broadway branch Security Bank building at the corner of Glendale avenue. The new laboratory building at 920 East Broadway was first occupied November 1, 1921.

The development of information in regard to the glandular secretions soon led to the manufacture of preparations effective in the treatment of such cases. This forms the main work of the laboratories at present. Dr. Harrower is director of the institution. R. E. Spicer, of Pasadena, is president of the corporation.

C. & S. Cafeteria Operated Three Years; Builds Up Successful Business

The C. & S. cafeteria at 222 North Brand boulevard, in the three years it has been in operation by J. T. Stewart, has become one of the largest and most successful restaurants in Glendale. From a small beginning it has grown until it is patronized not only by local people but draws patornage from Burbank, Eagle Rock and all surrounding points.

"The C. & S. cafeteria is distinctly a family eating place," says Mr. Stewart, "and I can account for its success primarily because of the good, tasty, home cooked food we invariably serve there. People who like to eat out can always be assured of getting food at the C. & S. that tastes like it does at home."

AUTO INDUSTRY PROMINENT IN GROWTH OF CITY

NUMEROUS AGENCIES AID TO PROSPERITY

Twenty-two Dealers Handle Thirty-three National-Known Cars, In Addition To Carrying Trucks and Tractors

One of the outstanding industries in Glendale, and one that has been largely instrumental in building up Glendale, providing better streets and highways and bringing more money into Glendale has been the automobile industry.

Located in Glendale there are twenty-two automobile agencies, authorized dealers for thirty-three nationally known makes of automobiles, in addition to trucks and tractors. This number does not include dealers who handle nothing but automobile accessories, nor second-hand car dealers.

The Glendale Evening News presents today a list of automobile dealers in the city, arranged alphabetically according to the make or makes of car each dealer handles. The location, officers, month and year of establishment, and other interesting data are also given.

It is interesting to note that the auto dealers of Glendale were engaged in various lines of endeavor before selling automobiles. A few of the "prior occupations" include: Theatrical manager, lumber dealer, grocery store proprietor, cotton raiser, ranch owner, manager of wholesale house and manufacturer.

Long In Industry

Some of the local dealers have been connected with the automobile industry for more than a quarter century, have seen the automobile grow from a "one-lunger" to a work of mechanical art; have followed their betterment from the time when twenty miles in one day was a wonderful thing, to these days when 136 miles an hour is possible; have watched the trend of time from early periods when only the very wealthy could afford to own them, and efforts were made to keep them off the main-traveled roads by legislature, to today when nearly every family can afford to own a car.

The automobile dealers of Glendale, who have worked for better streets in Glendale and better highways throughout Southern California, will present their frist exclusive auto show in Glendale for eight days, starting March 7.

The list of dealers in Glendale follows:

Buick

William A. Tanner and Harry E. Hall established the firm of Tanner & Hall, Ltd., on Harch 1, 1919. The firm is located at 622 South Brand boulevard and is the local distributor for Buick cars. Mr. Tanner came to Glendale in 1914 from Lexington, Neb., and was associated with Fox-Woodsum Lumber Co. for eleven years in Nebraska and California. Mr. Hall established the first Oakland agency here and was the first Ford dealer. He has been a resident of Glendale for more than sixteen years. Ray L. Galvin, sales manager, has been a resident of the city for twelve years. He formerly lived in New York, being associated with the theatrical business.

Cadillac

William H. Court established the Court Motor Co., 901 South Brand boulevard, agency for Cadillac cars, in February, 1921, shortly after he came to Glendale from the Sunny South. The first location of the agency was at 228 South Brand boulevard, later it was moved to 235 South Brand boulevard and last year it was moved to the present location. Before coming to Glendale Mr. Court lived in Memphis, Tenn., and devoted his time to the supervision of large cotton plantations. Throughout the south he is known as an expert on cotton growing and grading.

Chandler, Cleveland

Bine J. Smith, one of the members of the firm of Smith Brothers, Chandler and Cleveland distributors, at 1119 South Brand boulevard, has been a resident of Glendale for eight years. With his brother, Alfred D. Smith, he established the agency in April, 1923, on North Maryland avenue. Later the agency was moved to the present location. Alfred Smith came to Glendale in 1923 from the Imperial Valley where he owned a ranch. Bine Smith was connected with the Broadway Auto Sales Service Co., in Glendale, before the agency was established.

Chevrolet

James V. Hough acquired the Chevrolet agency at 241 South Orange avenue on January 1, 1925. Prior to that time C. L. Smith was the authorized Chevrolet dealer in Glendale. Mr. Hough has had considerable experience in handling automobiles, being at Long Beach five years, with the Chevrolet Motor Co., three years and was zone manager for the Willys-Knight and Overland lines for four years.

Dodge

The authorized Dodge Brothers' dealer in Glendale is R. E. Corrigan, located at 116 West Colorado street. Mr. Corrigan has been associated with the automobile industry for more than fifteen years and has been a resident of this city for more than three years. The agency was taken over in September, 1922, and was located at 145 South Brand boulevard. In June, 1923, it was moved to the present location. Mr. Corrigan was factory representative for Dodge Brothers in California, Arizona and Nevada for five years. Gordon A. Clayton, sales manager for Mr. Corrigan, has lived in Glendale for ten years. He was associated with George E. Clayton when Mr. Clayton had the Dodge Brothers' agency here and for four years was with Barker Brothers, Los Angeles. He came to Southern California from Kentucky.

Ford, Lincoln

Selling automobiles for the past twelve years has been the principal occupation of J. G. Caddell, proprietor of the automobile firm which bears his name and located at South Brand boulevard and San Fernando road, where Mr. Caddell sells Fords, Lincolns and Fordson tractors. His first agency was in Covina, the second at Glendora, the third at Eagle Rock, which he opened in 1921, and the fourth agency is in Glendale, opened January 1, 1924. Mr. Caddell calls attention to the fact that the four agencies he has owned in as many cities have all been located in Los Angeles county.

Franklin

E. S. Beggs, manager of the Motor Sales Co., now located at 406 East Colorado street, but in a few days to be moved to 421 South Brand boulevard, started in the automobile business in 1900. The Motor Sales Co. is the local distributor for Franklin cars. Mr. Beggs was with the Pierce-Arrow Co. for twelve years, traveling on the road, working as a manager and also as an executive. For two years he was branch manager of the service truck company for this concern at Kansas City, and materially assisted in the transportation of lumber and supplies for the building of Camp Funston, Kan. The local agency was opened by Mr. Beggs in October, 1923. For six years prior to that time he manufactured automobile parts at Long Beach. He has lived here for more than three years.

Gardner, Star, Durant

When E. V. Jellison started the Gardner agency in April, 1921, he opened his salesroom at 1004 South Brand boulevard. Eight months later he secured the room to the south, and a year ago he expanded again. Now the address of the firm is 1002-04-06 South Brand boulevard, and the firm name is Jellison Motor Co.

Before coming to Glendale, Mr. Jellison was connected with the Keaton Tire & Rubber Co., for four years in Los Angeles. He acquired the agency for Star and Durant cars on December 15, 1924. He is a charter member of the Glendale Motor Car Dealers' association and has been active in that body since its formation. He served as director for one year. His garage is the official garage for the Automobile Club of Southern California and provides emergency road and tow service. He maintains a first class tire department and carries a complete line of replacement parts and accessories.

Hudson, Essex

Hudson and Essex cars are sold in Glendale by the Kelley Motor Co., 816 South Brand boulevard. P. A. Kelley, proprietor, came to Glendale in the fall of 1919 and took over the agency in May, 1922. He has been a resident of Southern California prior to that time and has been associated with the automobile industry in various capacities. G. G. Merrick, sales manager for the firm, has lived in Glendale since 1918, coming here from Winnipeg, Canada. He has been connected with the Kelley Motor Co. about two years.

Hupmobile

The Glendale agency for the Hupmobile, formerly located at 111 West Harvard street, is located now at 228 South Brand boulevard. H. W. Swanson is owner of the agency and H. V. White is manager. Mr. Swanson opened his Hollywood Hupmobile agency three years ago, and the Glendale branch agency was opened at the Harvard street address in July, 1924, and moved to the present location on January 2, 1925.

Mr. White has been connected with the automobile industry for five years. He was with Mr. Swanson in the Hollywood office about one year before coming to Glendale when the local branch was opened, and prior to living in Hollywood his home was in Santa Barbara. He came to California from Fort Wayne. Mr. Swanson has devoted ten years to the automobile business. He was three years in Kansas City, where he held the Studebaker agency, and five years in Detroit, where he held the Hupmobile agency.

Jordan, Velie

C. W. Watson, president and general manager of the Watson Motor Car Co., 1000 South Brand boulevard, is the Glendale distributor for the Jordan and Velie cars, and also handles Barley, Columbia and Roamer cars. The agency was established in June, 1924, with the Barley, Columbia and Roamer cars, and in October, 1924, the Jordan and Velie lines were added. Mr. Watson came to Glendale from Chicago three years ago, where he was connected with the automobile industry for seventeen years. Before opening the local agency, he was connected with the Broadway Super-Service station.

Lincoln, Ford

Jesse E. Smith, head of the firm which bears him name, took over the Ford agency in August, 1915. The agency is now located at 115 West Colorado street. Mr. Smith was formerly connected with the Ford factories in Detroit in various capacities. He was in the retail sales department of the Los Angeles branch when Harry Hall, who held the agency before Mr. Smith took it over, withdrew. F. K. Lowe, sales manager for the firm, has been with Mr. Smith eight years. He moved to Glendale in 1901 from Pasadena where he formerly conducted a grocery business.

Maxwell, Chrysler

Lyman P. Clark, president of the Glendale Motor Car Co., 124 West Colorado street, local distributors of the Maxwell and Chrysler cars, has devoted fourteen years to selling Maxwell cars or to the Maxwell company in Southern California. Prior to opening the local agency on February 1, 1922, Mr. Clark was wholesale manager for the Southern California distributors of Maxwell cars. After looking over the entire territory he selected Glendale as a place to start an agency. He is president of the Glendale Motor Car Dealers' association, past president of the Kiwanis club, a director of the Chamber of Commerce and a director of the Glendale Merchants' association.

Moon

The present Moon agency, located at 246 South Brand boulevard, is owned by M. H. Smith, who took over the agency in October, 1924. Prior to that time the Moon agency was operated by Oscar Penn. Before coming to Glendale Mr. Smith was located in Boyle Heights, Los Angeles. In that location he was distributor for Maxwell and Chrysler cars. He was attracted to Glendale by the great business possibilities here, and when he decided to locate in Glendale, chose the Moon agency. He lives in Atwater Park.

Nash

The McDaniel Motor Co., 1234 South Brand boulevard, came into existence in August, 1924, when Charles McDaniel took over the agency for the Nash cars, formerly held by the Nash Sales Co., Inc. Mr. McDaniel was located in Oklahoma for several years before coming to Glendale, and was engaged in the distribution of Nash cars. He was so impressed by the business future of Glendale upon his first visit to Southern California that he decided to locate here.

Oakland

In September, 1923, John Neuschaefer came to Glendale from Providence, R. I., where he was connected with the Oakland Sales Co. of Providence, and became associated with Thomas Ricketts in the Oakland agency at 420 East Colorado street. The trip across the continent was made by Mr. Neuschaefer in an Oakland car. In May, 1924, he acquired the interests of Mr. Ricketts. J. A. Ricketts, general manager, was formerly associated with his brother, and has devoted considerable time to insurance of all kinds, but specializes in automobile insurance.

Oldsmobile

C. H. Hunter, proprietor and general manager of the Oldsmobile agency at 208 West Broadway, established one of the first Oldsmobile agencies in the United States at Albia, Ia., in 1903, and he has been associated with the automobile industry since that time. He took over the Glendale agency on November 15, 1922. He has lived in Southern California for fourteen years, was wholesale manager for the Oldsmobile in Southern California for five years, and prior to that time he was connected with the wholesale departments of other firms. He has lived in Glendale three years, coming here from Los Angeles.

Overland, Willys-Knight

H. H. Murray, president and treasurer of the Murray Motors, Inc., of 905 South Brand boulevard, local distributors for Overlands and Willys-Knight automobiles, came to Glendale in September, 1924, and on September 15, 1924, acquired the agency formerly held by B. W. Sloan. Prior to coming to Glendale he lived in Springfield, Mass., where he was manager of one of the largest wholesale houses in the New England states. Other members of the firm are: B. W. Yale, vice-president; Ida M. Hock, secretary, and E. B. Dunn, sales manager.

Paige, Jewett

D. R. Tompkins is the present owner of the Paige and Jewett agency at 219 West Colorado street, formerly owned by Ralph B. Bliss. Mr. Tompkins came to Glendale from Pasadena, where he was connected with the automobile business for several years, taking charge of the Glendale agency on January 1, 1925. He moved to Glendale on February 19, 1925 and announces he will make this city his home in the future. Practically all of his business life has been devoted to the sale of automobiles.

Packard

Glendale's future looked good to W. H. Daniel when he visited this city in August, 1922, and, accordingly, Mr. Daniel returned to Glendale and opened the Dixie Motor Co., at 1129 South Brand boulevard, on May 2, 1923, where he sells Packard cars. For a year prior to locating in Glendale, Mr. Daniel traveled all over the Southwest looking for a suitable location, and finally decided on this city. He formerly owned a Packard agency in Mississippi, and was born and reared in the south. He is a member of the Glendale Exchange club.

Reo

Selling automobiles for the last eleven years has been the business of R. C. Hennessy, general manager of the Reo Motor Car Co. of California, Inc., local distributors for Reo cars, located at 124 South Orange avenue. Mr. Hennessy began his career as an automobile salesman with the Earl B. Armstrong Co. in Los Angeles, handling Chandler cars. On December 1, 1923, he was placed in charge of the local agency, which was secured by the Reo Motor Car Co. of California from Harry R. White, who established it in September, 1922. Mr. Hennessy has followed the trend of automobiles during the last eleven years.

Studebaker

Stephen C. Packer, president of the Packer Motor Co., Inc., 245 South Brand boulevard, distributor of Studebaker cars, has been a resident of this city for the past fourteen years, and has held the Studebaker agency since February, 1917. Before coming to Glendale he was in the logging business in Washington and a lumber dealer in Michigan. Donald H. Packer, his son, is general manager of the firm. Prior to the war he was on the road for the Celite Products Co. of North Santa Barbara for eighteen months. He enlisted early during the war as a private, served overseas and was discharged after the Armistice, having attained the rank of lieutenant.

Hotel Gas Leak Is Cause of Two Deaths

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 28.—Illuminating gas escaping from faulty pipes in a hotel at Tenth and Race streets here, authorities said, caused the death late last night of Mary Anderson, 28, and Francis J. Eberle, recently discharged from the United States navy, and drove fifteen guests to the street.

Their bodies were discovered by Morris Horn, who conducts the hotel after the building was cleared of the gas.

Sisters Willed Liquor Can't Dispose of It

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Feb. 28—Miss Sarah J. Hellen and Miss Margaret Hellen, well known in Uniontown society, have five barrels of five-year-old apple brandy that they don't know what to do with.

The young women wish to dispose of it legally and discreetly. The brandy, upon the death of William H. Hellen, former hotel proprietor, who died shortly after the prohibition amendment became a law, was left, with the rest of the estate, to his wife, Mrs. Grace E. Hellen. At her death, several months ago, the liquor was willed to the two daughters, Sarah J. and Margaret Hellen. Under the law an asset of an estate may not be destroyed and the Eighteenth Amendment prohibits the sale of liquor.

Tunnel Traffic Tied Up Hours by Bullock

GLASGOW, Feb. 28.—Traffic on the London, Midland & Scottish railway underground line at Glasgow was interrupted for two hours by a bullock which escaped from a ship at the docks and dashed into the tunnel at Central station.

Railway men with lamps entered the tunnel. They soon found the bullock, apparently puzzled as to which way freedom lay. A shot was fied but missed. A second shot brought it down and a third killed it.

Our own opinion is that soprano is used in heaven only to balance the alto.

Flapper Barred When Bachelor Seeks Wife

DANVILLE, Va., Feb. 28.—"No flappers for me," says P. T. Harvell, 55-year-old widower, who is advertising for a bride of from 24 or 25 who wears "her hair long and knows how to cook."

"I don't care how ugly her face is, so she has good character, long hair and wears a white waist and black skirt. She must wear long sleeves and high top shoes, not over 4 or 5 size. Must be able to read and write the English language and not be over 24 or 25 years of age and weigh not over 125 pounds," the arvertisement reads.

Harvell admitted some discouragement when the day's mail revealed one post-card from an out-of-town concern offering to teach him how to play the piano through a correspondence course at bargain rates.

Texas Alderman Buys Prize Dog By Radio

FORT WORTH, Tex., Feb. 28.—Distinction of being the first to purchase a dog by radio is being claimed by Police Commissioner John Alderman, of Fort Worth. Commissioner Alderman switched on his set recently and heard an announcer at Station KFNF, Shenandoah, Ia., offer a pedigreed Scotch Collie puppy for sale. The Commissioner wired his bid and received the dog.

"Radio" will serve as a name for the canine, Alderman says.

REPORT INCREASE OF 200 PER CENT

Big Stride Made In Past Two Years of Business By Cornwell & Kelty

An increase of 200 per cent in business during the last two years is the record that has been made by Cornwell & Kelty, dealers in hardware, sporting goods and paint. This remarkable progress was made possible only through a reputation that has been carefully built since the company first began business in the same location in February, 1911.

The sporting goods department has been developed to a point where it is now second to none in this part of Southern California. It has become highly popular among hunters, sportsmen and athletes of the San Fernando valley. Its central location in Glendale, 107 South Brand boulevard, makes it convenient to local sportsmen.

A number of nationally known products are carried in stock constantly in the hardware department. The paint department is complete.

CAR REPAIR SHOP GROWS WITH CITY

Psenner Bros. Started Four Years Ago; Have Space For 24 Automobiles

Established four years ago in a small shop on North Broadway with a four-car capacity, Psenner Bros., 610 South Brand boulevard now employ sixteen expert automotive electricians and have space for twenty-four automobiles at one time. The shop does general automotive electrical repairing, and is the factory representative of most of the well-known auto electric products.

Stressing the importance of patronizing authorized stations for any kind of automobile service, Herman E. Psenner, proprietor, explained that data are regularly sent such establishments by the factories detailing small changes or errors in equipment and how to rectify them. The company is the factory representative of the Zenith and Stromberg carburetors, Timken and Hyatt bearings, Atwater-Kent radio and various magneto systems. Speedometer repairing is made a specialty.

U. S. Boy In Morocco War

HAROLD EWING of Wichita, Kan., who claims he was shanghaied into the Spanish army and compelled to fight. He escaped after a year of service and made his way to Italy, and later returned to America.

WICHITA, Kan., Feb. 28.—"One year in hell!"

That is the way Harold Ewing, Wichita youth of 19, describes his year's enforced service with the Spanish forces in Morocco.

Ewing, a wanderer, was "shanghaied" in Hamburg, Germany, just before he was to have sailed to Buenos Aires. He says the Spanish vice-consul and a companion, posing as shipping agents, induced him and several companions to leave the boat on which they were working. Then they were overpowered and sent under guard to Riffen, Spanish Morocco, where a training camp is located. Fifteen days later Ewing and two others tried to escape into the Mediterranean in a rowboat, but they were picked up by a Spanish cruiser the next day and thrown in prison for forty-five days, where they were worked hard from early morning until late at night, with little food and no covering at night.

After their release the youths were sent to Uad Lau and went under fire. For several months these boys, from all nations, fought and suffered with the Spanish. Ewing was wounded twice and held prisoner by the Moors on several occasions, always managing to escape. At one time he witnessed the execution of scores of his comrades and was forced, with others, to carry the heads of his buddies to the burying grounds.

Ewing says Spanish reports of the fighting have been misrepresenting the facts. On one occasion the newspapers reported a half-dozen casualties, when, Ewing said, more than 5000 were killed or wounded.

On October 14, 1924, while accompanying a convoy of Zuaen, Ewing escaped and made his way to Genoa, Italy, where he placed his case in the hands of the American consul, who has started an investigation. Y. M. C. A. officials helped Ewing reach this country.

STONE-TILE MADE HERE SINCE 1922

Glendale Contractors Using Building Product for Past Three Years

The Concrete Brick & Tile Co., 440 South San Fernando road, began operations here in 1922, and the business under the management of R. E. Johnston, president has made a steady, substantial growth. In August, 1923, the company was incorporated, permitting a number of prominent business men of Glendale to participate.

The consistent growth each month in the volume of business in "Stone-Tile", the company's product, has convinced the management of the firm that their confidence in the future of this community has not been misplaced. This increase in business has necessitated increased payrolls, equipment, office space and tends to better conditions in the city generally. At present there are hundreds of buildings of every description in Glendale and surrounding communities built of Stone-Tile, representing approximately $1,000,000 in value.

The Reliable Realty Co., at 700 South Brand boulevard is owned and operated by J. B. Davis, a member of the Glendale Realty board. Mr. Davis has operated in Glendale three years. Prior to that, for several years, he was in the real estate business in San Francisco. He is a strong booster for Glendale and believes this city has a big future.

Mr. Davis is the local representative for J. P. Mills, Inc., of Los Angeles and Long Beach. He is at present featuring their small chicken farms at Eden Acres, six miles north of Riverside. In addition, he deals in general Glendale real estate and has built up a large clientele of satisfied customers.

Doheny Averages One Mexican Well In Week

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 28.—One raw oil well a week is the average being maintained by the two Mexican petroleum companies number of years, Mr. Doheny Sr., in an expansion program under way today, according to the oil magnate who is back in Los Angeles from a three-weeks' visit to his properties in the southern republic.

The annual expenditure of the Doheny companies in developing their petroleum properties will be $15,000,000 for an indefinite number of years, Mr. Doheny said in discussing development plans. Mexican conditions, political and economic, are in excellent shape, he said attributing progress in Mexico to a sane and sensible administration by President Calles.

As Europe looks over our tourists, she doubtless thinks we have nerve to purpose a tariff to keep out foreign nuts.

State Asked to Help Delhi's Land Colony

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 28.—Financial assistance by the state will transform failure into success within a year at the Delhi Land Settlement colony, according to Senator Frank S. Boggs, chairman of the legislative committee which has been investigating conditions. Recommendation that the state loan the colonists $250,000 at 5 per cent interest will be advocated in the Legislature, it was said. The colonists number 700, all American born, coming mostly from Nebraska, Iowa, Missouri, Ohio and Indiana.

According to Senator Boggs the principal difficulty is the porous nature of the soil which makes it necessary to utilize pipes for carrying irrigation water. Such expenditure is heavy and cannot be assumed by the colonists at this time.

MAIL COTTON CHECKS

SHREVEPORT, Feb. 28.—The Louisiana cotton growers co-operative marketing association has mailed members checks aggregating $2,618,000 or 20 cents a pound on the 1924 crop. Another distribution will be made at the end of the selling season.

Aged Miner Killed as Long Hope Is Realized

AUBURN, Cal., Feb. 28.—The bullets that ended the life of Thomas Carl in his lonely cabin on January 10, deprived him of realization of his cherished hope, restoration to citizenship. Today a document authorizing such restoration and signed by President Coolidge, reached District Attorney Orrin Lowell.

Some years ago Carl killed an Indian in Oklahoma and was sentenced to serve eight years at Leavenworth. He was paroled and always maintained that he acted in self-defense. A few weeks before his death Carl pressed an application for a complete pardon and President Coolidge restored the aged miner to citizenship on recommendation of Attorney General Harlan Stone.

David S. Will, Henry Worth and Miles Jackson face murder charges in connection with the death of Carl. They admit the use of revolvers while engaged in an altercation with Carl in his cabin on the evening of January 10.

CLEVELAND, Feb. 28.—Vessel men on the Great Lakes anticipate a much more profitable season this year than in 1924, when vessel rates were the lowest in years.

Necklace Is Worth $1,500,000

The Thiers pearls, shown by MLLE. HERMINE MENDY, will be worn by some American woman, since it is reported to have been sold by a New York jewelry firm to an American business man. There are 153 matched pearls in the necklace.

By MARGERY PICKARD

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—Fifth avenue is trying to guess the name of the woman who will wear the famous Thiers pearls, valued at $1,500,000. The necklace, now in the possession of a local jeweler, is reported to have been sold to an American business mogul.

The necklace derives its name from the wife of the late President Thiers of France, who collected it. When she died she left it to the Louvre, and it was on exhibition there for many years. The government finally decided that it wasn't of sufficient historical value to remain in this national museum, and placed it on the auction block. The sale price was 11,280,000 francs.

The necklace consists of 153 perfectly matched pearls weighing 2137 grains. The gems are large, round and unusually rose-colored. They are arranged in three rows with a diamond and ruby clasp, the center pearl weighing 53 grains.

This is by far the most important jewelry acquisition made by the United States. The customs duty was $700,000.

EXPERT SERVICE GIVEN BY FIRM

Glendale Awning & Tent Co. Officials Insist Upon Skilled Workmen

"Omar, the Tent Maker" presides over his domain at the Glendale Awning & Tent Co., 222 South Brand boulevard. "Omar" is W. T. Gilliam, proprietor of the establishment whose main precept in business is the Golden Rule.

"Every employe of the Glendale Awning & Tent Co. must not only be an expert capable of giving service unsurpassed, but he must likewise be willing to give courtesy and considerate treatment 100 per cent," Mr. Gilliam stated.

All kinds of tents and awnings are manufactured and installed by the Glendale concern. A full line of camping supplies and equipment is handled.

"One job of which we are particularly proud is the awning on the front of Roberts & Echols drug store at Broadway and Brand boulevard. The canvas is 70 feet in length and extends 10 feet over the sidewalk. It is the largest awning in the city," Mr. Gilliam said.

Boxing to Be Taught Jap Military Schools

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 28.—Boxing has been adopted as part of the training system in Japanese military academies as the result of American Legion activities in Tokio, according to word received here by State Adjutant James K. Fisk.

Introduction of boxing into the Japanese schools came about through a mixed boxing-jiujetsu match arranged by the Tokio Post of the Legion at the request of General Ugski, Minister of War.

The match was witnessed by Japanese officers and a group of Americans. An American Army captain competed with a Japanese expert. The jiujetsu exponent won the first fall but on the resumption of the match the American officer swung a right across to his opponent's jaw and the exhibition ended.

Hapsburgs Brave Law To Return to Vienna

VIENNA, Feb. 28.—The Hapsburgs are hearing the call of the homeland, and the Social Democrats are protesting against the "invasion of the Hapsburgs."

The law forbids the Hapsburgs to return to Vienna, but recently the ex-Arch Duchess Maria Theresa and the ex-Arch Duchess Marie Anunziata appeared here.

The ex-Archduke Leopold Salvator and the ex-Archduke Albrecht, also visited Vienna recently.

'Meanest Man' Steals Brass Coffin Handles

When the body of Mrs. Otille Williams was brought here from Philadelphia recently for burial the casket was placed on the station platform, where someone stole the six brass handles from the coffin, using a screwdriver to detach them, according to authorities.

ATLANTA, Feb. 28.—Southeastern cotton acreage is feeling the effect of an advance of $5.75 to $6 a ton in the price of commercial fertilizers over last year's price. Complaints on the increase have been forwarded to Washington.

Original Cross-Word Puzzle Found In Rome

CIRENCESTER, Eng., Feb. 28.—Perhaps Roman soldiers whiled away the winter evenings with cross-word puzzles. At any rate on a piece of plaster, which is believed to have adorned the walls of a Roman villa here some 1,700 years ago, there is inscribed a device which certainly looks like the original cross-word puzzle. It is as follows:

R O T A S
A R E P O
S A T O R

COTTON FROCKS

BOSTON, Feb. 28.—New England manufacturers are giving three cheers for France because the latest showing of the great couture house of Phillippe et Gaston is featuring spring frocks of the simple cotton type. These frocks follow the spring colors throughout and are full in front and straight and flat in the back, with flare suggested by double circular flounces or flat pleats.

Millionaire Arrested For Carrying Liquor

BALTIMORE, Feb. 28.—Although he claimed liquor he was accused of transporting from Morristown, N. J. to Baltimore was "purchased before prohibition," Thomas Symington, said to be a Baltimore millionaire, was fined $500 by Judge J. Ambler Williams at Norristown.

Symington gave notice of appeal and the appeal bond was fixed at $1000. The liquor was found in Symington's automobile when he was arrested near Norriston about a year ago, en route to Baltimore.

SIGN CONTRACTS

CLEVELAND, Feb. 28.—Plasterers here have signed a two-year contract with employers at an increase of 50 cents a day, bringing the wage scale to $12.50 for eight hours with a five and a half day week. This rate will be operative for one year, when the scale will be increased to $13 for the second twelve months.

'Seventh Daughter' Is Implicated In Death

ADRIAN, Mich., Feb. 28.—Fannie Patrovich, who called herself the "Seventh Daughter Under the Veil," has been implicated by the state department of health in the death, December 31, of James B. Lewis, a farmer, who lived near Adrian. Mrs. Patrovich admits she administered so-called cures, including the burying of patient in filth, the binding of a patient in cords, and the use of lard and various ointments, one of which was made by boiling hay.

REDFERN SKIRTS

PARIS, Feb. 28.—The new Redfern skirts are barely knee-length and those with the tailored costumes are narrow and straight. The sport models and afternoon frocks have much more of a flare, attained by circular or pleated flounces across the front. Black satin coat dresses seem to have been made a specialty by this designer.

FAR EAST HAS GOOD TIMES COMING

Foreign Commerce Director Sees Prosperity For All Except China

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH
For International News Service.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—The year 1925 augurs well for many of the countries of the Far East, according to Julius Klein, director of foreign commerce for the department of commerce.

With the exception of China, which has been virtually wrecked by the civil war, indications point to better business conditions, improved markets and higher prices for leading crops than during the last few years.

In Japan, too, the economic recovery has been retarded, partially, by conditions in China and partly as a result of the slow recovery from the earthquake of 1923.

"Gradually, however, the Far East is beginning to recover from unfavorable post-war conditions," Klein said.

Budgets Stabilized

"Budgets of most of these countries are on a more stable basis, and surpluses are anticipated by several of them for the first time in a number of years."

The growing importance of the Far East to the business of the United States has led the Department of Commerce to make a detailed study of the financial conditions of these countries.

In the budgets of the Far East certain factors are common to all, the survey disclosed.

"With the possible exception of Japan, between 80 and 90 per cent of the population is engaged in agricultural pursuits," Dr. Klein pointed out.

"The success of the harvests and the market demand for agricultural products affect the purchasing power of the people. Crop failures or adverse markets, or the two combined, seriously affect the revenues of the governments. The post-war depression which stagnated business made itself apparent in the revenue returns of the various countries in diminished receipts from income, business and license taxes and from government services and monopolies."

Currency Factor

Another factor given as common to the budgets of several of the Far Eastern nations is currency. India, Ceylon, China and the Malay states are on a silver monetary basis, it was pointed out, their revenues and expenditures being influenced by the price of silver. A small rise in the gold value of silver will permit the payment of foreign commitments, to the advantage of the silver-using countries. The price of silver has, as a whole, declined since the early part of 1920.

"During the peak of prosperity in 1919 and early in 1920 extensive programs for public works were undertaken by most of the countries under review," Kein said these programs either had to be curtailed or completely given up after the depression set in, which naturally affected extraordinary expenditures."

Budget Estimates

Budget estimates in the Far East were said to be based upon conservative computation, while the tendency is to underestimate revenues. Customs duties, direct taxation and receipts from government services and monopolies, including opium, salt and camphor, constitute the principal sources of ordinary revenue of the Far Eastern governments.

Extraordinary revenue is obtained by the transfer of portions of the budget surpluses, when such exist, and from loans raised locally or abroad. Ordinary expenditures, the survey showed, are used for government administration, while extraordinary expenditures are incurred for public works and naval and military purposes.

Finds 'Second Ideal Girl'

MISCHA ELMAN, famous violinist, is engaged to marry MISS HELEN FRANCES KATTEN, top, after he thought MISS MILDRED STONE, below, was his 'ideal girl,' as he called a model who posed for a painting in the art gallery at the Louvre.

By MARGERY PICKARD
Written for The Evening News

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—When Mischa Elman, world-famous violinist, was a student in Paris, he went one day to the Louvre, greatest and most wonderful art gallery. He wandered around a while, interested in "Winged Victory," the matchless "Venus de Milo" and the mysterious "Mona Lisa." Then his eyes rested upon "La Source," painted enchantingly by Jean Baptiste Greuze. He gazed at it long and longingly.

"There," he said, "is my ideal girl."

The painting represents a maiden bearing upon her left shoulder a great vase, from which water is pouring, and is known to American tourists who happen to run across it on their hurried trips to the museum to see "Venus" and "Mona," as "The Girl With the Jug." Elman returned many times to the Louvre, and had eyes for nothing but "La Source."

He sought her in every country as he toured the world with his magic violin, playing before great crowds. Once, he thought, he found her. That was in 1917. He became engaged to this "ideal girl," Miss Mildred Stone, sister-in-law of another noted violinist, Rudolph Polk. But the marriage was not performed.

Elman continued the search for his "ideal." Now, he thinks, he really has found her. He is engaged to marry Miss Helen Frances Katten, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Simon Katten of San Francisco. They met while he was in Europe on a concert tour.

Frisco Mayor Waiting Honor From Coolidge

WASHINGTON Feb. 28.—The pen with which President Coolidge signs the bill authorizing the Treasury department to coin 300,000 special half dollar pieces commemorating the 75th anniversary of the admission of California into the Union this summer is to be presented to Mayor Rolph of San Francisco.

Members of the California Congressional delegation, led by Senator Shortridge will view the signing of the measure after which the pen will be expressed to San Francisco.

California Is Denied Original Gold Nugget

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Existing statutes do not permit the transferring of the "original" gold nugget discovered in California by Mashall from the national museum to the state of California it was declared today by C. F. Walcott, secretary of the museum in a letter to Senator Shortridge.

Walcott declared that the piece of gold had a national significance because it was instrumental in starting the California gold rush and for that reason it should be retained at the national museum.

QUALITY TOGGERY EAST SIDE SHOP

William Sapir Is Proprietor; Place Is Located Near New Hotel

The Quality toggery at 111 North Glendale avenue, is known throughout the east side as one of the smart shops of the city, dealing in high grade men's and women's wear at attractive prices. William Sapir, the proprietor of this shop, has been in business at this location for several years and is thoroughly versed in merchandising.

He sees in Glendale avenue a great future and feels that his present location is destined to make the Quality toggery a shop that will be a magnet for well-dressed people of the section. With the completion of the Hotel Glendale, Mr. Sapir predicts the corner of Glendale avenue and Broadway will become the busiest shopping center of the city.

The legal way is better, and it is only a question of time until wage cuts will be fixed up with a little court plaster.

HOMES FITTED BY ELECTRICAL FIRM

Vallo V. Naudain Established Business In 1915; Has Complete Stock

Vallo V. Naudain, owner of the Glendale Electric Co., 132 North Brand boulevard, established the business with his brother in September, 1915. It has had a remarkable growth since that time. After his return from the navy, in which he served during the war, the present owner purchased his brother's interest and has operated it alone since then.

The company represetns a number of nationally known electric products, including the Roper oven control, Roper ranges, Humphries Radiant Fire heaters and lighting fixtures as well as Thor electric washers and Universal table appliances.

An efficient repair department, manned by competent electricians is maintained. A large number of Glendale homes have been electrically equipped by this firm during the period in which it has been in business. The company's rapid progress has been largely due from a policy of honest dealing and good service.

Cuttlefish Figure In California Fisheries

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 28—Cuttlefish and squid, cousins more or less removed from the giant octopus which is the terror of tropic seas, figure to a considerable extent in California fishery reports.

According to the last bulletin of the State Fish and Game commission over seven-hundred tons of squid were caught by Orientals in Monterey Bay, during July, August and September, 1924. The exact figures are 1,487,114 pounds credited to Monterey and 565 pounds to Los Angeles waters.

Cuttlefish, also esteemed as an article of diet by Asiatic gourmands, total 18,374 pounds for the three-month catch. Monterey bay again contributes practically the entire cuttlefish harvest with a catch of 16,210 pounds. San Francisco, San Mateo and Santa Cruz counties contribute the balance.

TATE REALTY CO. HERE TWO YEARS

Proprietor Sees Population Of 100,000 Before 1930; Says Boom Over

The Tate Mortgage & Realty Co., 128 West Wilson avenue, deals in general real estate, mortgage loans and insurance. John B. Tate, proprietor, has been in business locally for over two years, coming here four years ago from Kokomo, Ind., where he had large investments.

Mr. Tate is noted for his ability to appraise property and at the present time has a number of excellent investment opportunities to offer in Glendale real estate, as well as some choice homes and building sites. He is a strong believer in the future of Glendale and sees a city here of 100,000 before 1930, based on the most conservative estimates.

"Glendale is past the boom period," he says. "From now on the growth of the city will be consistent and steady. Large capital is now seeking investment here and the next few years will witness an era of development that will put a building on practically every vacant ... city."
